Detectives Think They Have Man Who Robbed Pittsburgh Mail Bag.

ACCOMPLICE A WOMAN

Are Believed to Have Operated Extensively in Large Cities Under Numerous Aliases.

THEFT CLEVERLY EXECUTED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Oct. 2.

By the arrest of a man and a woman in Denver, Col., today detectives have cleared up a mystery that for a month surrounded one of the boldest mail pouch robberies of years. The prisoners are Charles H. Crawford, alias Hammond, and Mrs. Carolyn Barnes. In the pouch which was stolen in Philadelphia were checks for $500,000, and not until a score of banks had lost thousands of dollars by the work of an expert forger were the arrests made.

In unraveling the case the detectives brought back into their net a young man who had been implicated in four previous mail pouch robberies, an expert forger who has served four terms in prison. The arrest also reveals the gay summer seashore life at Asbury Park of the young couple, where they were entertained as recent arrivals from England.

The "husband" found time to run over to Philadelphia on September 8, where early that evening was stolen a mail pouch destined for Pittsburgh, in which were 2,500 letters with inclosures from banks and intended for their banking correspondents.

Crawford is about 31 years old and is the son of a widow, who has a boarding house in the neighborhood of upper Fifth avenue. He was arrested in St. Anthony's hospital in Denver, where he was about to undergo an operation.

Woman in the Case.

Mrs. Barnes is a young married woman who had been separated from her husband and little daughter. It was she who in Asbury Park last summer was known as "Mrs. F. H. Crosby." At another time, the detectives say, she was known as "Mrs. Sharp." Mrs. Barnes' home was in Oskaloosa, Wis., where her family is held in the highest estimation. In Denver, where the couple sought refuge, Crawford was known as "A. E. Bell." Mrs. Barnes was living at 233 Twenty-second street, Denver, awaiting the result of the operation on the man supposed to be her husband.

The pouch reached the Broad street station in Philadelphia a little after 6 o'clock in the evening. It was intended for the Pennsylvania train which left early in the evening for Pittsburgh. Then the pouch was missing. At first it was believed that it had been shipped on the evening train and then suspicion was directed against one or two postal clerks.

Now it is believed by the detectives that Crawford, dressed in a uniform, as he had on previous occasions, and wearing a cap with the letters "R. M. S." (Railway Mail Service) gained access to the railroad station platform and dropped the pouch to the street below, where a carriage was waiting. Whether Mrs. Barnes was in the carriage the Pinkertons will not say, for it was through them and the postoffice inspectors that the capture was made today.

LOST IN WALL STREET

Police Unearth Peculiar Theft by Prominent Married Woman.

SHE IS NOW UNDER ARREST

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Oct. 2.—Marie Layton Johnson, aged 29 years, the wife of Albert M. Johnson, a dentist of Larchmont, N. Y., with an office in this city, was arrested tonight on a warrant specifically charging her with the grand larceny of $2,000. The total amount of her defalcations, however, may, it is said, amount to $50,000.

The complainants are officers of the United States Playing Card Company, with home offices in Cincinnati, and a branch here at 685 Broadway.

Mrs. Johnson, whose maiden name was Marie Layton was bookkeeper in the New York office, and in addition acted as private secretary to President R. H. McCutcheon. She was married to Dr. Johnson in 1901, but did not leave her position after the marriage. In April of this year, discrepancies are said to have been discovered in her accounts, according to the story given out by Inspector McCluskey and an examination is said to have revealed a shortage of $10,000 between January 1, and April 15, in the accounts of the New York office.

The accounts of the concern were kept in the Hanover National bank, there being a New York and Cincinnati account. Cincinnati would send a bill of goods to New York which would be sold for, $8,000 and that amount would be placed to the credit of the Cincinnati account.

But it is alleged Mrs. Johnson would charge the New York office account with $5,000, taking the difference herself. To make the accounts balance she would then raise a small bill of goods shipped from Cincinnati from say $0 to $2,000.

Mrs. Johnson was discharged from the employ of the company in April, when, Inspector McCluskey says, she admitted defalcations of $10,500. It was thought at that time that her husband, Dr. Johnson, who has a large practice, would make up the loss, but this was not done. Later, further investigation was made into both the New York and Cincinnati accounts, with the result, it is said, that the defalcations now amount to $33,000, with a possibility that they may reach $50,000.

Detectives went to Larchmont Thursday night to arrest Mrs. Johnson, but found the Johnson home locked up, and from neighbors it was learned that all the furniture had been packed, apparently ready for removal. The detectives then watched Dr. Johnson's office in Fifth avenue and arrested Mrs. Johnson as she was leaving the place in her husband's company. At first she denied her identity, but she was identified by the officers of the United States Playing Card Company, who were with the detectives, and was taken to police headquarters.

Dr. Johnson refused to say anything about the case, nor would any of the officers of the card company talk. It is said that Mrs. Johnson speculated in Wall street and lost considerable money there.

Mrs. Johnson is a tall, slim, pretty woman, with fair complexion and brown hair.

FREIGHT BRAKEMAN SHOT NEAR SWISSVALE

J. J. McCue Fatally Injured While Putting Three Men Off His Train.

While attempting to force three unknown men off an east bound freight train on the Pennsylvania railroad between Edgewood and Swissvale shortly before last midnight, J. J. McCue, a brakeman, was fatally shot by one of the men. After one of the men was captured the injured man was taken on board the train to Swissvale, where he was attended by Dr. J. Madison Linn. The man arrested was locked in the Swissvale lockup. The other two men escaped in the darkness.

At Dr. Linn's office it was found that two bullets had entered McCue's head, and there was no hope of his recovery. Word of the shooting was sent to the Union station and a special train was run to Swissvale on which McCue was taken to the West Penn hospital. The freight train and crew was held up at Swissvale till the special arrived with officers, who were detailed to investigate the shooting. The man arrested said his name is Blair. At Swissvale it was reported that the men who were stealing a ride on the freight live in Lawrenceville, and the police allege they have the name of the man who fired the shots and that he is a resident of Thirty-third street, Pittsburgh.

McCue's home is in Thirty-third street, where he has a wife. He is 28 years old.

Early this morning it was charged that the three men ordered away by McCue were attempting to rob the train. The first two cars next to the engine were broken open and their contents, clothing, canned goods and furniture, were piled up ready to be thrown off when the two cars were left off at Braddock. Nothing was missing from the cars of value.

JEWS FIGHT DESPERATELY AGAINST RUSSIAN FANATICS

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—(Special Cable)—Advices from the Russian frontier reaching Berlin tonight report a sanguinary fight between the Jews and anti-Semites at Mohileff yesterday and say 100 killed and wounded. The Jews received warning that they would be attacked on Atonement day and armed themselves. Instead of massacre there was a fierce fight, the Jews defending themselves admirably. Three hundred Jews and 100 anti-Semites are reported killed and wounded.

BRITISH INVADE BOSTON, BUT MEET NO MINUTE MEN

Ancient Red Coats Swarm the Commons and Are Cheered as Guests of the Honorable Artillerymen.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Boston, Oct. 2.—The British flag, guarded by muskets, was borne through the streets here today by the Honorable Artillery Company of London, the special guests of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery Company of this city.

Landing at Charleston, almost on the very spot where their ancestors started on their memorable attack on Bunker hill, 128 years ago, the red coats of the twentieth century marched from their steamer, the Mayflower, over the bridge to Boston, and then through streets resplendent with American and British flags to the hotels which will be their homes during their sojourn in this city. For five days they will be entertained, and then after a week's tour, which will include New York, Washington, Niagara Falls and Canada, they start back to their own shores.

The Mayflower was given a hearty ovation from the harbor fleet, and before the visitors landed Adjutant General Dalton boarded the steamer and extended, in behalf of Governor Bates, the official welcome of the commonweal of Massachusetts.

The parade was one of the most spectacular seen in these streets in a long time. The showy uniforms of the cadets, the deep blue of the militia, the scarlet of the national lancers, contributed to the brilliancy of the escorting column, no less than did the British red of the royal garrison band of Halifax, N. S., and of the visiting company to the main body. After a march through the principal downtown streets and across Boston common, the parade was dismissed.

After lunch the earl of Denbigh, with his staff, accompanied by Colonel Hedges and some of the leading officers of the Boston Ancients, paid their respects to Governor Bates at the state house and Mayor Collins at city hall.

The balance of the afternoon was spent in sightseeing and after a quiet dinner at the hotel the two organizations met again in Faneuil hall, where the entire assembly enjoyed a smoker which included a variety of entertainment by members of nearly all the theatrical companies now playing engagements in this city. Tomorrow the two companies will go to Providence, where they will be entertained at a Rhode Island clambake as guests of the First light infantry company of that city.

PITTSBURGH BOYS ARE GREETED AT BALTIMORE

Gen. Bope in Charge of Third Regiment Lands His Charges in Safety.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, MD., Oct. 2.—The United Boys' Brigade of America, which began its convention here today, made things hum tonight. The concert given by the Third regiment band of Pittsburgh in the court of honor was attended by a vast multitude, and as the Pittsburghers played the "Star-Spangled Banner" the country's flag was displayed on the court house in an electric design, making a very impressive scene.

Gen. H. P. Bope, with the Third Pennsylvania regiment of Pittsburgh arrived at Union station this afternoon. In his party were the staff officers, 110 boys, the Third Regiment band of 35 pieces, and 10 ladies. The commander-in-chief was met at the station by Gen. W. F. Fuller, commander of the Maryland division, and his staff. The officers of the Maryland division formed an escort from the station to General Bope's headquarters, at the Park hotel. The ladies of the party were quartered at the Hotel Rennert. With General Bope came Miss F. A. Fitzgerald of Pittsburgh, a colonel and assistant adjutant on the general's staff. She is the stenographer of the general headquarters, and has charge of the brigade's offices in Pittsburgh.

SHARON CAPITALISTS TO FURNISH THE MONEY

Gigantic Idaho Irrigation Project Will Be Financed by Them.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 2.—According to Senator Shoupe of Idaho, who came to Milwaukee today, P. L. Kimberly and Frank Bhol of Sharon, Pa., are men who are providing the major portion of the $4,000,000 which is being used in the construction of the biggest irrigation canal in America.

The canal will lead from the Shoshone river, above the Snake falls, and the expenditure of these millions will reclaim 285,000 acres of land, far most of which there have already been received applications. The land to be watered is a black sandy loam. The canal is to be 80 feet wide at the top and 100 feet at the bottom and will lead for miles through the best section of Idaho.

WRING WATER FROM STOCK

Four Shares of Old Consolidated Required to Purchase One of New.

PLANS ARE COMPLETE

Financiers Ready to Help Reorganize Corporation as Soon as Possible.

TO PAY THE SPEYER LOAN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—The plan of reorganization of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company was formally announced tonight and with it is also a statement prepared for the stockholders of the company by John G. Carruth, the receiver, appointed by the Connecticut courts.

The sale of the property of the company pledged with Speyer & Co. of New York, for the loan of $5,050,000, was to take place today, but upon urgent requests has been postponed until October 8 at 12 o'clock. It is necessary that $250,000 should be immediately paid into the Equitable Trust Company of Philadelphia, which will upon proper vouchers liquidate indebtedness of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company, or subsidiary companies.

The payment of this sum will insure the further postponement of the sale for a period sufficient to enable the stockholders to accomplish reorganization if they act promptly and favorably by making this payment and providing for necessary expenses. It is imperative that the stockholders should pay, on or before October 6, to the Equitable Trust Company, an assessment of 50 cents a share. Every effort has been made to prevent a sale and the stockholders are now asked in their own interest to prevent the absolute and irretrievable loss of their entire property.

The amount paid will, upon the assumption of the adoption of the following plan of reorganization, which it is believed has been generally approved, to be raised by means of an underwriting open to all stockholders, $5,000,000. This sum will repay the Speyer loan, the floating indebtedness of the company, all expenses of reorganization, and leave about $1,000,000 for working capital, the underwriters to reorganize a new corporation with $40,000,000 capital, which corporation will take over all the property of the company under proper legal proceedings.

The new corporation will issue $30,000,000 first mortgage bonds, of which the underwriters will receive $7,143,000, and which bonds it is proposed shall be issued by the Algoma Central & Hudson Bay Railroad Company, to be secured also by a deposit of the stocks and bonds of all the subsidiary companies. The unused $2,857,000 of such bonds to remain in the treasury for the future use of the company. The bonds taken by the underwriters are to be offered to all the stockholders at 70, with a stock bonus of 30 per cent.

Stock in the new company will be offered to each stockholder upon making cash payment at reasonable times of $5 per share, for old stock surrendered to the underwriters. One share of stock in the new company will be given for two shares of preferred stock of the old company and one share of new stock for four shares of common stock of the old company.

HERO OF THE HOUR

Francis H. Clergue Is Wildly Cheered by Former Consolidated Workmen.

SAULT STE. MARIE, MICH., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Tomorrow morning the time checks of the discharged workmen of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company will be cashed in full at the Imperial Bank of Canada, the Traders' Bank of Canada and the Canadian Bank of Commerce in the Canadian Soo. The government guarantees the refunding of the money.

The banks are prepared to disburse nearly $300,000 but will probably not be called upon for that amount since many of the men have left for other work taking their time checks with them.

F. H. Clergue and C. N. Smith arrived from Toronto tonight and were met at the train by a big crowd of workmen who cheered Clergue wildly although it was Smith's political game which secured for them the aid of the government. Clergue, however, was the hero of the hour.

CHINAMAN IN ARMOR KILLED A COUNTRYMAN

Coat of Mail, Which Is of Steel, a Wonder of Its Kind.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—Wearing a coat of mail, and with a self-cocking revolver in his hand, Wong Lung, a Chinaman, killed a fellow countryman, and inflicted serious if not dangerous wounds upon two others.

The coat of mail worn by Lung consisted of several sheets of pliable steel carefully woven together, covered with a fine silken texture and fitted with shoulder straps. It weighs about six pounds, and is so constructed as not to materially retard the movements of the wearer.

The attack was quite unexpected, as Lung suddenly appeared from an alleyway and began shooting. Five of his shots took effect, the dead man receiving three and his companions one each. The police believe that the shooting was the result of a gambling dispute and that the affair was carefully planned.

MORE WORKERS QUIT BIGELOW

Twelve of Eleventh Ward Citizens Committee Have Resigned.

TIRED OF BOSSISM

At Least Three of the Men Will Vote the Straight Republican Ticket This Fall.

ARE AFTER LAMB'S SCALP

Twelve members of the Eleventh ward Citizens committee resigned last night. Some will vote the Bigelow ticket and others have declared that they will support the Republican candidates. They are all disgusted with the way the machine has been running things.

As in a number of other wards, there have been two factions in the Eleventh since the municipal row was cut by Mayor William B. Hays. The workers up there contend that the worthy members of the party were overlooked in the distribution of patronage and that the men who posed at headquarters as the leaders carried off the plums. The self-appointed leaders will now be given an opportunity to elect the ticket in November.

In the June primaries the faction led by W. O. H. Hemingray was apparently successful, for it later organized the committee. The opposing faction, led by Councilman Harry Lamb and William J. Shore, Jr., a city employe, made the claim that the Hemingray organization was illegally effected. They were strong at headquarters and its influence was used in their behalf. An evidence of this was shown last night when Assistant Supt. of Police Thomas Malone, who has been with Hemingray, turned up as a supporter of Lamb. He said that he had switched in the interest of harmony.

What Caused the Trouble.

Tuesday night there was an effort to hold a new election. The Hemingray people refused to attend, and Lamb put through this ticket: Dr. Harry B. Burns, chairman; W. O. H. Hemingray, vice chairman; Joseph T. Flynn, secretary, and Theodore Schmidt, treasurer.

Another meeting of the whole association was called to organize at the school house last night. Lamb and his men, with a few exceptions, were there early. He said that an agreement had been reached whereby the Hemingray committeemen were to vote for a ratification of the officers elected Tuesday. Lamb claimed that Burns was a neutral, Schmidt was with him, and Flynn was with Hemingray.

The Hemingray men denied that they had ever entered into the arrangement outlined by Lamb. They said that the election of Tuesday was not legal and that they were present to hold another election. Lamb then set up the claim that Secretary Flynn had failed to notify all of his men. The result was that all of the Lamb faction left the room. Dr. Burns did not go out. Hemingray called the meeting together and there was a quorum present.

Immediately after a motion had been carried to form a permanent organization Dr. F. J. Phillips proposed that the committee indorse the Citizens county ticket and the city administration. He said the loyalty of some of the members had been questioned and that he wanted to put them on record.

Charles Wilson of the Ninth district announced in emphatic language that he would not vote to indorse the administration. He made a speech, but the hundreds of other Citizens are talking. He is tired of boss rule and broken pledges. He also said that the other side had referred to him as an "old four-flush" and that he did not propose to work for the candidates so long as the people of the ward had no voice in the makeup of tickets.

Organization Goes to Pieces.

Dr. Burns tried to smooth matters over and incidentally gave away what appears to be the plan of the bosses. He said that it was just a question of agreeing to vote for Brown and Goehring, entirely ignoring the Democratic end of the ticket. This same thing was done at the Fifteenth ward meeting Tuesday night. The Bigelow leaders want the sheriff and district attorney and care nothing for the prothonotary, director of the poor and jury commissioner. They are Democratic.

A rising vote was demanded by Wilson, and by considerable prodding those in favor of the motion secured a majority.

When the vote was announced Wilson resigned and left the room. Before he had gotten to the door nearly every man had resigned. Secretary Flynn and Chairman Hemingray had their resignations in promptly. Burns, Phillips and a couple of others tried to get the men to reconsider, but failed. Secretary Flynn said the following men had resigned:

First district, W. O. H. Hemingray, H. C. Shannon; Second district, T. J. Little, J. H. Rust, John Mitchell; Fourth district, Joseph Flynn, J. W. Flynn, J. D. Swearingen; Seventh district, Joseph A. Geiger, William Lettz; Ninth district, Adam Stormfels, Charles Wilson.

Charles Wilson, Major Rust and Joseph A. Geiger announced that they would vote the Republican county ticket this fall. David Little said that he would not support the Citizens ticket. The other men said that they would vote for the Bigelow candidates, but that Lamb and Shore could now show what they were able to do in the way of carrying the ward.

Little and Rust said that they had never been whipped into line and never would be driven. They said that great sums of money had been sent into the ward in recent elections and that none of it was spent in their districts and the precincts had gone for the Citizens ticket. On every side was heard the hope expressed that in February Dr. Lamb would try to succeed himself in councils. The Hemingray men want to get a chance at him.

ATTEMPT TO HOLD MEETING A FARCE

Only Two Members of Select Council Corporations Committee Answer the Call.

RAILROAD BILLS ARE HELD UP

Republican Members Say Deal of Combine With Citizens Still Exists and Committees Will Not Be Abolished. Reitz Says Citizens Have Control.

A farcical attempt to hold a meeting of the corporations committee of select council to take up the Pennsylvania, Baltimore & Ohio and Wabash railroad ordinances was made yesterday afternoon with the result that had been anticipated. There was no quorum. Only two members who could be counted in making up a quorum were present—John Upperman, chairman of the committee, and John A. Murphy. John S. Lambie, president of select council, was present, but he is only an ex-officio member of the committee.

With only himself and one other member in the room, Chairman Upperman called the meeting to order and told the clerk to call the roll, which showed the following members absent: John J. Shenkel, J. W. Ruhland, George S. Wilson, James W. Platt, Evan Jones, John H. Voskamp and John Benz.

The Pennsylvania railroad was not represented, probably knowing that there was little prospect of a meeting. The Wabash was represented by J. W. Patterson and Attorney A. M. Neeper, and the Baltimore & Ohio by Robert Finney, general agent.

After finding there were only two members present Chairman Upperman waited a few minutes and then adjourned the meeting. He was asked when another meeting would be called, and he replied that he did not know. The chairman's reply caused a general smile.

Deal Still Exists.

The action of the committee yesterday demonstrated that the agreement between the Citizens and the combine is still in good working order and disproves the stories that the Citizens will abolish the standing committees of the upper branch.

A Republican member of select council who is not identified with the combine stated yesterday that he and several other Republicans would vote for a motion to abolish the select council committees, but he added:

"If we vote to abolish these committees, however, enough Citizens votes would be secured to take our places to accomplish the defeat of such a motion. There is no doubt in the world that there is a working agreement between the Citizens and the combine. This has been demonstrated many times recently. The meeting of select council last Monday was an illustration, when four Citizens members voted with the combine to prevent the linear tax ordinance being withdrawn from the finance committee of select council.

"I saw members of the combine speak to these Citizens. The vote of the four Citizens was prearranged between the Citizens and the combine. I do not believe that the Citizens will abolish the committees, because of force put into councils a number of ordinances which the Citizens do not intend to pass and upon which they do not want to go on record on the eve of an election.

"The Citizens may make a show of attempting to abolish the committees, and may introduce a resolution to this effect, but if they do they will take good care previously to have enough votes to defeat such a resolution."

Reitz Blames Citizens.

Common Councilman William C. Reitz, who was identified with the "orphans" organization in the lower branch when it was in existence, declared yesterday that the Citizens have the votes in select council to abolish the committees if they wish to.

"The Citizens cannot justly claim that they have not the power to abolish the committees, for if a known fact that they have the power and the votes. It is up to the Citizens to abolish the committees, and if they are not abolished it will be because the Citizens do not want them abolished," he said.

Among the ordinances which the corporations committee of select council is holding up and which should be passed at once is the Baltimore & Ohio railroad ordinance. There are no objections to the ordinance from any source. It is fair, and yet it is being held up in committee without any excuse. The company offers the city $10,000 a year for the rental of the wharf and has agreed to every condition that councils have seen fit to impose, and the company cannot proceed with its improvements on the wharf because the powers that control select council interfere."

CLOSELY GUARDING CZAR.

Additional Precautions Taken in Austria for Safety of Russian Ruler.

VIENNA, Oct. 2.—A dispatch from Muerzsteg, Syria, says the precautionary measures taken for the safety of the czar were largely extended today. Movements of unauthorized persons are prohibited during the times the czar and Emperor Francis Joseph are hunting.

The two emperors held an important conference at Muerzsteg today. Count Lamsdorff, Count Goluchowski, the Russian ambassador at Vienna, and the Austrian ambassador at St. Petersburg being present. It was decided to amplify the Macedonian reform scheme. The two powers still entertain the belief that Turkey will carry out the scheme which will result in the pacification of Macedonia.

The czar and Emperor Francis Joseph will leave Neuberg Saturday and travel together to Mefdling, whence the czar will continue his journey to Darmstadt.

Philadelphia's Channel to the Sea Will Be Finished Within Three Years.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Capt. J. C. Sanford, United States engineer, in charge of the Delaware river improvement work, said today that July 1, 1906, will probably see the completion of the 35-foot channel to the sea now being constructed.

Capt. Sanford has just returned from a two days' trip down the river, making observations relative to the proposed 35-foot waterway. He comes back well satisfied with the operations now going on and assured that the channel will be completed within, if not ahead of, contract time, which expires December 1, 1906.

BOLD ATTEMPT AT FORGERY.

Effort Made to Save Three Van Wormer Boys by Use of President's Name.

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 2.—It developed today that a telegram signed "President of the United States" was received here yesterday by Warden Deyo, ordering a stay in the execution of the three Van Wormer boys. The warden, however, refused to recognize the reprieve and it is announced that it was a bold forgery. Detectives are at work on the case and will exert every effort to run down the perpetrator.

Keeper Davis, who is accused of having sold contents of letters of the three executed men, has been suspended.

WAS FATALLY INJURED TRYING TO SAVE CHILD

Father Died Three Days Later Than the Son—Other Morgue Cases.

Marian Karpyinski of No. 2712 Penn avenue died at the West Penn hospital last night of injuries received Tuesday evening while trying to rescue his 4-year-old child John, who was run over by a car and instantly killed. Karpyinski himself was run down, one leg being cut off, and he received internal injuries.

Patrick Needham, 30 years old, of Third and Oliver streets, Duquesne, died yesterday at the McKeesport hospital of injuries received Wednesday by falling from the office building of the Carnegie Steel Company at that place.

The inquest was held yesterday into the death of Henry Schiller, who died at St. Francis hospital September 30 of a dose of paris green, and the jury rendered a verdict of suicide. Witnesses testified that Schiller had frequently threatened to end his life.

The inquest into the deaths of George Garwood and Hilda Vogel, who were found shot in their rooms in Moultrie street Tuesday, will be held October 6. Coroner McGeary has summoned witnesses who will testify that Garwood had often threatened to kill the girl and himself.

Henry Mizael, 77 years old, of Glendale, Scott township, near Carnegie, died suddenly at his home yesterday. Deputy Coroner Frank J. Rohan made an investigation and determined the man had died of heart disease. His wife, who was with him in the house, stated he became ill several days ago, but refused to have a physician called, saying he did not believe in medicine.

WOMAN TURNS SLEUTH.

Mrs. William Haney Locates Goods Stolen from Her Home.

Through her own efforts Mrs. William Haney yesterday located the greater portion of the goods stolen from her home at No. 507 Rebecca street, Wilkinsburg, last week. It is alleged that John Leffard, who is now in the workhouse, and his wife, who was committed to jail Thursday night by Justice J. L. Walker of Wilkinsburg, stole the goods.

While searching for the goods Mrs. Haney learned that Frank Glunt, who is also alleged to be wanted in the case, had rented a house in East Pittsburgh. Mrs. Haney, accompanied by Constable Grant Miller, went to the house in East Pittsburgh and found the dresses, skirts, silverware and jewelry belonging to Mrs. Haney stored in a room. While examining the articles Glunt entered the house, but on seeing the constable and Mrs. Haney fled. Constable Miller pursued him, but after firing several shots at Glunt the constable ran into a barbed wire fence. When he extricated himself Glunt was out of sight.

Glunt is charged with threatening to shoot Mrs. Haney and an information charging him with receiving stolen goods will be made today.

Serious Break in Ranks in Greater New York Results from Unguarded Moves.

NEW PARTY TO BE FORMED

Bronx Delegates Bolt from Last Night's Meeting Controlled by Seehan—Republicans and Fusionists Call Conventions to Oust Grout and Fornes.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Greater New York Democracy was split in two tonight by the secession of all the members of the Bronx, headed by Stanwood Menken, at the meeting of the executive committee over which borough President Jacob A. Cantor, presided.

John C. Sheehan, as a member of the committee appointed to confer with the other fusion elements on the choice of city candidates on September 24, reported that he had vainly attempted to secure the nomination of Mr. Cantor and denounced the fusion program as an attempt to Republicanize the city of New York.

John T. Cronin of the Twenty-second assembly district, who was also on the committee with Sheehan, made a similar report, in the course of which he accused R. Fulton Cutting of insulting the Irish voters of the city. This statement precipitated a general tumult, which only ended when Menken left the hall, followed by all the Bronx delegates.

He vainly tried to read a statement, signed by M. Linn Bruce, Robert C. Morris, R. Fulton Cutting and other fusion degelates denying Cutting had made remarks attributed to him and denounced the report as a brazen attempt to discredit the fusion cause. After the meeting Menken said that he and his colleagues would form another organization.

The city committee of the Citizens union met tonight and discussed with great length the complex situation that confronted the union as a result of the indorsement by Tammany Hall of Grout and Fornes. No one was admitted to the meeting but the regular representatives of the union from the five boroughs.

The position of Grout and Fornes met with strong condemnation, it being the consensus of opinion that Democrats of the independent type should be selected to fill their places. It was decided that the Citizens union convention should be reconvened on next Wednesday night, and that a new ticket should be placed in nomination with Mayor Low at the head but Grout and Fornes eliminated, and in their places two new men selected.

An address was prepared and directed to Grout and Fornes expressing the complete dissatisfaction of the Citizens union with the course pursued by them in accepting a Tammany indorsement and declaring that in view of the position assumed by them that they should eliminate themselves from the fusion ticket.

Immediately after the city committee adjourned the executive committee went into executive session, regarding the candidates for comptroller and president of the board of aldermen. Among the names presented for the former position were John P. Kelly, president of the Eighth ward bank of Brooklyn; Joseph C. Hendrix and Julian D. Fairchild. But one name was discussed for president and that was Herman Metz of Kings.

MUST GET OFF TICKET

New York Republican Convention to Name Men for Grout and Former Places.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Secretary Manchester of the Republican county committee, tonight announced that the Republican city convention would be reconvened at Carnegie hall on the night of Wednesday, October 7, and that at that convention candidates would be named for comptroller and president of the board of aldermen to take the places of Edward M. Grout and Charles V. Fornes.

Mr. Manchester would not say if any candidate for the two places to be made vacant on the ticket when Messrs. Grout and Fornes are pushed off had been discussed.

TEMPORARY DIFFICULTY WILL SOON BE COMPOSED

BALTIMORE, Oct. 2.—(Special)—Leading bankers announced today their readiness to prevent a flurry resulting from the troubles of Messrs. Williams & Middendorf, but this was unnecessary. A number of the firm's largest creditors assured them today that they would take no steps to complicate the situation, and telegrams were also received from out-of-town creditors. The following was received from Edwin Gould:

"Hope you will speedily arrange temporary difficulties. You have our best wishes and we wish we could help you in some way further."

BEE HIVES USED TO DEFEND CONVENT AGAINST POLICE

PARIS, Oct. 2.—The convent of Amanlis, department of Ille-Et-Vilaine, strongly barricaded and defended, was besieged today by civil officials assisted by gendarmes. Hundreds of persons, headed by a former mayor, hissed the officials, threw stones at them and impeded their proceedings. One of the novel methods of defense consisted in a number of bee hives, which were placed at the entrance of the convent. The barricades were finally broken down and a number of monks and civilians were arrested.

SEVERAL HUNDRED WOUNDED IN A RIOT

BERLIN, Oct. 2.—Thirty persons suffering from sabre cuts have applied at the Red Cross stations to have their wounds dressed, after a riot between omnibus strikers and non-unionists in Nettlebeck square, here, last night. The police on foot charged the rioters with drawn swords and finally mounted police cleared the square. The strike is a small one, only about 1,600 men being engaged, but the men are violent. The strikers stoned the police, injuring some of them badly. Several hundred persons were wounded. Numerous arrests have been made and the police occupy the omnibus terminals.

HOAG MAY NOT BE TRIED FOR KILLING COLBERT

I. V. Hoag, an Allegheny plumber, who has been in jail since March 30 on a charge of killing Joseph M. Colbert, was released yesterday on $1,000 bail. Hoag stabbed Colbert in a quarrel and Colbert died in the Allegheny General hospital after an operation. The principal witness in the case is in Mexico and the district attorney has reason to believe that Hoag was not altogether responsible for the death of Colbert.

TWO INDIANS ARE LOST IN WILDS OF MANHATTAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Killy-dog and Red-tail, two big Indians who have been appearing at a show in Madison Square, are lost in the wilds of Manhattan. Each is said to be eminently capable of taking care of himself in his forest wilds, but whether they can evade the dangers which go with skyscrapers and subways is a question. The police of the Tenderloin district are on the lookout for the redskins.

FORGER ARRESTED IN A HOSPITAL

a week several banks reported that checks had been presented for payment. The Pinkertons found that these had been mailed in the stolen pouch. By the use of acids the names of the payees had been erased and new names inserted. Checks that originally were drawn for $30 had been cleverly raised to ten times that amount. Checks for more than $100 were only altered so far as the payees names were concerned.

George S. Dougherty, assistant superintendent of Pinkerton's agency in this city, took personal charge of the search. Dougherty learned that on March 25 last Crawford, as "A. E. Hammond," had gone of St. Louis, where he represented himself as about to engage in the ice cream business.

It was also found that in that same month, under the name of "J. H. Hamilton," a man at Kansas City had represented himself as being about ready to engage in business as a dealer in bonds and securities. "Hamilton" opened an account at the Kansas City State bank. With him in Kansas City were "Mrs. J. H. Hamilton" and "A. E. Hammond." "Hamilton" deposited currency and checks and then drew out the greater amount of his deposit. He left the city when the discovery was made that the checks were foregires.

Another Similar Crime.

About a week later, on April 1, a mail pouch was stolen at Springfield Junction, Ill. Checks that were in the pouch soon began to make their appearance in St. Louis banks. It was about the middle of April that A. E. Hammond opened an account at the Lincoln Trust Company in St. Louis, where he deposited $1,000 in cash. Then he began to deposit checks, drafts and express orders. With "Hammond" were Mr. and Mrs. George W. Adams." "Hamilton," or Crawford, deposited altogether $3,492. When his account had dwindled to $5 "Hammond" and his companions left the city.

Shortly afterward a draft drawn to the order of R. J. Street for $485 92 by the Farmers and Merchants bank of Hannibal, Mo., on the Continental National bank, Chicago, was returned unpaid. The indorsement was a forgery. Crawford, as "J. N. Miller," had, it was found, opened an account at the West Side bank. The checks and drafts were found to have been from the pouch stolen at Springfield Junction.

Early in the summer "Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Crosby of Crewes, England," arrived at the Kensington Inn in Asbury Park. They were a desolate couple. "Mrs. Crosby" was a favorite at the inn with the younger set. Crawford or "Mr. Crosby" would absent himself from Asbury Park occasionally for three days and when the time came made his trips to Philadelphia, where, it is charged, he stole the pouch and its valuable contents.

Went Back to Asbury Park.

When he left Philadelphia after the robbery Crawford returned to Asbury Park, where he remained until September 12. On that day he and Mrs. Crosby and several friends came to this city. Crawford said he was going to stop at the Marlborough hotel. When the party reached Jersey City Crawford and the woman bade their Asbury Park friends goodby, explaining that they were going to visit friends in Brooklyn. Together they were seen to go from the annex boat. Had their friends watched they would have seen Mr. and Mrs. Crosby leave the ferryboat and re-enter the railroad station, where they awaited a train to take them on West.

Part of the proceeds of the Philadelphia robbery fell into the hands of the Pinkertons a week ago. Crawford had sent to the Pennsylvania railroad a leather bag of the Christopher Dalrymple & Sons' model, addressed to "T. H. Martin." When the detectives got the bag it was found to contain 1,500 letters, a part of the proceeds of the Philadelphia robbery. These letters were sent back to the owners. W. Wickersham, chief postoffice inspector of Philadelphia, who had been co-operating with the Pinkertons made several visits to this city and the clew that led to Denver was followed up.

Crawford's Long Record.

Crawford and Mrs. Barnes as "Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bell," were finally located. Crawford is declared to be one of the most dangerous criminals the authorities of New York have to deal with. As Charles Homan he was arrested on March 19, 1894, when trying to pass a forged check. The check had been taken from a stolen pouch. Crawford was sent to the penitentiary for three years. He escaped this city in 1898 with Kid Foster, a pickpocket. This was for passing a check stolen in a pouch at Buffalo, N. Y. Crawford was then sent to Auburn for five years. He was sentenced to 15 years' imprisonment when caught with the contents of a pouch stolen in St. Louis.

In 1894 Crosby is said to have been arrested here while trying to cash a $1,200 check with a Malden lane jeweler, and to have been sent to Elmira reformatory, from which he was released in 1897. Through an agreement with the postoffice Crosby will be surrendered to the St. Louis authorities to stand trial on a charge of swindling.

Crosby is said to have been arrested in this city in the company of Kid Foster, a Peoria pickpocket, while they were attempting to cash a draft for $425 with Marcus & Co., the Broadway jewelers. It was afterward learned that the draft offered by Crosby had been stolen from a mail pouch in the New York Central depot at Buffalo. For this crime he was sentenced to five years in Auburn prison. Foster getting off with three years.

MT. PELEE CONTINUES A DANGEROUS POINT

Prof. Heilprin Thinks the Martinique Volcano May Resume Activity.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—"It would not surprise me if Mt. Pelee had another eruption of great violence," declared Prof. Angelo Heilprin, the noted scientist and explorer tonight. He said the long duration of the disorder and the present condition of the crater warranted this belief.

He referred to the towering conical rock which had been pushed up from the interior of the crater. It is 840 feet high, 350 feet wide at its greatest width and is gradually growing skyward. When Prof. Heilprin was on his third trip to Martinique last summer during his observation of the obelisk-like projection it was lifted up 21 feet in four days.

Prof. Heilprin also referred to the proposed isthmian canal and advocated the Panama route because of its comparative freedom from volcanoes, which render the Nicaragua route a most dangerous one.

MORGAN AND ROCKEFELLER REACH AN AGREEMENT

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—A broker made the statement today that the protocol of a treaty of peace has been signed by J. P. Morgan and John D. Rockefeller. "That there has been war between these two is a self-evident fact," he declares. "The market has shown it for months. This has been pooh-poohed by wise ones, but it was true nevertheless. Better conditions in the street began just as soon as it became known that Mr. Rockefeller and Mr. Morgan had about agreed upon a harmony plan. That was two days ago. The chief points in the peace agreement have been settled upon and the financial war is at an end."

Thousands Saw Street Fair.

Carson street was crowded last night with men, women and children attending the street fair and carnival which is being held for the benefit of the proposed St. Joseph's hospital. The free open air trapeze performance by the DaComa family attracted hundreds, and the streets of Cairo and India, the Old Plantation, the Red Dome the Ferris wheel and other attractions did a rushing business. Members of the hospital committee reported that the night's receipts were the greatest taken in since the carnival opened last Saturday night.

Trying to Settle Plumbers' Strike.

Conferees representing the master and the journeymen plumbers are to meet on Monday to settle the wage dispute. If they fail, the Builders' Exchange league will take up the matter. The strike affects 600 plumbers and forces into idleness about as many more of other trades. The men demand an advance of 50 cents a day. The employers refuse the increase and want the scale to expire December 31 instead of the last of September.

PIANO BUYING

is "agreeing" with the Dealer in the Price. Just fancy the strange, unbusinesslike things you have to do if you want to buy a piano—in some stores.

For instance, you are asked $450.00 for a piano; you don't want to pay that much, and the funniest thing about it is the salesman doesn't expect you to.

He merely "asks" this much in order to have a chance to make big reductions. That's the bait so many bite on.

MAJOR NESBIT SAYS IT IS TRUE

Admits That He Did Use Government Stationery for Political Communications.

EAGER TO AID DEMOCRATS

He Has Taken Charge of the Sixth District for Bigelow and Has Named a Campaign Committee—Capt. E. Y. Breck Disgusted.

"That is true. When I get into action, I use anything."

This was the answer given yesterday by United States Pension Agent John W. Nesbit, when asked if it were true that he had used government stationery for political communications.

The major is endeavoring to carry the Sixth legislative district for the Democratic-Citizens ticket. Recently in sending out notices for a private meeting in the interest of the anti-Republican cause, the pension agent used his official stationery. Printed on the corner of the envelopes is the following:

"Penalty $300 if used for private business."

Desiring to be certain that Maj. Nesbit had used this stationery for Democratic political communications, he was yesterday asked concerning the matter. His answer is given above. When he made this statement he was at the anti-Republican headquarters, having just come out of a conference, where he had superintended the building of an organization to work in the interest of the Democratic-Citizens ticket.

People Have No Voice.

In the selection of the organization to take the place of the Sixth district committeemen, who denounced bossism and pledge-breaking and stepped over into the Republican fold, the citizens of the district do not have a voice. Behind closed doors yesterday afternoon, Pension Agent Nesbit, W. W. Meckling and a few others decided to divide the district into 25 divisions and appoint a campaign manager for each. These men were selected yesterday by Pension Agent Nesbit and the other seven will be made known today.

W. W. Meckling, F. P. Wolff, Frank Mornburg, John M. Boyce, R. H. Heath, Charles M. Shoaf, S. J. Snee, Frank H. Kennedy, Albert Reisfar, John A. Wilson, W. O. Walker, Charles J. Lewis, Dr. R. J. Shields, Charles B. Redmond, Henry M. Seveno, J. W. Brownlee, Samuel R. Lee, Y. M. Beck.

The decision of the Bigelow bosses to allow both the Breck and Moore committees in the Fourteenth ward to complete the campaign is not pleasant to Capt. E. Y. Breck. "It is not at all satisfactory," said he. "It should have been decided one way or the other. I am sick and tired of the whole thing. The trouble in our ward should have been settled long ago and the same is true of the Sixth legislative district. There is no use trying to drive two horses at the same time in the same direction."

Jacksonian Party Meeting.

S. L. Kerlin, chairman, has called a meeting of the Jacksonian Democratic party in the Lincoln school, Frankstown and Lincoln avenues, for 8 o'clock this evening. At that time plans will be adopted for an active campaign against the ticket forced upon a faction of the local Democracy by the Citizens leaders. Chairman Kerlin said yesterday that there is great indignation among Democrats at the proposition of the Citizens leaders to compel an indorsement of the Republican state candidates, in addition to securing votes for the Citizens county candidates. The failure of the Citizens leaders to redeem the pledges made in the three last campaigns has also caused great indignation, and many Democrats who have hitherto been identified with the fusion party have declared their intention of voting the Republican county ticket to emphasize their disapproval of the deals that have been made and have resulted in the almost complete annihilation of the local Democratic organization.

The Democratic city committee is to be called together next week, probably Wednesday. The purpose is to endeavor to get the Democrats interested in the Bigelow ticket.

Mayor Hays says that the Democrats will be allowed to name the successor to Assessor D. O. Barr, who died this week. At Bigelow headquarters yesterday it was announced that the selection would be left to James A. Clark and Charles A. Fagan. John Pierce would like to have the job, but so far no one has been agreed upon. The appointment will probably be promised to many people, but the winner will not be announced until after the election.

The Soldiers' Civic league admitted 48 new members at the regular meeting on Thursday night. Arrangements have been made to organize branch leagues in the Fifteenth ward, Pittsburgh; at McKeesport and at Bellevue. The meetings in these three places for organization will be held on Friday, October 9.

FIGHT FOR FRANCHISES.

Pennsylvania Backed Line Has a Strong Rival in Sewickley Valley.

The fight of the two electric traction companies for franchises through the Sewickley valley has grown very strenuous. One company is admittedly backed by the Pennsylvania Company interests. The other is variously reported as being backed by Murry A. Verner or the Pittsburgh Railways Company. The Emsworth councils have already granted the Pennsylvania line, known as the Avalon & Glenfield, its franchise, and now has up for consideration the franchise of the Ben Avon & Emsworth. The line said to be backed by Mr. Verner or the Pittsburgh Railways Company. Each company has agreed to charge only double fare for night car service, the boroughs learning by Avalon's experience that such a provision in the franchise is necessary.

GLOBE TROTTERS' DAY.

Special Sousa Program in Honor of the Commercial Travelers.

The Commercial Travelers' Protective association of Pittsburgh has set out to make this the banner day of the season at New Exposition. In honor of the occasion Mr. Sousa has arranged a unique program, named "Globe Trotters," consisting of compositions that have made the round of every portion of the world honored by the faithful traveling men. This afternoon's program follows:

2:00 P. M.

Overture, "Poet and Peasant".....Suppe
Cornet Solo, "The Lost Chord".....Sullivan
Mr. Emil Kenneke.
Rhapsodie Hongroise No. 2.....Liszt
Soprano Solo, Mad Scena from "Lucia,".....Donizetti
Miss Estelle Liebling.
Valse, "My Queen".....Bucalossi
March, "The Washington Post".....Sousa

4:00 P. M.

Songs and Dances.....Stephen Foster
Nocturne, "Monastery Bells".....Lefevre-Welty
Idyl, "La Paloma".....Yradier
Violin Solo, "Vivace" from "Concerto".....Mendelssohn
Miss Anna Otten.
Gems from "Martha".....Flotow
March, "The High School Cadets".....Sousa

For seven years Sousa has appeared at the expo, yet he is today more welcome than ever before. He closes his brilliant engagement tonight.

There will be a grand rush for new exposition music hall tonight, for the brilliant Sousa positively closes his remarkable engagement. Join the rush, but be sure to come early.

"Commercial travelers' night" at the expo—Also last appearance of Sousa, Darling and Otten.

The expo buildings will be too small tonight for the crowds come to hear Sousa's closing concerts.

GREAT REPUBLICAN MASS MEETING IN ALLEGHENY CITY THIS EVENING

Allegheny Carnegie hall will be taxed to its utmost capacity this evening when the Allegheny county Republican organization opens its campaign with a rousing mass meeting. In anticipation of a crowd that will more than fill the hall, arrangements have been made to hold an overflow meeting outside, if the weather is fair, as it promises to be. There will be plenty of vocal and instrumental music, both in and outside the hall, and the whole Allegheny diamond will be illuminated by brilliant colored lights. Francis J. Torrance, president of Allegheny select council, will open the meeting and the issues of the county and state campaign will be plainly stated to the audience by Maj. Robert E. Stewart, Republican candidate for district attorney; Representative John Francis and Attorneys James Francis Burke and Charles A. O'Brien. The music will be furnished by the Knights of Pythias band and the Blaney quartet.

AUCTION SCANDAL SETTLED BY HAYS

Mayor Determines to Dispose of All City's Non-Used Property.

SEVERAL PIECES FOR SALE

Chief Executive and Director Moore Visit Old Oakland Police Station, Which Was Subject of Council Sensation—Other Properties Viewed.

Mayor William B. Hays and Director Harry Moore yesterday inspected the Second avenue property formerly occupied by the Oakland police station, which was the subject of a sensational auction scene in common council Monday night in which several Citizens councilmen participated. The mayor and the director had an engagement yesterday with Controller John B. Larkin, who was to have accompanied them, but the controller said he was too busy to take the trip.

After Director Moore returned his opinion of the value of the property was asked and if $5,000, the last bid offered by Councilman W. H. Stevenson in behalf of Jones & Laughlin, was high enough.

"I would not want to give $5,000 for it," the director replied.

The mayor and the director visited a piece of abandoned city property in Oakland, five lots in the rear of Schenley park, which was formerly used as a garbage dump. A piece of property in the East End and two pieces in Carson street, South Side, were also inspected.

The Carson street properties are on the south side of the street, one of them formerly occupied by a police station. Director Moore said that he did not think either of much value.

Owing to the disagreement over the Second avenue property the city officials have determined to sell all the city's non-used property at public sale except the East End piece, which will probably be used for city stables. The other properties will all be advertised together in the papers and will go to the highest bidder.

The matter will be taken up by the joint finance committee of councils next Tuesday night, when Director Moore will make a report to the committee. The factional political fight between the Fourteenth ward Citizens councilmen has been drawn into the dispute over the Second avenue property, with W. H. Stevenson on one side and Chris Beckert and John Lauler on the other. Beckert claims that the property is worth even more than $5,000. This bid was obtained after Beckert had objected to $3,500, which was the first bid offered by Mr. Stevenson.

FREE ORGAN RECITALS ARE RESUMED TODAY

In Both Cities the Carnegie Music Halls Will Again Open to the People.

The ninth season of free organ recitals at the Pittsburgh Carnegie Music hall will begin this evening, and the usual Sunday afternoon recital, at 4 o'clock, will follow tomorrow; and thereafter for the next nine months regular Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon recitals will be given.

Edwin H. Lemare, the city organist, will arrive in Pittsburgh this morning after a summer spent in Australia, where at leading cities he gave recitals under municipal auspices.

For the opening program this evening Mr. Lemare has chosen a list of familiar numbers. Especially to be noted is the "Parsifal" prelude, and the Guilmant and Humperdinck numbers. In full the list is:

Vorspiel, "Parsifal".....Wagner
Prelude and fugue in D major.....Bach
(a) Pastorale in F; (b) Berceuse.....Lemare
Marche Funebre et Chant Seraphique.Guilmant
Angel scene, "Hansel and Gretel".....
.....Humperdinck
Overture to "William Tell".....Rossini

The free organ recitals at the Allegheny Carnegie Music hall will also be resumed today. After the usual summer vacation H. F. Ecker will begin his fourteenth year as city organist this afternoon. He has chosen a most delightful program for this occasion. The soloist who will assist him will be Miss Elsie Weging of San Antonio, Texas, a soprano who is said to possess a most charming and rich voice of exceptional range. She will sing Terry's elaborate waltz aria, "Queen of the Night," and the well-known sacred song, "One Sweet Solemn Thought."

This will be the five hundred and ninety-ninth recital and will commence promptly at 3 p. m. For the six hundredth recital, which will be given next Saturday afternoon, Mr. Ecker is making elaborate preparations, and he hopes this occasion to eclipse any recital ever given. The full evening recitals will commence Monday evening, October 12. The program for this afternoon's recital follows:

Organ, "Wedding March".....Mendelssohn
(a) Evening Song.....Schumann
(b) Serenata Espagnola, (new).....Oehmler
Overture, La Dame Blanche.....Boieldieu
Soprano solo, valse aria, "Queen of the Night".....Terry
Miss Elsie Weging.
Organ, communion in F.....Gigout
Organ (a) prayer from "Lohengrin"....Wagner
(b) Boures in G from string quartet....Bach
(c) Serenade, Badine.....Gabriel-Marie
Organ, suite No. 2 from Faust.Gound-Ecker
Soprano solo, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought".....Thomas
Miss Elsie Weging (with organ obb.)
Organ, Grand Chocur in D.....McMasters

ONE WOMAN BADLY HURT.

Car Ran Off in Allegheny—Thirteen Passengers Had Narrow Escape.

Thirteen passengers on car No. 1625 of the Woods Run line, had narrow escapes yesterday morning at the McClure avenue (Allegheny) crossing of the Ft. Wayne railroad. Shortly after 7 o'clock the car ran away on the grade above the railroad tracks, and it was only by jumping that the passengers saved themselves. Miss Grace Gass, aged 17, of No. 423 McClure avenue, alighted on her head, and is in St. John's hospital with a fractured skull. She never regained consciousness after being injured, and her life is despaired of. Miss Alice Putnam, aged 18 years, living at No. 5 Antrim street, was badly bruised and cut.

Michael Callahin, the motorman, said the brakes failed to work, and, realizing that disaster was inevitable, he advised everyone to jump. The car crashed through the gates at the crossing and plunged into a freight train. Both the street car and the box car were almost demolished and the crossing was blocked for almost an hour.

COUNTY BOSS IS THOS. S. BIGELOW

So Declares Dr. Samuel S. Woodburn in Republican Meeting in Allegheny.

VETERANS OPEN NEW HOME

Campaign Issues Plainly Discussed by Prominent Speakers—Monster Meeting Is to Be Held in Carnegie Hall Tonight.

"Thomas S. Bigelow is the only boss in Allegheny county. Every voter knows this and there is no need of crying it aloud from the house-tops. We who organized the Citizens party, and worked against the regular Republican organization last fall, did it with honest motives and with the determination to strike a blow at bossism. We got rid of some bosses, but the Citizens party is now in the hands of another boss. There seems to be no freedom from bosses in the Citizens party and the way old Citizens workers are coming back into the Republican ranks is evidence that the voter sees his only hope of clean government without bosses in the latter organization."

This is in part an address made by Dr. Samuel S. Woodburn, before a large crowd last night in the headquarters of the Republican club of the War Veterans' Association of Allegheny. The meeting marked the opening of the new home of the association, and the crowd that attended augurs well for Republican victory on the North Side.

W. T. Bradberry presided at the meeting. The other speakers were Dr. James W. Dickson, the Republican candidate for sheriff; William H. Graham, Thomas Sample, John Moreland, H. S. Wasson, and Commander John L. Shook of Post No. 88, G. A. R.

People Do Not Want Bosses.

Continuing his speech, Dr. Woodburn said: "Had the Citizens party not had a boss the citizens of this county would by this time have had honest government; there would be harmony throughout the county and political snarling that now exists would be unknown. The people do not want bosses. It was bosses that caused the great uprising that gave success to the old Citizens party, and it will be the determination to unseat political and municipal bosses again that will bring the voters of Allegheny county to the standard of the reorganized Republican organization."

In his address Dr. Dickson said he had no promises to make to anyone except that if elected sheriff he would treat all with courtesy who had any business dealings with him.

"I have been asked by some if I will promise positions in return for political services," said Dr. Dickson. "To these I have replied that I will promise nothing. I am not elected and if I am it will be time then to speak of positions. Good Republicans need no urging in this fight. No man is the issue. If a candidate's integrity is known and unquestioned his popularity should cut little figure with the voters. He represents Republican principles and it is the furtherance of these, and the promise of honest government that will bring out the vote to make victory sure for the Republican party next month."

Big Meeting Tonight.

All the other speakers talked on campaign issues and urged all not to give their votes to a party whose candidates have shown repeatedly that they deny their own pledges.

The War Veterans and their friends will meet at the new headquarters, No. 16 North Diamond street, tonight, at 7:30 and will march in a body to Carnegie hall to attend the Republican meeting. Seats have been reserved in the hall for the veterans, who will be headed by the Grand Army band. A monster crowd is expected at the meeting.

All the Republican party candidates will be present to address the crowd and Representative John Francies and James Francis Burke will speak. There is much speculation as to what Mr. Francies will say. He was elected to the legislature on the Citizens ticket last fall, but recently declared his determination to have no further association with the leaders of the Citizens party, who, he says, have utterly disregarded the rights and wishes of the people.

Old Traction Line Abandoned.

The old traction line between McKeesport and Wilmerding was abandoned yesterday and the car operating on the old line to hold the charter was taken off. Since the Pittsburgh Railways Company completed its shorter route between McKeesport and Wilmerding the old line has been used but little. The tracks in Westinghouse avenue, Wilmerding, will be removed by the borough next week.

Millinery Store Scorched.

A blaze in the rear of T. Moser & Co.'s millinery store, No. 525 Ohio street, Allegheny, last night, did $300 damage.

Fine Steinway Upright Piano Very Cheap.

We have recently gotten hold of a very fine Steinway upright piano that we will dispose of at a low figure for cash. The instrument is in elegant condition with hardly a scratch on it. This is better than buying some cheap unknown new piano.

Hospital Saturday and Sunday Association Hears Encouraging Reports.

BIG GAIN OVER LAST YEAR

Annual Meeting and Entertainment of Local Organization Last Night Brings Out Bright Facts and Many Enthusiastic Workers.

The annual meeting and entertainment of the Hospital Saturday and Sunday association was held last night in the assembly room of the Free Dispensary building, in Sixth avenue. This hall was comfortably filled and the members of the association present were entertained by instrumental music, recitations and addresses.

The election of officers resulted in the retaining of the officers of last year. They are: President, Prof. W. M. McCollough; first vice president, W. J. Robinson; second vice president, the Rev. T. N. Boyle; secretary and general agent, Samuel Harper; treasurer, the Fidelity Title & Trust Company.

Secretary Samuel Harper made a report of the working of the Hospital Saturday and Sunday association of London, England, which is composed of two associations, although both are for the same purpose, or taking care of the sick of that big city who are too poor to take care of themselves.

The address of the evening was made by the Rev. E. H. Ward, D. D., rector of St. Peter's Protestant Episcopal church, who took for his subject "The Struggle of Life," the title of a book by Charles Darwin. Dr. Ward said these times were far ahead of the times from which the book was written. It deals with ancient Rome and he said if a man were to inquire for a charitable institution or hospital the people would not know what he was talking about. In these times with so many great hospitals and societies doing good work, the struggle for life was difficult. Dr. Ward paid a great tribute to the association for the work it has done in caring for 8,000 sick in the past year.

President McCullough made an address on the work done last year, when $9,332 73 was raised by the association. The year before $4,394 55 was collected, so it can be seen the efforts of the members are more fruitful. He also spoke highly of the physicians, private schools, churches, societies and all who contributed to the support of the association for the handsome way in which they have contributed money.

Three hundred patients, said President McCullough, were cared for every day in the year by the associated hospitals of the association, not including the thousands that received dispensary treatment. He also thanked the hospitals for their willingness shown in admitting all the persons recommended to them by the association. Superintendent Charles S. Howell of the West Penn hospital, made a short address in which he praised the association for the good work they were doing.

Those who took part in the entertainment were Miss Bertha S. Davis, Miss Dott Allison, Robert Chess, J. E. Lauter. The invocation was pronounced by the Rev. W. R. Thompson, Ph. D., and the benediction by the Rev. David Flanigan.

TOSSED THE CHILD OUT OF THE AUTOMOBILE

Elizabeth Man Was Hurt in Accident, but His Son Escaped Injury.

Edward Barron, aged 21, a business man of Elizabeth, was out in his automobile in Elizabeth yesterday afternoon with his little son, when the machine struck a small rock. Finding that he could not control the machine Barron quickly tossed the child as gently as possible to the street below.

Before Barron could himself leave the machine it crashed into the curb, throwing him out headforemost. He was taken from under the wheels unconscious and removed to the McKeesport hospital. He suffered a fracture of the hip and many bruises, besides possible internal injuries. The child was unhurt.

KEEPS GAS CONTRACT.

American Window Glass to Buy from Flinn Company at 10 Cents Per 1,000.

It is the purpose of the American Window Glass Company to get entirely out of all business but its principal line. That was the reason of the disposal of the company's oil and gas properties in Indiana to the Pittsburgh oil syndicate, headed by William Flinn, a representative of the company said yesterday. This sale was chronicled in yesterday's Gazette. The name of the company is to be the Columbia Oil & Gas Company.

Under the terms of the sale the American retains a contract for its supply of natural gas for two years at 10 cents per 1,000 feet. Beyond this time it did not figure, as it is believed that the bulk of the window glass business will be back in this section then. The gas in Indiana has been falling rapidly for some time past.

Charged With Illegal Liquor Selling.

Aggie Jackson, of No. 43 Townsend street, was sent to jail last night in default of $1,000 bail, on a charge of illegal liquor selling. The charge was preferred by Bertha Fisher, who lives next door to the defendant.

Old and New Way

Hyomei, the Latest Scientific Discovery for the Cure of Catarrh.

The discovery of Hyomei has wrought a wonderful change in the treatment of catarrh.

Prior to three years ago the medicines ordinarily employed in the cure of this disease were nauseating drugs and worthless tonics. In some instances they benefited, but the improvement was not lasting.

With Hyomei you take into the air passages of the throat and head a balsamic air that goes to the minutest cells, effectually killing all germs and microbes of catarrh. It enters the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood, and restores health to the whole system. Many astonishing testimonials have been received from those who have been cured by Hyomei.

A complete outfit costs but $1.00, and includes an inhaler, dropper and sufficient Hyomei for several weeks' treatment.

Perhaps the strongest evidence that can be given to doubters is the fact that Schilling Bros. Co., Penn and Frankstown avenues, have so much faith in Hyomei that they sell every package under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it does not cure.

Now is the time to begin the use of Hyomei.

Did You Rent One of These Fine Pianos at $5 a Month?

Many students, teachers and others have already taken advantage of this unusual opportunity to rent a firstclass piano for just one-half the ordinary rate. If you wish to avail yourself of it you should make your arrangements as soon as possible, as we have only a limited number of these instruments. At present the supply is ample, but the demand is large and increasing every day.

We bought a large number of these pianos from a retiring manufacturer—a celebrated maker of fine pianos. They are encased in rich mahogany, oak and walnut veneers; have copper bass strings, nickeled pins, patent repeating action, and are regular $450 values.

Regarding the Special Sale of Women's Suits and Coats.

Naturally there was a rush yesterday for the Suits and Jackets for prices so far below original quotations. To hold out to you that there is variety here today would be exaggerating; to even hint that most any woman could find a suit or jacket to her liking would be putting the facts in a false light. The collection that we offered yesterday was made up of many odd suits in lines that have been sold down to where two, three or four remain—the collection of jackets was made up the same way. With us it was a case of making the odd suits and jackets get out of the road. To do this we named smaller prices than such goods should be sold for just when the season is beginning. But that was our lookout. Of course, they went fast.

There are quite a number of the Suits and Jackets left. If you come today, look over the line, and find something that fits you, you will be the possessor of a bargain worth talking about. Here are the prices without going into detail regarding the garments—

$10.00 for Walking Suits that sold for $20.00, $25.00 and $30.00.

$10.00 for Dress Suits that sold for $20.00, $25.00 and $30.00.

$15.00 for Long Coat Walking Suits that sold for $20.00 and $25.00.

$20.00 for Walking Suits, all silk lined and silk drop skirt, that sold for $25.00.

$25.00 for Long and Short Coat Suits that sold for $30.00 and up to $45.00.

$3.50 for 19-inch Jackets that sold for $7.50.

$5.00 for Jackets that sold for $10.00.

$10.00 for Jackets and Long Coats that sold for $15.00 and $18.00.

$25.00 for Long and Short Coats that sold for $30.00 and up to $45.00.

$15.00 for Long and Short Coats that sold for $25.00.

The Jackets are all of tan covert. As for the suits, you will have to take Hobson's choice as to your favorite color and material.

Note—The greatly reduced prices for which these suits are sold compel us in cases where alterations are necessary to make a small charge.

Now, come with us, please, and let us look into the regular lines of Suits and Separate Skirts—those that come under that popular saying, popular prices—

At $15.00 we are exhibiting a great variety of Walking Suits in check English cloth; the skirt is a seven-gore affair, the coat is lined with satin, finished with patent leather belt, strap seams, trimmed with buttons. A sightly suit for the price.

At $20.00 we are showing suits in fancy mixtures, dress styles; seven-gore skirt; a 27-inch coat lined with taffeta silk. Altogether stylish and natty.

At $25.00 we have both Walking and Dress Suits in either black and blue cheviot or in a novelty cloth; very newest style of coat, lined with taffeta.

At $5.00 extra good Walking Skirts are offered women, and some of them are worth $7.50, others worth $10.00. The materials used are fancy mixtures, tweeds, meltons and broadcloths. Two styles—seven and nine-gore flare, all with strap seams.

At $6.50 we have a new style of Dress Skirt in cheviot, black and navy. This skirt has a high cut imitation flounce which is strapped and is further finished with a medallion at each point.

At $10.00 the best value in a broadcloth Skirt we have ever seen; it has a fancy high cut imitation flounce ending in points, is neatly strapped and the edges on the straps are piped with silk. Each point is finished with a medallion.

And this is a very good place to speak of two excellent numbers in Women's Raincoats, both of which are inexpensive—

Raincoats of Oxford cloth, double cape, latest style of sleeve, box pleat back, finished with belt. This coat has no collar. $10.00.

Raincoats of novelty cloth mixtures, military cape trimmed with buttons. A remarkably good coat for the money. It is double-breasted. $15.00.

Our Clothing for the Young Men and the Little Men.

Just as much attention accorded to this line by our buyer as given to clothing for the adult. Just as great diversity of woolens from which to make selection. Just as skillful workmanship, and more style and dash—the young fellows demand it—the mothers demand it for the little fellows. And then, as a guarantee beyond all this, you have the reputation of this store for quality—quality for the smallest sum that article can be purchased for. We quote a few numbers:

Young Men's Long Trousers Suits—ages 14 to 20 years—single-breasted sack suits of cassimere or cheviot. Brown and gray mixtures. A very neat suit, and the price is only $7.50.

Young Men's Long Trouser Suits in a range of styles embracing all the new things embodied in the suits for the grown-ups. Either single or double-breasted styles. The materials are the finest woolens, same as put into the men's goods, satin or serge lined. Youthful in cut and appearance. The price range is $10.00 and easily along to $25.00.

Boys' Norfolk and Double-Breasted Suits—knee trousers—nobby patterns. A special $5.00 line, and all we ask is $3.50 the suit.

Boys' Suits in Double-Breasted, Norfolk, Sailor or Russian styles—knee trousers. A wide diversity of materials and every suit the pink of perfection. $5.00 and by easy stages to $15.50.

Boys' Topcoats and Overcoats—

Sizes 6 to 15 years—a splendid line of Topcoats gotten up in a manner that will make the boy's heart jump with joy—single-breasted mannish styles.

A special line of Coats in Tan Covert that we considered good value at $6.50, $7.50 and $8.50, but you can have your choice of the 75 at $5.50. A bargain, don't you think so?

Football and Golf,

the two leading games of the day, which fact was not overlooked by us when stocking up our Athletic Goods department. We carry every requisite for both games—only the best products of the best-known makers—of course, and the prices are as low as consistent with the character of the goods.

For the Game of Football—

Footballs, 75c each to $4.00.
Football Pants, 50c to $2.50.
Football Jackets, 50c each to $1.00.
Shin Guards, 50c, 75c, $1.00 a pair.
Nose Guards, $1.50 each.
Head Harness, $1.50 to $3.50.

For the Game of Golf—

Golf Clubs, Iron, $1.50 each.
Golf Clubs, Wood, $2.00 each to $3.25.
Golf Clubs, Juvenile, 75c each to $1.00.
Wizard Golf Balls, $6.00 a dozen.
Pneumatic Golf Balls, $6.00 a dozen.
Haskett Golf Balls (new), $6.00 a dozen.
Haskell Golf Balls (remade), $5.00 a dozen.
Practice Golf Balls, $2.25 a dozen.
Caddy Bags, 75c each to $8.00.

Saturday, Another Day of Dress Goods Inducements.

What do you say to $1.00 and $1.25 values in handsome dress fabrics, such as the stylish Tweeds and Fashionable Zibelines

For 80c a yard.

Also Homespuns, Cheviots and Eoliennes at the same figure. Wonderful, is it not? Especially when you consider the splendid width of the goods and the fact that you can select about any color you fancy, or black if you prefer it. How is it possible? you ask. We'll not bore you with data and details, but tell you in a word this special price of Fashion's favorite fabrics was brought about by our shrewd buying and willingness to sell in the way that we bought—away under price.

The entire Fifth Street Aisle will be given over to this special sale today and Monday. Although we have 20,000 yards of these Dress Goods, we would advise you to be on hand early when selections are at their best.

Stylish Cotton Waists.

Splendid weather for the heavy cotton waist, and we're prepared to supply your wants in this line with the newest things both as to material and the style of garment. As the season advances the cotton waist grows in favor, instead of losing ground. We foresaw the fact, and that's why we're so well prepared to serve you. A few prices—

$1.25. Waists of basket weave Vesting made with three pleats on each side of front and wide pleat down center. Tucked back; one-tab pointed collar; full sleeve.

$1.50. Something new in a fancy black and white figured vesting. Tailor stitched, pleated front which buttons to one side, thus lending a vest effect—trimmed with small black buttons—self stock and full sleeve.

$2.50. White Waist of oxford—made with Duchess front and plain back—self stock—shirt sleeve.

$2.50. Waist of white and black figured madras—fleece lined. Tucked front and back; double tab stock; full sleeve.

An unusually complete line of waists in both white and colored vestings, embracing many different styles and patterns, ranging in price from $1.25 easily along to $10.00.

Pretty Silk Waists for Decidedly Less Prices.

Pretty enough to wear most any place and quite correct with the coat suit. Every woman has one or more Silk Waists in her wardrobe, but these are so very new in cut and style, and so very dainty in material and appearance that, no matter how many you have, if you see them, you'll add another to your collection.

At $5.00. A dressy Waist of black Peau de Cygne—made with tucked square yoke, the body of the garment tucked in groups; fancy sleeves.

At $6.00. A charming conception in Peau de Soie—cadet blue or black. Tucked yoke, back and sleeves, fancy stock—thus avoiding monotony.

At $7.50. That well-liked silk, Louisine, has been utilized for this number—black and colors. Made with broad pleat down front and ornamented with lace medallions. Buttoned on side, tucked sleeves and a dressy stock.

Saturday, October 3, 1903.

Interest in the world's championship series is growing. The victory for Pittsburgh, scored on Thursday, was fully expected in this section, and there began to be a feeling that the contest was to be a jug-handled affair. The Boston triumph yesterday puts another aspect upon it. It was a good game and Boston proved its ability to play ball as it should be played. There is now no fear that the games will all go one way, though there may well be apprehension that fair weather will not continue to the end. Baseball is not good sport when the thermometer is ranging in the 30's, though such conditions are favorable for the gridiron.

In the program for the reorganization of the Consolidated Lake Superior Company there is a startling suggestion of the extent to which that concern was inflated. The present capital of the company is $110,000,000. It is proposed to reorganize on a basis of $40,000,000 after paying in $8,000,000 cash to meet present liabilities and provide a moderate amount of working capital. With good management it is probable the company may be fairly successful on the contracted basis. That, of course, depends somewhat upon circumstances, but at any rate the chance will be better than it has been heretofore.

While there is no direct clue to the murderer of Orlando Dexter, the belief grows positive that he was assassinated by one who believed the liberties of the Adirondack guides and hunters were being unduly interfered with by the creation of private preserves. A letter received by Dexter's father practically confirms this view and makes a threat that William Rockefeller has been marked out for the younger Dexter's fate. It may be difficult to locate the murderer in a region where the inhabitants are nearly all in sympathy with his purpose, but it certainly ought not to be impossible. We miss our guess if the man is not soon brought to justice, and also if this crime does not hasten the end of poaching in the Adirondack country.

While the disruption of the Eleventh ward Democratic-Citizens organization is less complete than that of the Sixth legislative district, it is of the same nature. It is a revolt against the tyranny of the central machine that denies home rule to the districts. This revolt of the workers is assisted by the general revolution of public sentiment, caused by the utter failure of the Democratic-Citizens organization to redeem a single platform pledge in a year and a half of power. In fact, the whole fabric is tumbling to pieces. The Republican voters who left their party to express their disapproval of ring domination are coming back to their regenerated party to emphasize their intolerance of worse boss rule. There is absolutely nothing to hold them to the unholy alliance personally owned and personally directed to repudiation of every reform promise.

Premier Balfour's speech at Sheffield is a protectionist argument of some weight. To be sure, Mr. Balfour coats it for the benefit of his free-trade friends and himself by calling it a measure of retaliation upon an unsympathetic world that has refused to play the free-trade game the way England wanted it played, but it is protection just the same. England has tried free trade and found it a losing policy. Its statesmen do not like to acknowledge outright the falseness of their long entertained theory, so Mr. Balfour says free trade is right the way Cobden taught it, but Cobden never contemplated a free-trade England in a protectionist world. This is a naive but frank confession that while a protectionist policy takes care of itself, a free-trade policy is dependent for its success in one country upon its adoption in others. Thus the United States and Germany, with the policy of protecting their home markets, have been able to develop to a point where they can compete successfully with the free traders in the markets of the world, including those of England itself. It would be hard to conceive of a higher tribute to the protective policy.

In connection with the posting of notices by the Carnegie Steel Company of a readjustment of wages, an official of the United States Steel Corporation is quoted as saying it does not necessarily mean a reduction, but that the company is preparing again to look after its export trade. In this connection some facts and figures are published which indicate that no great effort will be required on the part of American manufacturers to get into the foreign markets again. The price margin is very slight. This country has been so enormously prosperous during the past four years that no effort has been made to export steel manufactures. In fact, it has been impossible much of the time to supply the home demand. Exports of machinery have kept up well, even increasing in some lines, but the heavier forms of iron and steel manufacture have been needed at home. Now, however, the foreign markets are becoming attractive again and there is no reason to doubt the ability of American manufacturers to get their share of them. Some slight reductions of cost may be necessary, but there is a guarantee of continued full employment of labor in the mills.

An Outrageous Hold-Up.

Another example of the way not to do things was given in the failure of the "rump" corporations committee to meet yesterday. That committee has in its possession a number of important measures upon which improvements depend. Some of them have been there for months, particularly the Baltimore & Ohio ordinances, which have been fully approved by the public. While the hold-up continues signs are not wanting of changes in the financial situation that may defeat them altogether, or at least postpone them indefinitely. These ordinances passed promptly would have assured the employment of much labor for more than a year.

It is characteristic of the present political control in Pittsburgh, however, to hold up the public business; to promise things, but never to do them. This do-nothing appears to be common to all branches of the city government, but reaches its lowest terms in those useless appendages, the rump committees of select council. There is a total absence of ability to consider public measures upon their merits; there is a woeful lack of parliamentary and constitutional information, and there is a striking indisposition to put any public interest above private or factional considerations.

If the improvements depending upon the ordinances held by this rump corporations committee are lost to the city the responsibility may easily be placed where it belongs. If Pittsburgh workmen are deprived of employment they should have through changed conditions that may compel an abandonment of the projects under consideration, the blame must be put upon the political hierarchy which has obtained control of the "air-tight combine," as well as of the recognized branches of the municipal government. The hold-up has become familiar during late years, but it is constantly taking on more pernicious qualities.

Canadian Wheat.

There has been a lively discussion recently over the possibility that Canada may take the lead of the United States in wheat growing. The suggestion was born of the rather strong emigration movement from the great spring wheat district of the United States into the Canadian northwest.

Canadian supremacy is not probable. The season in the far north is extremely short and treacherous. There are as good wheat lands adjoining the United States border as in the Dakotas and Minnesota. Those lands have been held very cheap and the Canadian Pacific railroad has offered every possible inducement to settlers in order to build up traffic on its lines. The emigration movement from the United States has been due to the fact that American wheat farmers have been able to sell their farms at high prices and relocate in the best part of the Canadian wheat belt for half the proceeds. In time these Americans will sell again to others who are attracted by their success. Then they may move farther north, but there is no certainty about that. They are more likely to bring their profits back to this country and settle down in a milder climate to enjoy themselves.

The area in Canada that is adapted to wheat growing under the most favorable circumstances is larger than the spring wheat territory south of the border. More than half of that area, however, is subject to occasional bad years, probably one in five. Those who know something of wheat growing will readily understand that one crop failure in five will deplete the profits of the farmer and neutralize all the advantages of cheap land, low taxes and favorable transportation charges. The farmer in that country cannot compete with his American compeer or with his more favorably situated Canadian brother just above the border.

After all it matters little whether the American or Canadian farmers produce the great quantity of wheat. The exertions of both will be required to supply the world's demands in a few years. The rigorous climate of the Canadian northwest will have to be braved and the occasional failure of the crop will fall hardest upon the consuming nations, rather than upon the farmer, who will have to break ice with his plow.

Will Keep Faith.

A Washington dispatch states that pressure has been brought to bear upon President Roosevelt to prevent the calling of an extra session of congress in November. To all representations, however, the president has replied that the extra session will be called. The president authorized Secretary of State Hay to assure the Cuban government that such a session would be held, and he proposes to keep faith with that promise.

In this determination President Roosevelt will have the approval of the great mass of the American people. The United States has an unbroken record for being as good as its word. The American standard in private affairs is that of a man whose word is as sacred as his bond, and that standard must be fully maintained by the nation. There is no information concerning the source of the pressure exerted upon the president to lower the standard of national integrity and honor, but wherever it may be it is not worthy of attention. The idea that the calling of an extra session a month before the regular session will begin may be a factor for evil has very little to support it. There is quite as much reason for believing it may be a powerful factor for good. That is largely for the congress to decide for itself.

There have been times when congress seemed incapable of a patriotic impulse. For weeks and months members of the house and senate—particularly the senate—have threshed out partisan and personal projects to the detriment of public interests, and have brought down public wrath upon the whole congress. But those exhibitions have nearly always been in times of such profound public security that no disturbance could result. At present the temper of congress appears favorable to an orderly procedure and the prompt dispatch of the business in hand. Even former opponents of Cuban reciprocity declare there will be no fight during the extra session, and there is certainly no good reason why there should be. No American interest is going to be jeopardied by keeping faith with Cuba, but on the other hand foundations will be laid for future advantage.

The Business Situation.

The action taken during the week to curtail the production of pig iron and anthracite coal is an open admission of a fact that has been known for some time past, namely, that production was overtaking consumption in some lines of trade. With the latter better organized than ever before it is possible to take concerted action to regulate the supply to the demand and thereby maintain prices. This is a policy that is open to debate, and it remains to be seen whether it can be successfully carried out. If the reduction in the demand merely represents a damming up of orders until such time as money market conditions become favorable enough to float issues of stocks and bonds for the purpose of carrying out improvements, then the temporary curtailment of production is a practicable movement. If, however, the smaller demand is due to higher costs of labor and material, then a policy that would reduce costs and stimulate demand would lead to a resumption of the maximum degree of industrial activity.

The interdependence between Wall street and the business interests of the country—taking Wall street in the broad sense of reflecting the financial condition of the country—is becoming more generally recognized. The managers of the great corporations are bound to keep in close touch with the money market, and regulate their plans accordingly, and no matter whether the money market be stringent from actual scarcity of credit, or whether from a spirit of caution, the effect upon the industries of the country is the same. There will be a contraction. That contraction is now in progress. It has not gone far enough to become a serious consideration, and there should be no uneasiness as to the future, because we have the solid foundation of good crops to build upon, and we have the liquidation of the past year in the stock market that has reduced the inflation in values and removed the menace that was present in the situation a year ago.

So far the falling off in business has been largely confined to financial centers. This is proved by the bank clearings, which show an enormous shrinkage in New York as compared with the corresponding period last year, while at industrial centers like Pittsburgh, there is a slight gain. Railroad gross earnings are also well maintained, and are so evenly distributed as to prove that the movement of merchandise is not confined to any particular section. In the west there is every likelihood that these earnings will continue large. The lateness of the crops has delayed the marketing of the same, but during the past week there has been a larger movement to primary shipping points, and there are indications that exports will increase from this time forward. The decline in sterling exchange, in the face of firmer money markets abroad, is proof that commercial requirements are outweighing purely financial requirements, and gold imports are among the probabilities of the near future.

It is significant of improvement in monetary circles that the advent of October settlements caused no disturbance in money market rates. The latter ruled lower in New York than usual at this season, and the publication of an abstract of the 5,000 national banks of the United States by the comptroller of the currency shows that these institutions are in a better position today than they were at the opening of the fall season last year.

Ahead of American Railroads.

English railways appear to be ahead of American railways in making use of electrical motors. Motor car service is being introduced on the lines, and in addition automobile services are being established in country districts as feeders to the railways. The motor cars that are coming into use are self-propelling cars, run at more frequent periods than trains, and they also stop at many more points than regular trains. In other words, the railways are resorting to electrical railway appliances in order to meet their competition.

American railroads have been slow to move in this direction, but it is not because they do not feel the competition, or are not aware of the economy of electricity as a motive force. The results of substituting electricity for steam as the motive force of the New York elevated railway system are very striking. The gross earnings for three months of 1903, as compared with the same period of 1902, showed an increase of over $400,000, while the expenses decreased nearly $100,000. With steam locomotives the cost per passenger was 2.24 cents; with electricity the cost has been reduced to 1.98 cents, and the diminished cost was accompanied by increased train service, increased capacity, increased speed and increased comfort to the passengers.

The New York elevated roads have, however, the advantage that their tracks are secure against trespass, and that is probably the feature of the case which causes English railway management to appear more progressive than Americans. English railway lines are strictly protected as company property. They are fenced in to an extent far beyond anything known in this country, and people are not allowed upon the roadbed. In this country a railroad line is to a great extent a common highway. People are continually being killed while walking upon it, but while the practice is regarded as risky, it is not thought of as unlawful, and to apply the law of trespass to railway lines as strictly as it is done in England would be a work of considerable difficulty, if not impossible. A railroad that should introduce the electric system of the elevated roads would have a big daily list of casualties from trespassers touching the electrified rail. The English railways are in a position to make experiments from which American railway managers are debarred by circumstances. And as for automobile lines over the country roads as railway feeders, that is out of the question with such roads as are ordinarily found in this country.

IN THE EYE OF FAME.

Albert E. Payne, the well-known English designer of yachts, is dead, aged 54 years. He built 175 yachts in his time.

M. Van Dusee of Manchester, Ia., claims the distinction of being the first creamery butter maker in the world. He is 81 years old.

Leland M. Picks of Calhoun, Mo., claims to have the coat of arms of the Washington family, Washington's official pedigree and a silver watch which formerly belonged to the father of his country.

Henry D. Lloyd, the well-known writer on economic subjects, who died several days ago in Chicago, represented the miners in the hearing before President Roosevelt's commission, and compiled many works on industrial matters.

Mrs. Minnie F. Folliett of Cleveland is the only woman banker west of New York. She has recently opened an institution where women can speculate in stocks. All the employes in the office are women, and girls, instead of boys will mark the boards. Mrs. Folliett was the first woman in the real estate business in Cleveland. She also started the Union Investment Company and was its manager for about three years.

Canadian Reciprocity.

It has been announced recently that another meeting of the joint high commission is likely to be held in the near future. Should this be true a reciprocity treaty should not be an impossible outcome, since the Alaska boundary question, over which the commission split when it last convened, has been submitted to a special tribunal. The longer we refuse reciprocity with the Dominion the greater will be the growth of its manufactures and the less will be the demand of our neighbors for our manufactures.—Philadelphia Ledger.

M'PHERSON'S PRAYER.

Guid Lord, ye'll hear our prayer, I ken,
And send us fair, dry weather
While my ain brither Neil and me
Are making hay together.

And Lord, when a' our hay is hame
(Thanks be we hae a power),
To start the aftergrass alang,
Send down a guid warm shower.

Ye'll hae a lot o' prayers, na doot,
O' ains kind and the ither.
Frae those lang-legged Matthisons,
And Ross, o' Murray River.

Gie to them na attention, Lord,
They be carnal minded shavers,
And make ye muckle trouble, aye,
Be askin' many favors.

Sma' trifles be ma for yir ear,
Tis wark is ower great
To listen to the Matthisons
And a' such bletherers prate.

But me and brither Neil, ye ken,
Hae reverance and fear,
And come na to yir coorts, O Lord,
Scarce more than ance a year.

And while yir lookin' doon on us
Twa sons o' toil and evil,
Scourge well the city boarders, Lord,
The potato bugs and weevil.

But save us frae those maladies
Thou sendest' on the rich,
Sic heathen ills as grip and gout,—
We dinna mind the itch.

The Quiet Observer.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

John Peter was a good sort of fellow, well looked for one not a scholar, and was generally looked up to by his neighbors, all of which he knew, and felt, and acknowledged.

John was a prominent member of the Valley church, and of everything else in which there was talking to be done. Not that he was specially windy, or unusually argumentative, but that he regarded it as being incumbent on him to put in a word wherever and whenever a word was needed. If he didn't put in the right word it was no fault of his, for he would rather have put it in than any other.

John was a believer in prayer as a means for bringing things his way. Nor was he selfish and mean in this, as some are who think they have a pull on someone who has something good to give away.

John's stronghold was in telling people what to do, and when and how, and he was always willing to turn in and help some when they showed a disposition to follow his suggestions. He was particularly strong on health, how to get it and how to keep it.

Once, during a dry spell, John Peter prayed long and strong for rain, and then assured the folks that it would come, and come good and hard.

But straightway went John Peter out without umbrella or rain coat, and the rains came good and hard as he said, and he got soaking wet and was laid up for several days with a severe cold, which he blamed on the Lord, or at very best he regarded it as a special visitation for some unknown purpose.

* * * * *

You may know John Peter, for he lives in your neighborhood. Of course you know him. He isn't very long in a community until he knows everybody and everybody knows him.

John has at least one failing; but who is it that hasn't more? He fails some times to see a joke, no matter how plain, or wide open it may be. In fact he is a little slow in recognizing points, particularly if they are of the finer order.

He says that for the life and soul of him he can't see any joke, or fun, or point in his praying in all good faith for rain and then going out without raincoat or umbrella. And as for his sickness he honestly believes it was sent upon him as a chastisement, or as a trial of his faith. And yet, he scolded his wife sharply for not wearing rubbers when she went out after a rain, as she would be liable to catch a cold that might run into pneumonia and cause her death.

Somehow it doesn't strike him that the Lord sends the rains upon his wife the same as upon him, and that if she gets sick it is as much a special visitation as when sent upon him.

In this John Peter is not alone—not entirely. There is the doctor, for instance. He medicates you, and if you get well he takes the credit of saving your life all to himself; but if you die he solemnly assures your friends that it was the will of God, and no fault of his.

And there are others who do not hesitate to take all the praise to themselves and give the Lord all the blame.

* * * * *

John Peter is prosperous, and has been uniformly successful in business, so much so that he owns more hills and hollows, timber land and farm land than any of his neighbors. He even holds mortgages on nearly all the farms that join him, and on some that join these.

He does not want to close in on any of these, but if anything should make foreclosures necessary he will get the farms all right, which he takes to be an evidence of a friendly foresight on the part of the Lord looking to his interest, for which he is duly thankful.

John Peter has no use for those who are not useful to him, as well as to themselves. To harbor, or encourage such he contends is the worst you can do for them. So, when he finds one who is not getting on right well in the world he passes him along with some good advice, or coldly turns him down just to show his contempt for those who can't make ends meet, with some to spare.

He argues that while the poor should be cared for, the weak helped, and the wants of the needy supplied, there is no good excuse for anyone being poor, or needy, or weak where there are opportunities for all to get along as well as he does. He began life without a cent and has made all he has by what he calls good management.

And yet John Peter believes, or professes to believe, that we are what we were intended to be, and at best or worst are only fulfilling our appointed missions here on earth.

* * * * *

John Peter does not contend that those who are not competent to make fortunes are not fit to live; nor that they should be debarred from doing business. And he willingly concedes their right to live and enjoy life accordingly as they are able. Having had no one to aid him at the beginning of his career he argues that no one needs aid in order to enable him to fulfill his mission in life, let it be what it may.

He attends church regularly, gives willingly but not lavishly, thinks too much preaching is not beneficial, besides it is expensive, and really not necessary where there is good speaking talent among the members of the congregation. Nor does he believe in furnishing churches expensively, as it might lead some to waste money on their houses and cause others to become proud.

In addition to being a leading member of the church he holds a mortgage on it, the interest on which is paid regularly, which he says indicates good business sense on the part of the financial board, of which he is chairman.

In his Sunday talk he advises young men to avoid chewing, smoking or drinking, because these are expensive habits. And he doesn't think it wise to go on excursions, to picnics or to shows, because they are expensive. The sum of his advice is to never go anywhere, or do anything that will make you poorer in purse.

John Peter says he would like to be a millionaire just to show the world that it is possible for a poor country boy to get rich.

* * * * *

One of his neighbors is credited with having said that if John were to devote as much time and effort to adapting himself to ways acceptable as he does to trying to twist them around to fit his case, he would be a more exemplary Christian, and rest better at night.

This criticism may be too harsh for John, but some allowance must be made for the opinions a man holds of the fellow who holds a mortgage on his farm.

John Peter evidently believes that his conduct is right and proper, and that his business methods are strictly within the limits of the law. Nor can he help regarding those who have placed themselves under obligations to him as unfortunates, if not incompetent in a business way, and therefore his inferiors.

He argues and contends that those who have wealth are fit to have it, and the reason that others haven't is because they are not fit to have it. For does not the parable show that the landlord not only commended the servant who had doubled the amount of money entrusted to him, but took away from those who had not made safe and profitable investments of that which he had entrusted to them and gave it to the one who had proven his ability to make money make more money?

This is very conclusive evidence to John Peter that those who haven't wealth are not fit to have it, and that it becomes in a sense the duty of those who are fit to be rich to take that which the unfit have already and make it earn still more.

* * * * *

John Peter is one of the men we cannot help knowing, or knowing of at least, for the reason that he is forever coming in front of us, either in person or in print. And while we may not admire many of his characteristics we cannot help admiring him on account of his genius.

If we go into the philosophy of the man, or rather of the plan on which he is built, we readily see that he is a born money-maker. And not having a liberal training and education, not allowed to indulge his desire for getting money, he has simply grown into what he is. His success in accumulating riches does not indicate superior intellect or common sense.

John Peter catches money because he is a money trap, just as a fish trap catches fish because it is that sort of a trap.

Since his attention is given wholly to business affairs he cannot figure much on plans for disposing of his riches. He even hasn't much time to look after his boys—not as much as they will have to look after his money when he has ceased watching over it.

However, we need men like John Peter to bunch the scattered wealth of the country and make it available for doing business on a larger scale.

There's some use for everybody.

There Are Others.

The fact that Mr. Hanna is baldheaded is not the only reason why his scalp will not dangle at Tom Johnson's belt.—Kansas City Journal.

Talked of in New York

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—It might have been thought that the Democratic city convention last night would clear the way for the fight that is to begin as soon as it is known who all the candidates are for the next election. But it looks as if the disturbance would be worse than ever. You cannot make up your mind because Tammany has carried its point in nominating McClellan for the mayoralty and indorsing the fusion candidates for comptroller and president of the board of aldermen, Grout and Fornes, that is the end of the discussion. If the Republican city convention should meet again and throw Grout and Fornes off the ticket the situation will be as confused as ever it was and every head that bobs up is likely to be hit by someone. Then the threat of W. S. Devery to nominate Grout and Fornes on his independent ticket, with himself at the head for mayor, suggests all kinds of possibilities along political lines this fall. It may be said truly that the fight is a free-for-all and that no one knows who is his enemy or friend. The fact that Kings county has fallen into line with Tammany is the most important peaceful indication there is, and even that may not mean anything in particular when the real battling begins.

Originality in Restaurant Advertising.

One of the Broadway restaurants which advertises daily in a distinctive fashion in the newspapers and has worked up a large clientele by it has a recipe for fried chicken in today's advertisement. The instructions for properly cooking a broiler are too voluminous for reproduction but they seem to be all right. What strikes the reader more than all else in the advertisement is the suggestion, printed conspicuously: "Try this recipe at home and then come here and see how different it is when properly done." New York housewives may stand this, but if such a piece of insolence were printed in Pittsburgh the chances are that a squad of indignant domestic cooks would sweep down upon the place and leave it in such a condition that it could not cook chicken or anything else.

William Rockefeller Is Warned Again.

The skull-and-crossbones anonymous letter writer is busy in the Adirondacks. He has sent a letter of warning to William G. Rockefeller telling him he will be the next. It does not seem that Mr. Rockefeller is much frightened but there is no question that he is angry. Meanwhile, the murderers of Orando P. Dexter are still unidentified.

Thrills for the Morbid Appetite.

A melodrama based on the Van Wormer tragedy and execution is the latest theatrical horror threatened. The success of the Biddle brothers' play in some parts of the country has given an impetus to that sort of playwriting, it seems. This Van Wormer melodrama will make the execution at Dannemora with all the details of the "big" effect it is understood.

Columbia's Expensive New Playground.

Columbia will have a good playground of its own now. The South field, which is bounded by Amsterdam avenue, Broadway, One Hundred and Fourteenth and One Hundred and Sixteenth streets, has been coveted by Columbia for a long time. Several prominent financiers, including Stuyvesant Fish and James Stillman, helped the university and now the trustees have paid $500,000 to the Real Estate Mortgage Company and taken title to the property, subject to mortgages amounting to about $1,500,000. There will be dormitories and academic buildings surrounding a playground on the new holding. There are about nine and a half acres.

Young Watterson a Chip Off the Old Block.

One of the bright young New Yorkers of the present day is Harvey Watterson, son of Henry Watterson, the famous Kentucky editor. The young man is only 24 years of age, but he has made himself a well-known lawyer and now is being talked of as a candidate to represent his assembly district in the state legislature. Like his father, he is a fighter, and also like his father, he is an able orator.

Fay Templeton Has an Adventure.

Fay Templeton, the Saxon actress, came near being kidnaped last night. Two artists went to paint her portrait, but the beauteous and talented Fay is coy. She does not want her picture painted—at least not by these painters. The story goes that the artists tried to speak to her at the stage door of the Casino about midnight, notwithstanding that her mother was with her. Then some brave young fellows of the class which is always on the lookout for champion actresses in distress, sprang upon the artists and gave them big and thick. Miss Templeton will be calm enough to play tonight, according to her press agent.

Ever Money and Take Your Pick.

Betting on the mayoralty election is thus put by the sporting element: "Throw money and take your pick." This looks fair enough. A bet of $1,500 on McClellan, for Democratic nominee for mayor, was made by Joe Vendig last night. Wall street has not troubled itself much about the election as a betting affair so far.

Pittsburghers Journey to Boston.

Pittsburghers who have been sojourning in New York are missed from their accustomed haunts. Most of them are in Boston, watching the Pittsburgh baseball players play Boston. It is only a few hours' run between New York and Boston and when there is a baseball game to be seen with Pittsburgh in it, what could be expected? Of course, no Pittsburgher with the time to spare could stay in Broadway while there is a game on at Boston common.

Electric Cabs Grow in Favor.

The growing favor with which New Yorkers regard automobiles is illustrated in many ways, but in none more than the disdain with which the average woman with the cab habit looks at the horse-driven hansoms which used to find favor in her eyes. She always wants an electric cab, or none at all. The thing moves smoother, whisks around corners more easily, does other vehicles more skilfully, and altogether a better than the old-fashioned cab with its fr'sky horse which may take it into its head to do anything at any moment. Chauffeurs of cabs say their patrons are about equally divided between men and women, but that when a man does hire an electric cab he is pretty sure to have a feminine companion.

Waving the Red Flag.

New Yorkers are suffering from "Sacophobia." That is what they call it. The Italian laborers who stand near excavations with red flags in their hands seems to be there to frighten everyone rather than to keep people out of danger. What the flag means you have no means of knowing, because the man stands there holding it perpetually, whether there is blasting under foot or not. Anyhow, it never seems to save people when the blast is coming in their direction.

The Van Wormers.

The execution of the Van Wormers has deeply moved a large part of the public. The fact that the criminals were brothers, and all young, has impressed imaginations that are not stirred by the putting to death of the ordinary malefactor. There was nothing in the characters of the culprits to call for special sympathy. They were worthless hoodlums and their crime was atrocious. * * * In so far as the outcry against the execution of the Van Wormers is due to a state of mind able to picture to itself with poignant vividness the terrors of the condemned cell and the death watch, but which is unable to reach back to the foully slain uncle, the benefactors of his murderers, that outcry is not entitled to respect. It is pointless and immoral. But to the extent that the protest is intelligently directed against capital punishment as a mode of revenge unworthy of a civilized people it is creditable and useful.

We are by no means yet ready as a community to abandon the death penalty. Let an exceptionally revolting murder be committed, or the victim be some one with strong claims upon the public's sympathy, and see how deeply rooted is the belief that justice demands life for life. But the questioning at once of the rightfulness and expediency of capital punishment, becoming every year more extended and insistent, shows that progress in humane sentiment is being made. That sentiment, entering the jury box, mitigates in administration the law's severity, and, distressing itself among the people, weakens the barbarous impulse to view when wrong is suffered and anger roused. Respecting the Van Wormers, there can be no question that, if capital punishment is right in any case, they deserved their fate as thoroughly as did any miscreants who have gone to the chair in this state.—New York American.

* * * *

The career of the three Van Wormer brothers, on whom the sentence of death was executed at Dannemora, was one of the most slaughterous in the annals of crime. Before the murder of their uncle, Peter Harrenbergh, they had never been convicted of as light an offense as petty larceny; yet they had a bad reputation and lived up to it. For several years they terrorized the simple folk of Greendale by looting their poultry houses, taking their horses to ride and drive, and firing fusillades of revolver shots at anybody who defended his property against their raids. If a farmer threatened to have the law on them he was warned to refrain if he did not want his barns to be burned. It was known the young ruffians would not stick at arson, and the law was never invoked.

The hardened criminal who has done "jobs" and served time could have turned up his nose at the Van Wormers—until they shot to death the uncle who had befriended them and stood as their champion as long as flesh and blood could endure their unregenerateness. And at that act of unprovoked and cold-blooded murder—no less than nine bullets were fired into Peter Hallenbeck's body by his three assailants as he stood in the doorway of his home to defend it—at that atrocity the professional criminal must have held up his hands in amazement on account of its insensate folly.

It is not hard to account for the worthlessness of the Van Wormer boys—they had had no bringing up, they were a law unto themselves, and they had had the use of enough money to indulge their vices; but it is an extraordinary thing that they should end a career of petty crime by a great and hideous one, which they committed with one accord and with as little vestige of mercy as a savage has when he runs amuck. One black sheep in a family is not uncommon; a whole family of black sheep is an anomaly. The law could do nothing else but take their lives for their supreme crime.—New York Evening Sun.

* * * *

The Van Wormer boys are dead. Perhaps it is just as well, for themselves as well as for the rest of the community, but it does not seem that any great harm would have been done if they had been permitted to expiate their crime by life imprisonment. The boys may have been as black as they were painted, but if so the disgrace of it all rests to the Columbia county farmers, who seem, according to all accounts, to have permitted them to rob their farm products systematically without even taking the precaution to buy dog. That they killed their uncle is doubtless true, but how far that uncle can be regarded as the friend and benefactor must be judged in the fact that he foreclosed a mortgage on the house they lived in. There are some people in Columbia county who should feel uncomfortable because of what happened in Dannemora prison.—Brooklyn Times.

* * * *

The three Van Wormer boys who suffered death in the electric chair at Dannemora prison in New York state, as the penalty for the foul murder of their uncle, well deserved their sentence. Although the eldest was only 26 years old and the youngest 20, they had all three lived the life of bandits for years. Honest work was unknown to them. They had imposed great hardship on many persons by their crimes, and showed themselves, in the murder of their uncle, devoid of human feeling. It was a pitiable sight to see three young men suffer death in this way, but it was better for the human race that they should be out of this world.—Philadelphia Press.

* * * *

In permitting the execution of the trio of Van Wormer boys, Gov. Odell showed a strong sense of duty. No doubt he was influenced by the fact that there was no call for commutation of the sentence from the community in which the crime was committed. Not one of the jurors recommended it, and the unanimous opinion of the neighborhood seemed to be that there was no call for the governor's interference.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The War on Smoot.

The good sisters of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, leaving the appointed track of its elected evangelism and taking the chances of letting the country "drink its fool self to death," has been lately chasing the Hon. Reed Smoot, United States senator from Utah, and demanding his expulsion because they believed him a polygamist. Finding, tardily, that Senator Smoot is the orderly and contented husband of one wife, the good sisters have changed their campaign and are now attacking him on the ground that as an apostle of the Mormon church he has taken an oath to it that binds him to an allegiance superior to that involved in his oath to abide, support and defend the Constitution and laws of the United States. We very much fear that these good women are going to wind up in a most ridiculous attitude before the sensible people of the country. Senator Smoot has taken the oath of a senator of the United States and no one in that body questioned his right to do so. He is presumed by the law and by men of common sense to have assumed his obligations of allegiance to the nation and its laws with a clear understanding of what is expected from him. If he should violate those obligations the law prescribes a method for his punishment.—Atlanta Constitution.

ANCIENT ARCH IS UNCOVERED

May Be Subterranean Passage That Extended from Fort Pitt to Old Block House.

LIES UNDER LIBERTY AVENUE

Workmen Find It Digging a Ditch for New Water Main—Mortar Looks Like That of Early Days—Daughters of American Revolution Interested.

Workmen digging a ditch for a new water main in Liberty street yesterday struck what appears to be the arched top of a brick tunnel, five feet under the surface of the street. It is supposed to be the remains of the tunnel that formerly led from the old block house to Fort Pitt, or it may be the foundations of the walls of the fort, or perhaps the foundation of the fort itself.

Michael O'Herron is the contractor who is doing the pipe-laying. O'Herron's foreman's curiosity was aroused by the sudden appearance of the ancient brickwork so far underground, but he was ordered to dig his ditch only to the level stipulated in the contract, and unless Director Edward M. Bigelow of the department of public works interferes, the city water mains will be laid on top of a tunnel, liable to sag at any time and let the pipe down.

The Daughters of the American Revolution are much interested in the find. Many of them were attending a meeting of the Twentieth Century club when The Gazette telephoned news of the supposed discovery. Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon was presiding over a meeting of the club and could not leave, but Miss Kate McKnight and Mrs. John B. Herron went to the scene and obtained specimens of brick and mortar work of the unknown builders.

The Daughters of the American Revolution are wondering whether the brick covers the top of the traditional tunnel, which ran from the block house to Fort Pitt. Tradition says there was such a tunnel, and boys who played about the Point are said to have explored it. When the Duquesne freight station was built the tunnel is said to have been found.

The present discovery was made about 200 feet from Water street in Liberty street, on the east side of the Duquesne freight station. The main ditch for the water main running down Liberty street uncovered the old brickwork, and a cross-ditch exposed another portion.

The wall, tunnel or whatever it is runs diagonally across Liberty street, heading apparently for the Monongahela river. This is the spot on which old Fort Pitt is supposed to have stood.

QUEENS OF EUROPE ARE ASKED TO INTERVENE

American Women Plead the Cause of Suffering Sisters in Macedonia.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Eminent women from every state of the union are signing petitions, one to Queen Alexandra of England and another to the sovereign ladies of other European countries, voicing the horror of the Christian womanhood of America at the bloody massacres and outrages perpetrated by the Turks in Macedonia, and urging these royal ladies to exert their influence to put a stop to the reign of terror in the Balkans.

The petitions are being circulated by an organization which was formed as the result of Lady Henry Somerset's ringing appeal and is officered as follows: President, Mrs. John A. Logan; first vice president, Julia Ward Howe; second vice president, Margaret E. Sangster; third vice president, Mrs. Frederic Schoff, president of the national congress of mothers; secretary, Mrs. George Brandt. The petitions soon will be on their way to Europe. That to the queen of England says in part:

"While the world stands by, not lifting a finger to help; while the world powers are mute and the armies remain at rest and the battleships furl their flags, this evil work goes on. With none to molest him, or make him afraid, the Turk employs his ancient weapons, and sends his brutal soldiery forth to burn and maim and plunder and kill those who in civilized warfare are always exempt, the natural non-combatants, old men, women and little, innocent children. As they gaze wide-eyed and affrighted at their murderers, they make the strongest appeal to all in happier countries who love little children.

"For the sake of those who are persecuted, we appeal to the queens of Christendom to do what they can."

Last Day of G. A. R. Carnival.

It was children's day yesterday at the G. A. This will be the closing day of the carnival. This afternoon the children will again be admitted free to the grounds. The carnival company is to lose one of its nervy women within a short time. Miss DeVere, known in the carnival show as Madame Olivo, yesterday signed a contract with Manager Head of the Loop the Loop to ride the loop next season. She will spend the winter perfecting herself in the new nerve racking work.

FIRST PRIZE AWARDED PITTSBURGH CONCERN

At the Fashion Show Held in Madison Square Garden, New York, Meyer Jonasson & Co., of This City, Awarded First Prize.

At Madison Square Garden this autumn, there was held a unique and instructive fashion show of imported and domestic ladies' wearing apparel, to which the foremost European and American modistes and manufacturers sent goods to be exhibited. A number of prizes for specified articles were offered, and the jury of awards gave the first prize for a walking suit to Meyer Jonasson & Co. This is at present exhibited in the window of their store in Sixth street.

This suit represents the acme of workmanship, and the elegant simplicity of its lines and the perfection of style which it represents is patent to the most casual observer. In material it is a light weight kersey, in one of the newest shades of gray. It is made with a three-quarter length coat, tight-fitting, but with an under plait in the tail, which does away with the unpleasant tightness observable in so many three-quarter models. The sleeves are the severe coat shape with a plain turnback cuff of the same material. The collar and lapels are small, plain regulation coat style, the collar having a covering of black velvet. The coat closes with a fly. The skirt is a perfectly plain style without yoke or any decoration at the foot.

The beauty and unique value of the suit lies in its strapping. It is strapped on both jacket and skirt with narrow quarter-inch strappings of the same material, and so skillfully are these strappings applied that there is not a seam visible anywhere. The strappings are applied with exquisite conformation of the curves of the figure, and at no place are they farther than an inch to an inch and a half apart. Of course they are applied lengthwise the garments.

The suit, as it stands, is a valuable lesson in the art of tailoring and an exponent of the degree of perfection which may be reached in that art.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

SEEK A LARGER EXPORT TRADE

United States Steel Corporation Believed to Be Preparing for an "Invasion."

MEANING OF WAGE CHANGE

Proposition Somewhat Similar to the American Tin Plate Plan Will Be Made to the Employes About January 1, It Is Believed.

An export steel business to exceed any export business the country has ever done in this or similar lines is said by those in a position to know to be the plan of the United States Steel Corporation. Those who make this statement connect it closely with the posting of the notices at the Carnegie Steel Company's mills and furnaces that the company will readjust wages on January 1.

Details are not yet to be had, but the belief is that a general plan to secure lower wages for work on steel intended for export, similar to the plan put into effect on the business of the American Tin Plate Company supplanting imported plate is the scheme which will be announced later. When the corporation's plans are in shape for the announcement of this intention the matter will be taken up with the men in the regular way.

Americans Can Command Trade.

It is being admitted that the American ironmasters have brought the cost of producing steel for export trade in nearly all lines down to such a point that they will be strong competitors in foreign lands with the products of much cheaper labor there. This is due largely to labor-saving machinery and the possession of higher grade ores and better coke. The Iron Trade Review has recently gone into the matter extensively. It points out that with 63 per cent Mesaba ore at $4 per ton at lower lake docks, the cost per ton of pig iron is only a trifle above $6. The record of a South Wales producer of pig iron from Spanish ore shows 23.808 tons of ore for 15.496 tons of pig, or 1.78 tons of ore per ton of pig. This ore is quoted at Cardiff at a price that means $6.28 per ton of pig.

Standard Connellsville coke costs less than $2.75, delivered at Pittsburgh, where as the best furnace coke at Middlesborough is quoted at $3.75, and in South Wales at $4.38. The purer ore used in the American furnace also needs less coke. The American furnaces are at great advantage on account of the larger use of automatic machinery.

Costs Are Kept Down.

In the conversion of pig iron into steel the American works have the advantage, first on account of the lower cost of fuel and secondly because there is much less labor required in the American than in the English plants. In many finished iron and steel products a large trade exists now. It is the purpose to extend this greatly.

It is pointed out that there will be considerable expense in building up the export trade such as comes of necessity with exploiting new markets. The fact that one great company in the United States would do this work and that the bulk of the benefit would of necessity come to this one concern, encourages this work. The lack of united action on the part of the trans-Atlantic producers would necessitate individual work in opening markets the fruits of which might be enjoyed by others.

The posting of the notice at the Carnegie plants has been responsible for numerous reports in addition to the one regarding the intention to build up an export trade. These reports caused a statement to be issued yesterday by Judge E. H. Gary, chairman of the executive committee of the United States Steel Corporation. He repeats that the notice is called for by the agreement with the men, that there have been no changes for two years, and says: "The notice does not necessarily mean that wages will be decreased or increased in any particular line. The matter will be mutually considered at the proper time."

SOUTHERN FURNACES TO REDUCE ONE-FOURTH

Meeting in Birmingham Suggests 25 Per Cent Restriction Before December 31.

Practically the entire pig iron production of the country is now under promise of reduction. The furnacemen last to make the agreement were those of the south. At a meeting in Birmingham yesterday these also were brought into line, and the following notice was issued:

"At a meeting held today of a majority of the southern pig iron producers it was suggested that in view of the present overproduction, the output of pig iron in the southern district be reduced approximately 25 per cent of their respective capacities during the quarter ending December 31, 1903, by the voluntary action of the producers. A committee was appointed to see furnace interests not in attendance at the meeting and report at a meeting to be held at an early date.

While the proposition is put as a "suggestion," those who have watched the situation believe it is certain to be carried.

The action of the Pittsburgh and central west, as well as the eastern furnaces, has already been told in The Gazette. The committee to settle finally the local production meets here Monday or Tuesday.

PRESIDENTIAL BOOM STARTED FOR SETH LOW

President Harper of University of Chicago Places New York in the Big Class.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—President Harper of the University of Chicago started a boom for the presidency of the United States on behalf of Mayor Seth Low of New York today. The New York chief executive was to address the students of the university in Kent hall, and when President Harper stepped forward to introduce the distinguished visitor he said:

"We once had with us in this hall a governor, McKinley, who became president of the United States. Later we had with us a police commissioner, Roosevelt, who became president of the United States. Today we have with us the mayor of a great city, and may he not also become president of the United States?"

The last words of the speaker were drowned in the yells of the students and it was several minutes before Mayor Low could check the vociferous cheering.

Girl Arrested on Robbery Charge.

Margaret Smith, aged 18, of Homestead, was arrested by Constable J. J. Cavanaugh of Homestead yesterday on a charge of stealing a diamond ring and $65 from Nicholas Keser, an Italian shoemaker of Library street, Braddock. The robbery, it is alleged, occurred several weeks ago while the Italian was absent from his shop.

Mass Meeting to Decide on Division.

A mass meeting of the citizens of Swissvale will be held this evening to decide on the division of the borough into wards. At present there is but one voting precinct. The two schools are overcrowded and a new building will have to be erected soon.

BALFOUR ANNOUNCES MILNER'S DECLINATION

General Does Not Feel Himself Able to Accept Colonial Secretaryship.

[Associated Press Cable to The Gazette.]

SHEFFIELD, ENGLAND, Oct. 2.—The attendance today at the conference of the Conservative associations was much smaller than yesterday. The irreconcilable differences in the party on the fiscal question were again emphasized in the debate, and, ultimately, in the interest of unity, Henry Chaplin, M. P., a lifelong protectionist, withdrew his "rider," moved yesterday (thanking Joseph Chamberlain, the former colonial secretary, for his patriotic efforts and expressing approval of any practical scheme to promote a closer political and commercial union of the empire), and thereupon Sir John E. Dorington's official resolution of yesterday was carried unanimously.

Premier Balfour addressed the delegates. He announced that Lord Milner did not feel himself able to accept the colonial secretaryship. Mr. Balfour went on to say that recent events had not substantially divided the party; but they had divided the government, and the parting of old friends had been accompanied by regret. Both those who went and those who stayed were devoted to the Unionist party, the government and the empire. They had lost the greatest colonial minister the country had ever seen. His services could not be exaggerated. He had to leave Mr. Chamberlain to express his own views, which did not differ a hair's breadth from his (Mr. Balfour's).

Although Lord Milner had declined the colonial secretaryship, Mr. Balfour added, he was in entire agreement with the government on its imperial and domestic policy.

SIXTH CHURCH TO DEDICATE HOME

Wylie Avenue U. P. Church Will Celebrate Its Reopening by Holding a Reunion.

A. M. P.'S 75TH ANNIVERSARY

Oldest Church of That Denomination Hereabouts to Hold Interesting Services Tomorrow—The Coming Methodist Episcopal Conference.

Services of unusual interest will stir the church life of Pittsburgh for the next few days. The handsome new Sixth Presbyterian church at Forbes and Murray avenues, Squirrel Hill, will be dedicated tomorrow. The Wylie Avenue United Presbyterian church will be reopened tomorrow, and the congregation of the First Methodist Protestant church will celebrate the 75th anniversary of their church life.

The cornerstone of the new First Presbyterian church will be laid next Wednesday at noon, and the West Pittsburgh United Presbyterian church will lay its cornerstone this afternoon. The interest of the Methodist Episcopals centers in the annual Pittsburgh conference, which will be held next week in the Emory church, East End, beginning on Wednesday.

At the dedication of the handsome new Sixth Presbyterian church tomorrow morning the dedicatory sermon will be preached by the pastor, the Rev. J. Shane Nicholls. A symposium by three former pastors, the Rev. Henry T. McClelland, D. D.; the Rev. Harlan G. Mendenhall, D. D., and the Rev. John F. Patterson, D. D., will take place in the evening. Services will be held for the following eight days, at which pastors from Pittsburgh and other cities will preach. The new edifice is among the handsomest in the city. Its cost approximates $300,000, and the seating capacity of the main auditorium is 850. The building is an imposing structure of English gothic architecture and modern in every way. The congregation worshiped in its old church on Franklin and Townsend streets until two years ago.

Reopening of an Old Church.

Services celebrating the reopening of the Wylie Avenue United Presbyterian church will be held tomorrow morning and evening. Many members of other churches were formerly members of the Wylie avenue church and a feature of the services will be a reunion, at which a large number are expected to be present. The pastor, the Rev. William H. Knox, is in the 42nd year of his pastorate. He is the oldest Pittsburgh pastor in point of continuous service, and with the exception of the Rev. David Barclay, D. D., of the Hebron church, is the oldest in continuous service in the Monongahela presbytery.

The First Methodist Protestant church of Pittsburgh, the Rev. Robert J. Young, pastor, will celebrate the 75th year of its church life tomorrow. The First church is also the oldest of this denomination, and its history from the time of the separation from the Smithfield Street Methodist Episcopal church in 1828 until the present day is interesting.

The congregation now worships in a fine edifice at Aiken avenue and Howe street, where the Pittsburgh members went to worship when the historic old church in Fifth avenue was sold about 11 years ago. The Allegheny members of the congregation formed the Trinity church of Allegheny. The churches are still under one board of trustees, who have charge of the properties of the two churches, while the internal affairs of the congregations are administred separately.

Two Churches to Join in an Election.

The first election of trustees under the charter was held on the first Monday of October, 1828. Next Monday, the first Monday in October, 1903, the congregation of the Trinity Methodist Protestant church of Allegheny will meet with the First church and hold the annual election of the board of trustees. The Rev. J. J. Murray, D. D., who has retired from the ministry, and the Rev. David Jones, D. D., of East Liverpool, O., formerly president of Adrian college, will be present and take part in the services. They have each held long pastorates with the "Old Home Church," as the First church was formerly known.

The corner stone of the new First Presbyterian church, Sixth avenue and Wood street, will be laid next Wednesday at noon by the pastor, the Rev. Maitland Alexander, D. D. The devotional exercises will be conducted by the Rev. David B. Breed of the Western Theological seminary.

The annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal ministers of the Pittsburgh conference will open next Wednesday in the Emory church, East End. Bishop W. F. Mallalieu of Boston, Mass., will preside at the sessions and also make the changes in pulpits. Several desirable churches have to be supplied and many changes will be necessary. The members of the Emory church have completed arrangements for the care of the several hundred visitors. The lay delegates will hold their convention in the East Liberty Presbyterian church Friday morning, at which five delegates to the general conference will be elected.

The Protestant Episcopal church of the Ascension, Carnegie, the Rev. W. E. Allen, pastor, is to renovated and considerably enlarged this fall. The church building will be raised and lengthened 16 feet. Other additions are also contemplated. The money has been raised and the work will be started at once.

The Rev. E. M. Wood, D. D., pastor of the Fifth Avenue Methodist Episcopal church, will read a complete history of the organization at the services tomorrow morning.

Second Church's Centennial.

Invitations to the centennial celebration of the Second Presbyterian church, October 18-20, will be given out to the members at the services tomorrow morning. The services promise to be interesting and many historical facts in connection with the growth of Pittsburgh will be brought out.

The corner stone of the new West Pittsburgh United Presbyterian church will be laid this afternoon at 3 o'clock with appropriate services. The pastor, the Rev. J. G. Reamey, will have charge of the ceremonies. The Rev. R. Thompson will lay the corner stone. The address of the afternoon will be made by the Rev. J. E. Wishart of Ingram. A history of the church will be read by R. A. Church, and the Rev. P. J. Scott will give the prayer.

The Rev. William J. Reid, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church will conduct the sabbath school teachers' meeting in the rooms of the Young Men's Christian association, Penn avenue and Seventh street, at noon today.

The Baptist Young People's union will hold a rally in the Wilkinsburg Baptist church tomorrow evening. The Rev. John M. Moore is pastor.

The Standard Bearers of the Pittsburgh Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold a rally in the Oakland Methodist Episcopal church this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Miss Norma Penderick, the missionary supported by the Standard Bearers, will address the gathering.

Somerset Teacher Dead in Luzon.

Miss Daisy Mable Vogel, daughter of the Rev. Dr. Peter Vogel of Somerset, Pa., died last Monday at Baliuag, province of Bulacan, Southern Luzon. Word of her death was received by the family of David H. Stoner of Beech avenue, Allegheny. Miss Vogel and her sister, Miss Ella K. Vogel, were among the teachers who went from the United States to the Philippines to organize the schools two years ago. Miss Vogel's mother arrived in the Philippines on August 14 and found her daughter ill. Miss Vogel was instructor in music and literature in the high school at Baliuag. Previous to going to the Philippines she was a teacher in Porto Rico. Her parents and three sisters survive.

COSTLY AND EXQUISITELY CARVED BUDDHIST SHRINE

Wonderful Piece of Oriental Work on Exhibition at a Pittsburgh Store.

IT IS FROM KYOTO, JAPAN

Was Taken from the Temple of Kiyomiza, Where It Was Placed Over 200 Years Ago—Made by Celebrated Eastern Sculptor.

A shrine where 10 generations of Buddists have worshiped the sacred idol of the Japanese, stands idly in the corner of the warerooms of a local art dealer. Nearly $20,000 worth of gold and silver is represented in the exquisite carving which the pious disciples had wrought upon their altar, but the treasure stands now surrounded by vases and tea cups and commands no interest beyond the fact that it is a curio of great value.

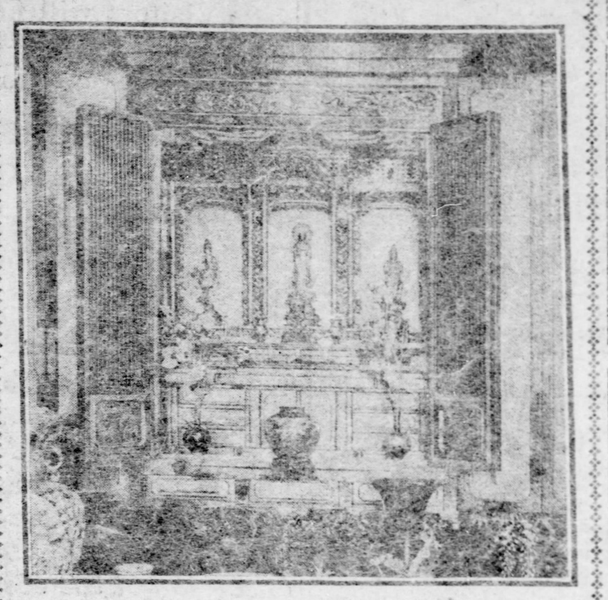
It is not often that the Buddhists will allow the penates of their religious houses to be dragged off to a Christian land, and visitors to the art store have been accorded privileges in viewing the shrine which could be obtained only by an extensive journey across the Pacific. "If the carved piece is not sold it will be sent to the Louisiana purchase exposition at St. Louis next year and placed with other relics of Buddhism.

The shrine was brought to America by Shimamura & Co., importers of Japanese art work, who have just opened a retail store at Wood and Diamond streets. It was taken from the temple of Kiyomiza, Kyoto, where it had been placed more than 200 years ago. It is the work of the celebrated Japanese sculptor, Buttshi Takagi. Inside a magnificent case of kinchi wood are rich chambers of priceless ornamental work. The case is about the size of an ordinary office safe and is provided with double doors of gold and bronze.

Inside is a figure of Buddha about eight inches in height, finely carved and covered with gold in extra heavy leaf. On each side is a figure of the god of mercy, also wrought by hand and covered with gold.

Over the doors and around the cabinets are dragons carved from solid pieces of copper. An inlaid shelf is provided for the worshiper's prayer book, and a score of small drawers are provided for books and as receptacles for manuscripts. In front of the figure of Buddha stands a large incense burner.

It was customary in Japan for wealthy families to donate a memorial shrine to the temple upon the death of some esteemed member. No greater sacrifice to religion could be made than this, and the shrine which Shimamura & Co. have secured at the time it was made would have cost almost the entire fortune of a Japanese nobleman. It native coin a two-horse team would have been required to haul the price of this richly carved altar.



Buddhist Shrine Before Which 10 Generations of Japanese Worshiped.

PERFECTING THE PLANS FOR ORCHESTRA SEASON

Victor Herbert in Pittsburgh With Much Opera Work to Do.

Victor Herbert arrived in Pittsburgh from New York yesterday and will remain for about five days perfecting plans for the coming season of the Pittsburgh orchestra. Mr. Herbert is also busy on several new operas and important orchestrations which will keep him hard at work during the winter. The conductor says the coming season will be the best of any, and many prominent soloists will be here to appear at the performances.

Mr. Herbert while in New York was working with Harry B. Smith, the librettist, with whom he is collaborating on a new opera for Miss Fritzi Scheff, the grand opera singer. This opera is to be produced in November, will be of a much higher grade than the regular run of comic operas and will contain many musical numbers of magnitude. In the cast will be Eugene Cowles, the great basso, and Louis Harrison will be one of the comedians.

The piece will be produced by Charles B. Dillingham, and the latter has secured, at Mr. Herbert's request, the services of John Lund as a conductor. Mr. Lund is a prominent conductor and lives in Buffalo. For many years he was the director of the Buffalo Symphony society. He will direct the music in Fritzi Scheff's opera during its entire run.

The composer is greatly elated over his success with "Babes in Toyland," which was seen in Pittsburgh recently. This opera is now in Washington, where it was enthusiastically received. It gets its first New York presentation on October 12. In addition to the Scheff opera, Mr. Herbert is writing one for De Wolfe Hopper, the comedian, which will be produced next spring. Plans are being laid for a successor by Mr. Herbert, and produced by the same management, Hamlin & Mitchell, to "Babes in Toyland." This work will be heard first in Chicago next summer.

Few Bankruptcy Cases.

The records in the United States district court show the smallest number of bankruptcy cases filed in any period of six months since the present law was passed. In the last half year 128 petitions were filed, 28 being involuntary. The term ending March, 1900, with 353 cases, has the record as the largest. Since the law went into effect 2,265 cases have been filed in this district.

Sewing as a business is an exacting and exhausting occupation. Long hours, fine work, poor light, unhealthy atmosphere—these are only some of the things which fret the nerves and hurt the general health. Often there is a diseased condition of the womanly organism which causes backache or headache and the working of the sewing machine under such conditions is akin to torture.

Thousands of women who work have written grateful letters to Dr. R. V. Pierce, whose "Favorite Prescription" has cured their womanly ills and established their general health. "Favorite Prescription" establishes regularity, dries unhealthy and offensive drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free, and so avoid the indelicate questionings, offensive examinations and obnoxious local treatments deemed necessary by some physicians. All correspondence private. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I take great pleasure in recommending Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for female weakness," writes Mrs. Susannah Permenter, of Pauis Store, Shelby Co., Texas. # TWELVE MILLIONS TO BE EXPENDED

WANT IT ALL FOUR-TRACKED

Block Signal System and Improvements in Roadbed Are Also Requested—The Line Is to Be Changed at Several Places.

Improvements on the Pittsburgh division of the Pennsylvania railroad for 1904 will cost $12,000,000. The "appropriation extraordinary" has been made out for this division and will be submitted to General Manager W. W. Atterbury after having been passed upon by General Superintendent G. W. Creighton. It will then come before the board of directors.

This is the largest appropriation ever asked for by a single division of the Pennsylvania system for maintenance work. The amount asked for last year, $8,000,000, was about 50 per cent above that of the previous year, so that for the three years ending December, 1904, nearly $25,000,000 will have been spent. This will be exclusive of the present passenger terminals, the Brilliant cut-off and much of the heaviest construction work on the main line, which was handled by Chief Engineer Brown. In addition to the $12,000,000 appropriation for 1904 the chief engineer will spend perhaps an additional $5,000,000 on the Pittsburgh division for new stations, completion of the Packsaddle route and the elimination of curves, grades, etc.

How Money Will Be Spent.

This enormous expenditure will cover track improvements, four-track extension, roadbed work, block signals, buildings, rails, small yards, minor changes of line, etc. One of the largest items will be that of making the entire division from Pittsburgh to Altoona, a distance of 119 miles, four-tracked.

From year to year short stretches have been built of third and fourth track by the division officials and the chief engineer until the work had reached such a point that the superintendent of the division has asked that all of the distance be made four track.

As to the change of line, which will require the purchase of right of way, nothing has yet been given out. The changes to be made between here and Wilkinsburg will be done under the direction of the chief engineer.

Another large item is that of installing the electro-pneumatic automatic signals over the entire system except between Bolivar and Mineral Point, a distance of 18 miles. This will be a large undertaking, requiring the building of a number of power plants to supply the air and electricity.

Tracks of the P. R. R.

The number of tracks on the division between Pittsburgh and Altoona, briefly stated, is as follows: From Pittsburgh to Stewart, 17 miles, four tracks; from Stewart to Larimer, 5 miles, third and fourth tracks under construction; from Larimer to Greensburg, four tracks; from Greensburg to Beatty, 7 miles, second, third and fourth tracks to be asked for; Beatty to Latrobe, 2 miles, four tracks, just completed; from Latrobe to Derry, 5 miles, four tracks; from Derry to Blairsville intersection, 7 miles, four tracks; from Blairsville intersection to Bolivar junction, 5 miles, third and fourth tracks under construction; from Bolivar junction to Sheridan, 3 miles, third and fourth tracks asked for; from Sheridan to AO block, 6 miles, four tracks; from AO block to South Fork, 5 miles, third and fourth tracks to be asked for; from South Fork to Wilmore, 4 miles, new four-track system under construction; from Wilmore to Portage, 2 miles, four tracks; from Portage to Lilly, 4½ miles, three tracks, fourth to be asked for; from Lilly to Altoona, 17 miles, four tracks.

The electric system now extends from Pittsburgh to Donohoe and from Altoona to Cresson. A line is being built from Cresson to Wilmore and the appropriation asks for a further extension from Wilmore to Mineral Point, six miles, and from Donohoe to Bolivar, 23 miles.

BAY STATE REPUBLICANS HAVE NAMED THEIR TICKET

Governor and Lieutenant Governor Were Nominated to Succeed Themselves.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

BOSTON, MASS., Oct. 2.—The Massachusetts Republicans held their state convention today and renominated John L. Bates for governor. The nomination was made by Senator Hoar, and Secretary of the Navy Moody renominated Lieut. Gov. Guild.

The rest of the ticket was nominated by acclamation and is as follows: Secretary of state, William N. Olin, Boston; treasurer, Edward P. Bradford of Springfield; auditor, Henry E. Turner of Malden; attorney general, Herbert Parker of Lancaster.

Gov. Bates made an address after which the state platform was read and adopted.

The platform indorses the administration of President Roosevelt and reaffirms the party's belief in protection and announces that whenever the industrial conditions of the country require a readjustment of the tariff, the work should be undertaken by the Republican party.

TILLMAN DIDN'T WISH FAIR FIGHT

DAMAGING EVIDENCE GIVEN

Personal Friends of Former Lieutenant Governor of South Carolina Say He Repeatedly Threatened to Kill Gonzales on Sight.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LEXINGTON, S. C., Oct. 2.—The testimony today was all against James H. Tillman as it came from two of his close political friends. Dr. E. C. Adams of Columbia, who supported Tillman for governor, voted for him and served under him in the Spanish war, testified that during the campaign last summer when Gonzales was attacking Tillman Dr. Adams went to Tillman and told him that he could never hope to be governor of South Carolina if he did not fight Gonzales.

"That won't do," replied Tillman. "I am lieutenant-governor, and I would be impeached. But, by God, you boys need not worry. I will snuff out his life with this." Tillman drew his pistol. He added that he had been walking the streets for Gonzales. Dr. Adams asked him why he did not go to the office of Gonzales.

"I wouldn't get fair play," he answered.

"I will go with you," replied the doctor, "and see that you do get fair play."

Tillman declined the offer. At that time there had been some talk of a duel between Tillman and Gonzales. Someone in the crowd read from "The State" that it would be all mock theatrical.

"You may call it mock theatrical if you will," said Tillman, "but I will make it the d——st tragedy that every happened in South Carolina."

T. J. Terrill, editor of the Johnson Monitor, published in Tillman's home county, a close friend of Tillman, testified to threats against the life of Gonzales made by Tillman. The first was made on the streets of Edgefield. Tillman told him that he was going to run for governor and would be elected.

"And if Gonzales goes for me," said Tillman with several oaths, "I will go down to Columbia and kill him like a dog."

The second threat was made on a train going to Columbia after the election. Terrell was in the smoking compartment of the car. Tillman entered and said he was going to do what he said and would put a stop to that fellow slandering him. The third threat Mr. Terrell testified to was made on the main street in Columbia in the presence of several people, including a reporter of the State. Tillman pointed to the newspaper building and declared that the scoundrel there had attacked him and he had enough of it. He advised the newspaper man to go tell Gonzales.

CORBIN AND CHAFFEE TO EXCHANGE PLACES

Gen. Young, Chief of Staff, Makes Explanation of Important Army Order.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Maj. Gen. Corbin, adjutant general of the army, is to be assigned to the command of the department of the east, with headquarters at Governors island, New York.

The order for Gen. Corbin to assume command of this department will take effect at once. An order also has been prepared directing Gen. Chaffee, now commanding the department of the east, to take station in the war department for the purpose of familiarizing himself with the duties of chief of staff, which he will become when Gen. Young retires in January.

In explanation of the transfer of the two officers, Gen. S. B. M. Young, chief of staff, today issued the following:

"With a view to enable Maj. Gen. Chaffee to become familiar with the duties vested by law in the chief of staff, and to ascertain the present condition of the military establishment, before entering upon their active performance, the president has directed that he be ordered to duty in the war department as assistant to the chief of staff, and that Maj. Gen. Corbin be assigned to command the department of the east. This assignment, which is in accordance with the wishes of Gen. Corbin, is intended as a recognition of the eminent services rendered by him in the important office of adjutant general during the war with Spain and the subsequent operations in China and the Philippine islands, and is made with a view to obtaining the benefit of his great administrative and executive ability in the command of the largest and most important military department in the United States. Advantage will be taken of the assignment to secure the close and harmonious co-operation of officers commanding troops in carrying into effect the new methods of administration, which have been made necessary by the establishment of a general staff."

BROTHER AIDS WM. L. HARTLEY

Tells Story of Injury Which Witness Claims Caused Brain Trouble.

SHOT A MAN AT OLDTOWN

Boarding Mistress Says When Drunk He Would Curse God for His Mother's Death—Jumped from Second Story of the Jail.

The Hartley murder case went to the jury at 5:15 last night, and it was still out when court adjourned at 6 o'clock.

Mrs. Annie Robinson, of No. 2826 Larkins alley, with whom Hartley had boarded, said he was not himself at times and would sit and swear to himself. He did not act like a sane man when he was drunk, which was about twice a week.

Mrs. John Moffatt of No. 2842 Mary street, testified that Hartley was boarding with her when he shot Johnston. She said he would fly into a passion over trivial matters. The night of the fight with Johnston he went home greatly excited. He was intoxicated. He drank more or less all the time, and when drunk would curse God for having taken his mother, to whom he was most devoted.

Rudolph Hartley, a brother, told the story of an injury received by the prisoner almost 10 years ago. Before that he had been a quiet man; afterwards he was vicious at times. When these moods seized the prisoner the witness was afraid of him and left the house. He admitted that his brother had been hit by a man named Peter Twigg, near Oldtown, Md., in 1895, and the next morning he shot him. The witness saw his brother two days before the shooting at Glenwood. He was making threats then against a brother-in-law, and when remonstrated with threatened the witness.

Edward Lewis, warden of the jail, testified that Hartley had once jumped from the second tier to the floor. Alarmed by hearing that Hartley had asked other prisoners about the location of the jugular vein, he had him searched and the handle of a spoon, well sharpened, was found in his shoe.

Attorney H. Lee Christy, for the defense, claimed that Hartley was not sane, the injury to his head having unbalanced his mind. District Attorney Haymaker held that Hartley was sane and was naturally bad.

Judge Shafer said there was little direct evidence of insanity. He called the attention of the jurors to the evidence on this point and said it should be carefully looked into. They must consider whether Hartley meant to kill or not and must be satisfied that he is insane before they could acquit him.

CARSON SAYS HIS WIFE PUT HIM OUT OF HOUSE

Opposes Her Application to Be Declared a Femme Sole Trader.

Alexander Carson has filed an answer to the petition of his wife, Sarah J. Carson, who asks to be declared a femme sole trader. He denies the charges of refusing to work, of drinking and of neglect. They were married in 1886 at the Bank Exchange hotel, which Mrs. Carson owned, and separated in 1900. Until February 26, 1894, Carson conducted the Bank Exchange hotel and the Hotel Carson. Both these hotels were sold, Carson says, and the money invested in Mrs. Carson's name. In addition to this, he declares, they accumulated other property, in all about $80,000. Since 1894, when he sold out his business, he has had no steady employment, but asserts that he paid attention to their common property. He accuses his wife of denying him his property and marital rights, of shifting him from one room to another until his bed was in the basement, and of finally taking this away and putting him out of the house, practically. A jury trial is demanded.

The case of Olive Sharpe against the Crucible Steel Company of America is being hotly contested, as there are four others pending that are dependent on the same issues. Marron & McGirr represent the plaintiffs, while Explosive Engineer W. A. Stone is actively engaged for the defendant company. The action arises from a boiler explosion in the Singer & Co. mills on December 21, 1901, in which four lives were lost, four widows pressing their claims for damages. Olive Sharpe's husband was among the number and the plaintiff contends the accident was due to a defective flue of which the company was aware, but failed to repair owing to the press of business.

DONAHOE INDICTED.

Grand Jury Finds True Bills Against Councilman for Selling Liquor Illegally.

The grand jury returned true bills yesterday against Select Councilman Peter J. Donahue and Edward Schmershall, on charges of selling liquor illegally at No. 315 Liberty avenue. These cases, with one of a like charge against John Koch, were returned by Constable Peter Noek last June, but the Koch case was ignored.

Judge Shafer excused the grand jury until November 9. They will then reconvene for a few days.

A true bill for murder was found against Antonio Romio. Domecio Cuntarato and Mrs. Carmelso Tommaso were held as accessories.

Other bills found were as follows:

Aggravated assault and battery: Tony Lolick and Samuel Bowers; larceny, Thomas Riley, Max Frommel, Henry Williams, Fred Taylor; fraudulently making a written instrument, M. M. Bunting; false pretense, H. E. Hager; assault and battery, Woodson Jeffries, Samuel Block (2), Nellie Block, Philip Jacobs (2), Joseph Witkoski et al.; embezzlement, Fred Adolph, Jr., J. H. Douthitt, Charles M. McDonald, A. F. Bacon; libel, Martha J. Virgin; selling liquor illegally, Robert Moreland; burglary, William Miller (3); felonious assault and battery, Samuel Jones; misdemeanor, Charles H. Stimple, C. C. Pfordt, A. Lavineon, M. Levinson, M. Brand, William Boldon, W. H. Shaffer, G. B. Henderson, Ben Silverman, Henry Rogers, H. Wehrle, Jr., Charles Beutzel, O. Liggett, E. S. Kuhn, H. P. Kuhn, George Ferguson, William Furrman, George J. Krohe, C. Samuel Anderson.

Sixteen of these bills charging misdemeanor are against grocers charged with violating the pure food laws.

A bill charging Charles Groggins with murder was ignored, but he was held on a charge of manslaughter. He is alleged to have killed William Bliss during a scuffle at McKeesport in which the latter received a broken neck.

By an error in the writing of the true bills returned on Thursday, John F. Fahey, the constable making the charge of illegal liquor selling against Mary Altmyer, was made the defendant in the case.

LEGAL BRIEFS.

Before Judge J. M. Kennedy John Mosca, charged with felonious assault and battery by Mary Brannigan, who alleged he shot her son Martin in the hip, was acquitted.

James R. Sager was awarded $1,250 damages in his suit against the George A. Fuller Company. A broken scaffold in an elevator shaft of the Frick building caused him to fall 40 feet.

Frederick Oehmichen, late of Pittsburgh, leaves an $25,000 estate to his wife, Rosina; Anna M. Woodward, late of Pittsburgh, leaves an estate of unknown value to her husband, Marcus A.

Louisa C. Holding has sued the Pittsburgh Steeplechase & Amusement Company for $5,000 damages. She says that while alighting from a boat at the "Old Mill" another collided, causing her to fall and break three ribs.

Anna Remeley has sued the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for $15,000 for personal injuries alleged to have been received at the Union depot by stepping into a hole while alighting from a train on December 25, 1901.

Anthony Morello and wife have entered suit against the Pittsburgh Coal Company to recover $10,000 damages for the death of their son, George, caused by the latter being injured at Bridgeville in September 2, 1903, while unloading cars for defendant company.

Charles and Bernard Byers were tried in juvenile court on a charge of felonious assault and battery on Myrtle Beck, 10 years old, at Avalon. Charles Byers is to be placed in the Avery College Trade school, and his mother is to pay $1 a week for his support. Bernard Byers was sent to jail for 30 days. Mike Clark, John Spratt, M. Gardner, L. Wagner, Louis Finkelstine and Mike Foley were charged with vagrancy. It is said they refuse to stay at home and sleep in wagons. Mike Clark and John Spratt were committed to the care of their parents and the rest were held for further investigation. Georgia Bastian, a girl of 13, was given into the care of George F. Zimmer, under the supervision of the probation officers, as is said to be incorrigible.

BEIRUT REFUGEES KINDLY TREATED

In Neighboring Province of Lebanon They Found Protection and Food.

OFFICIALS REASSURED THEM

But for Some Time They Feared to Return to Their Homes—Thousands Camped Out and Seemed Almost to Enjoy the Situation.

(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)

BEIRUT, SYRIA, Monday, Sept. 14.—When the raid of the Moslems began in Beirut on Sunday morning, Sept. 6th, the Christians fled from the city leaving their houses to be pillaged. The Lebanon district, a Christian province, stretching down to the limits of the city, assured them a place of safety and thither the Christians rushed in a panic. By Sunday night thousands had gathered on the Lebanon plain just outside of Beirut and made their way up into the mountain villages.

On Wednesday a proclamation was posted on the mosques and other public buildings, directing the merchants to open their stores and the people to resume their occupations, but the stores did not open and the people who had fled showed no purpose of returning.

A little railroad runs out from Beirut through the villages skirting the Mediterranean coast as far as Memeltein and Sunday and Sunday night the trains on this road were kept going back and forth—trains that were loaded outside as well as inside, the roofs and platforms of each car being densely packed with people. A great change came over the crowd as soon as the train crossed the line separating Beirut from the Lebanon province. It immediately became an excursion party for everybody seemed out for a holiday. The correspondent remonstrated with some of the refugees over the folly of keeping up the panic but they said the Moslems would kill them if they returned.

No Suffering Among Them.

"Was it true that the American ships were going away?" "Were some French boats coming too?" Questions of every sort were asked.

The correspondent spent the afternoon and night at Djouni and Memeltein, and was pleased to find that no suffering existed among the refugees, the government and church authorities of Lebanon having arranged to supply with food any who were in need. The Lebanon soldiery had also been called out and were furnishing protection to the refugees as well as preventing disorder.

Friday morning the correspondent took a train down to Nassi-El-Kelb, a little hamlet, where a couple of hundred refugees had found shelter, 15 or 20 occupying one stone house. Down the road to Dbaj the correspondent passed a house or two which had taken in several families. At Dbaj there are a number of summer cafes and several groves and there were 600 or 800 of the 1,500 who had flocked into town on the first night, the remainder having scattered up and down the coast. In these groves the refugees had made camps, hammocks were swinging between the trees, bunks had been made upon the ground, women and children were lying about and the cafes without the streets were crowded with men and women.

Afraid to Return.

"We are not certain that the trouble is over," they said, "and the government will not uphold us if we kill any of the Moslems in defense of our lives."

The refugees affirmed to a man that when the raid of Sunday began the Christians repulsed the Moslems with success, whereupon the soldiers turned against the former and the Christians were compelled to flee for their lives.

Whether this be true or not it is only fair to the Turkish government to say that during the crisis it put forth every effort to restore order and guards were placed at every foreign resident's house wherever asked for.

On Wednesday evening the pasha of the Lebanon provinces addressed the refugees at Djouni and the next day spoke in Dbaj. At the latter place he said:

"The government had nothing to do with the Beirut affairs. It was between the people themselves. Now order is restored and the leaders must be severely punished. You can return to your homes and business."

Some in the crowd exclaimed: "What guarantee have we?"

The pasha thereupon continued: "You can remain in Lebanon as long as you like. No one will force you to return to your homes. I have given orders to the governors to protect you and the rich of Lebanon will provide for the poor among you as long as you remain, but you can return to your homes without fear."

The advice of the pasha wherever he spoke did not meet with approval, but in a number of cases the second sober thought prevailed and the train which took the correspondent back to Beirut was crowded with refugees apparently eager to return to their homes.

The removal of Gov. Rashid Pasha, who was unpopular both with Moslems and Christians, which occurred on Saturday, may have had a more reassuring effect on the Christians. It is thought the coming week will witness the return of those who fled from the city.

The Law of Life

A NOVEL

By ANNA McCLURE SHOLL

Miss Sholl has sought her inspiration in the life and interests of a large University, as that life is felt and known from the faculty and post-graduate standpoint, and has brought to this fascinating and unfamiliar subject a close personal knowledge and enthusiastic appreciation of its literary possibilities.

"An impassioned romance, told with admirable balance; absorbingly interesting and one of the most vital novels of the day."—Lillian Whiting in the Chicago Inter Ocean.

"The writer unfolds an every-day tragedy with that touch of inevitableness that we usually associate with the work of the masters"—New York Evening Telegram.

"A remarkable story, in many respects. It makes one think, as well as sympathize, and gives pleasure as a tale as well as stimulates as a problem."—Chicago Record-Herald.

"The book has not only a literary grace and distinction, but a sympathetic understanding of conditions, a sense of their artistic values, and a strong feeling for that law of life from which the book takes its title."—Louisville Evening Post.

"Miss Sholl has handled her subject with admirable sureness of touch, with dignity and proper restraint. Her lovers are beings of flesh and blood, not puppets; she faces the problem fully, fearlessly; hence the compelling strength of the story, its exceptional merit as the product of an American pen."—New York Mail and Express.

REPUBLICANS FIND MUCH ENTHUSIASM

Hanna, Herrick and Harding Warmly Greeted Among Democrats.

OPPONENTS ARE ROUTED

Dissatisfaction With Johnson in His Own Party Insures Greater Republican Victories in Ohio—Meeting Called Off Through Dissension of Democrats.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

LIMA, O., Oct. 2.—Two enthusiastic meetings marked the progress of the Republican spankers—Hanna, Herrick and Harding—through northwestern Ohio today. The journey since morning included first a stop at Van Wert. Here a hotbed of Democratic dissension was found arising primarily from an occurrence of a year ago when Mayor Johnson in the exuberance of his zeal against county auditors and what he called the pernicious habit of officials riding on railway passes viciously attacked T. M. Barry, the Democratic auditor in Van Wert. It left a wound that has not healed. Barry's friends declared then they would get even, and their word has been kept. The ex-auditor is the party nominee for state senator.

Johnson was billed for a meeting in Van Wert for next Thursday. The local committee protested and declared that he must come on Saturday or not at all. Although State Chairman Salen fumed and stormed his wrath was in vain, and in the face of the committee's ultimatum the meeting was finally declared off. This incident has not added to the friction between the contending factions.

The meeting at Van Wert today savored in one particular of Johnson issue, since it was held in a tent loaned by a traveling horse trainer. But the tent was filled, with hundreds standing about the openings and the demonstration itself was a pronounced success, more than fulfilling the expectations of the local managers.

At Lima tonight the enthusiasm of the afternoon was intensified. So large was the crowd which endeavored to force its way into the armory that an overflow meeting was held in the market house, across the way, where the speakers talked from the windows over the heads of their auditors. Before the opening of the meetings a reception was tendered Senator Hanna by the hundreds of railway men who live in the city. He spoke briefly to them, and in the heartiness of the welcome he found one of the most significant and encouraging features of the campaign thus far.

The speeches today dealt again with a discussion of state and national issues and an arraignment of Johnson and his socialistic tendencies.

AN ERA OF PEACE.

President Mitchell Comments on Unusual Mining Situation.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Oct. 2.—John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers, returned to headquarters today.

"The coal mining situation in this country, in our organization, at least, is the most peaceful in its history," said he. "Not in many years have three months passed with fewer disagreements and strikes. There are no strikes in any field that is organized."

Beautiful Woodlawn Cemetery

Entrance and Main Driveway.

WOODLAWN CEMETERY IS PICTURESQUE AS A PARK

Beautiful New Resting Place for the Dead of Pittsburgh.

Woodlawn, the new cemetery of Pittsburgh, is an ideal burial place. It is away from the din and dust of the city, yet within view of a larger number of people than any other cemetery in Pittsburgh, lying upon the brow of the commanding and beautiful hill of upper Penn avenue, Wilkinsburg, and overlooking the entire East Liberty valley. The ground is a broad, gently rolling table land of about 100 acres, admirably drained and diversified with hill and dale of much natural beauty. The view it commands, in every direction, has long been recognized as one of the finest, if not the finest, within the environment of Pittsburgh. In the foreground, at the base of the cemetery hill, are spread out the suburbs of Wilkinsburg, Edgewood and Swissvale. Beyond these are the handsome homes, churches, boulevards and parks of the beautiful East End, and in the background, beyond the Monongahela river, can be seen the picturesque heights of Mt. Washington, Mt. Oliver and Homestead, while far back against the sky line can be distinguished the historic churches of Mt. Lebanon and Hope, near Castle Shannon.

The wide main entrance is in Penn avenue, upon which the cemetery has a frontage of 1,000 feet. On either side of the massive granite pillars, are turreted stone walls curving gracefully toward the iron gateway, preserving an entranceway of about 100 feet, paved with granolithic stone. The grounds within evidence the care and future of a great cemetery. Broad, winding driveways, macadamized, stretch out for miles. These are lined on either side for thousands of feet with wide stone waterways, which serve for the pavement also. On all sides are broad, open areas of well-kept lawn, park-like in their effect. Scattered are just enough of flower bedding, shrubbery and trees to please but not weary the eye. Along the main driveway, known as Ridge avenue, there has already been constructed a granite receiving vault built along graceful architectural lines, and provided with an adequate number of catacombs. Further along, at a point commanding a view of the entire East Liberty valley, has been placed a soldiers' monument, which is by far the handsomest and most artistic memorial of its kind in Western Pennsylvania.

The cemetery will be equipped with funeral tents for the protection of attendants during the inclement weather, matting for the protection of the feet in wet weather, and other features, such as lowering grave devices, which enter into the refinement and evidences of modern cemetery progress. What is known as the "lawn system," now in vogue in all of the higher class cemeteries east and west, will be observed in the care of the grounds. No iron wooden or stone enclosures about the lots will be allowed. The grave mounds will be restricted to two inches above the surface, thus providing a smooth kept lawn effect. The proprietor of each lot has the right to erect any monument thereon accepted and approved by the cemetery authorities. The management of the cemetery is committed to 25 trustees representing the best citizens of Pittsburgh and Allegheny.

BRIDGE WORKERS TO SUPPORT A LOCAL MAN

Buchanan Faction of Structural Workers to Vote for Pittsburgher as Treasurer.

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—The election of national officers of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers which has been postponed for several days will in all probability take place tomorrow. The opposition to the re-election of President Buchanan continues and it was reported today that there was a probability of his throwing his support to T. J. Butler of Buffalo, in order to defeat the Parks delegation.

The Buchanan element is making a strenuous effort to elect J. L. Milton of Pittsburgh, as secretary-treasurer to succeed J. W. Johnson of local No. 2 of New York, Chicago is supporting F. J. Dalton of that city. Today Parks succeeded in defeating President Buchanan's amendment of the constitution, which was said to be aimed at a Parks supporter. However, about one-third of the delegates did not vote on the question and the final outcome of the strength of either faction may develop on the election problematical.

NEGRO WAS IDENTIFIED AS DARING HOUSE THIEF

Eugene Edwards, arrested on Thursday night, was identified yesterday morning by Mrs. Hazel Thompson as the man who held two revolvers to her head after robbing David Lee at No. 2426 Fifth avenue last Saturday night. Edwards and another negro, it is alleged, entered the house and after going through the place they met Mrs. Thompson as they were leaving. Information was made against Edwards for entering a building with intent to commit a felony and pointing firearms. He was committed to jail for court in default of $2,000 bail.

Burglars in Turtle Creek Valley.

Members of the gang of burglars operating in the Turtle Creek valley yesterday morning forced an entrance into the store of Louis Stern, in Braddock avenue, East Pittsburgh, and after stealing goods valued at $800 they entered the living apartments of the family and took two gold rings and $18. The home of Edmund Coleman in Bessemer terrace, East Pittsburgh was also entered during the morning. Clothing and $15 were taken away.

CONFERENCE DELEGATES ELECTED AT WHEELING

Lay Members Criticise Degrees Conferred on Ministers by Colleges.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

WHEELING, W. VA., Oct. 2.—Election of delegates to the general conference in California next May, engrossed the attention of the West Virginia Methodist Episcopal conference today. For the first time in West Virginia a woman is honored by a place on the list.

The lay delegates are Dr. Jennings King, Terra Alta; W. E. Rottencutter, Mason City; W. B. Matthews, Charleston; N. P. Kenadi, Clarksburg, and J. C. Bardell, Moundsville. The reserves are C. W. Adams, Fairmont; Mrs. Luella Williams, Brooklyn, and the Hon. George C. Sturgiss, Morgantown.

The ministers elected are the Rev. C. B. Graham, Wheeling; Dr. John Wier, president of the Buckhannon conference seminary, and the Rev. Albert Cameron, Parkersburg.

The fund for superannuated preachers was increased by private subscription to over $3,000. Lay delegates adopted resolutions criticising the "Cheap John" degrees by colleges and declaring plain "Rev." a more desirable title. The anniversaries of the Women's Home and Foreign Missionary societies were celebrated with addresses by Miss Nellie Snyder of New Mexico, and Dr. J. C. Floyd.

FEARS THE POORHOUSE, THOUGH WIFE IS WEALTHY

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—After 51 years of married life John Tuhey has asked the court to award him relief, or else he will be compelled to go to the county for support. He alleges that he married Margaret Tuhey in 1850 and that they have four children, all self-supporting. He says that property to the amount of $80,000 has been accumulated and it is all in his wife's name. Of this amount, $75,000 is in Pittsburgh property. He wants a division of the property.

Hutchinson and Ida Rayburn, Beaver; John L. O'Neill and Martha A. Smith; Charles Schwerdtfeger and Christine Erb, William P. Herb and Elsie M. Mehring, Henry Schultz and Mrs. Rachel Schultz, all of Pittsburgh; Charles Wagner and Rebecca Jenkins, Allegheny; James Crawford and May Reese, Hays station, Pa., were granted licenses and married here.

Shaffer Asks for Suggestions.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—President Theodore J. Shaffer of the Amalgamated association has sent circulars to the lodges in the sixth district asking them to vote on a successor to George Harbin, who has been deposed as vice president of this district. President Shaffer will act upon the suggestions made by the lodges and make the appointment at once. The friends of Harbin are working an effort to have him reinstated.

Veterans to Meet at Beaver.

BEAVER, PA., Oct. 3.—(Special.)—The annual reunion of the One Hundred and Fortieth regiment, Pennsylvania volunteers, will be held in the courthouse here on October 13. The address of welcome will be delivered by Judge J. Sharp Wilson and the response will be made by the Hon. W. A. Shallenberger, second assistant postmaster general. At the campfire addresses will be made by the Rev. Dr. J. S. Ramsay of Beaver, the Rev. T. B. Anderson of Rochester, and others.

ELKINS TO BUILD CHEAT RIVER RAILWAY

Senator Says Line Will Be Constructed Within Eighteen Months.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

MORGANTOWN, W. VA., Oct. 2.—Senator Stephen B. Elkins, who has been here for three days inspecting his investments in the Deckers Creek valley, announces that the Fairmont, Morgantown & Cheat River railway is to be built inside the next 18 months. The line will start at Fairmont, thence to Riversville, four and one-half miles, and from there it will be constructed to connect with the West Side trolley line, on which cars will be running within two weeks.

The senator also declares that it is most probable that the road will be extended down the Monongahela river, and then across country to Waynesburg. The senator is spending about $15,000 a month in this county and about Masontown in his railway, coke and coal operations.

ITALIAN FLAG LOWERED THROUGH FARMERS' THREAT

TAMAQUA, PA., Oct. 2.—A gang of workmen who have a camp near West Penn raised an Italian flag over their quarters. The farmers demanded that the flag be lowered. The Italians refusing to comply, a committee representing the farmers came here and laid the matter before the police officials, stating that unless immediate action was taken they would arm themselves and march on the camp. Chief of Police Hahn ordered the flag lowered, which was done under protest. The Italian consul at Philadelphia today wrote to Chief Hahn, asking him for full information regarding the matter. Hahn has replied that he ordered the flag taken down because he feared the farmers would carry out their threat.

MANY SIGN PETITION AGAINST SEATING SMOOT

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—As a result of the anti-Mormon crusade now being conducted here by Mrs. Mary Clark Bevoir, a former missionary among the Mormons, hundreds of signatures are being received upon petitions addressed to the United States senate against the seating in that body of Elder Smoot. Mrs. Bevoir spoke last night at the Wesley Memorial church, when she opened her lecture by saying that upon it was she showed a tattered flag which she said had been riddled by Mormon bullets, every person in the church signed the petition against Smoot.

B. & O. RAILROAD CUT-OFF IS OPENED

CONNELLSVILLE, PA., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—The new cut-off, connecting the Fairmont, Morgantown & Pittsburgh branch of the Ohio & Baltimore short line with the main Baltimore & Ohio railroad tracks at the eastern end of the Connellsville yards, was placed in use this morning. A bridge over the Youghiogheny river at the Greene Junction, connects the main line tracks with the new cut-off and the trains of both the branch roads will hereafter come into and go out of Connellsville by that route, instead of by Gibson Junction.

Many Cows Die of Rabies.

BEAVER FALLS, PA., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—A committee of farmers came in from Marion township today to see Dr. Buchanan, veterinary surgeon, about an epidemic of rabies among their cows. Jacob Nye has lost 11, Hahn Miller 7, and James Wilson 6, and the cows are dying rapidly every day. The farmers want the state board of veterinary surgeons to send a member to Beaver Falls to investigate the disease.

CONTEST FOR JUDGE IN TWENTIETH DISTRICT

Bedford County Delegation Goes to Harrisburg to See the Governor.

[Special Telegram to The Gazette.]

HUNTINGDON, PA., Oct. 2.—The contest for the appointment of a successor to John M. Bailey, late president judge of the Twentieth district, whose death occurred here last Sunday, is active. According to report, Mifflin county has settled upon Joseph Woods for the appointment, and at a meeting of the Huntingdon Bar association today the Hon. Thomas Myton, ex-member of the legislature, was made the choice of those present, while several names are mentioned from Bedford county.

It appears that John H. Jordan, who has been practicing at the Bedford bar for 30 years, is the first choice, and a delegation composed of R. C. Hafferman, Dr. W. J. Miller, Harry Cessna, Howard Cessna and Simon H. Sell passed through here tonight on the way to Harrisburg to hold an audience with Gov. Pennypacker by appointment.

PATIENT RECOVERING FROM A BROKEN NECK

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—John Canning of Edinburg, this county, is not only living with a broken neck, but has excellent chances for recovery. He was hurt two weeks ago in a runaway accident when he was thrown from his wagon on a steep hill. The fracture is near the base of the brain. He retains consciousness. Today his neck was bound in a plaster cast.

FOUND LONG LOST BROTHER IN STEUBENVILLE MORGUE

STEUBENVILLE, O., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—News of the death of William Fitzgerald in the Pittsburgh papers led two members of the family to journey here today to see the brother they have not heard of for years. David Fitzgerald was in the morgue viewing the body when his sister came in. She is Sister Adrianne Dustrosale of the Little Sisters of the Poor of Allegheny.

Bride Committed Suicide.

AKRON, O., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Mrs. Edith Curtis, a bride of a month, committed suicide this morning by drinking carbolic acid. She was found dead in bed and no reason can be assigned for her action. She was the wife of Yardmaster Linder Curtis.

STATE AND NEIGHBORHOOD.

GREENSBURG, PA.—John H. Carr, of Derry, a Pennsylvania railroad brakeman, was instantly killed at the southwest branch junction.

MORGANTOWN, W. VA.—After four unsuccessful attempts to elope, Edward Bowers and Nina McCulick succeeded and were married at Oakland.

MOUNDSVILLE, W. VA.—H. W. Parker, a county school teacher, would have expired next Christmas, escaped from the penitentiary and has not been recaptured.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Mrs. Candace Myers, widow of Andrew Myers and 71 years old, sustained injuries that resulted in her death by falling down the cellar steps.

NEW CASTLE, PA.—Mrs. Sarah Kelly fears that her 3-year-old son Charles, who mysteriously disappeared from here, was kidnaped. The police search has so far been without success.

YOUNGSTOWN, O.—Max Friedman, the 13-year-old boy who was injured in the trolley wreck when a crowd of baseball enthusiasts were returning from the park, died at the city hospital. All the others injured will recover.

BELLEPONTE, PA.—The extensive lime kilns and stone quarries in Benner township, recently operated by W. H. Walker, have been purchased by the Centre County Lime Company, a Pennsylvania corporation, capitalized at $50,000.

NO AGREEMENT REACHED ON REUNITING CHURCHES

Favorable Progress Reported by Presbyterian and Cumberland Committees.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 2.—The committees on co-operation and union of the Presbyterian church and the Cumberland Presbyterian church, adjourned today and tonight issued the following statement:

While no final agreements were reached, encouraging progress was made toward outlining a proposal of a basis of union to be submitted to the two general assemblies. It is agreed to submit the whole matter to a sub-committee of six, three from each of the general committees, said sub-committee to formulate a concurrent report to be finally considered by a joint meeting of the two committees in St. Louis. There were no negative votes upon any questions finally acted upon and we entertain the hope that within a few years reunion may be accomplished in a manner creditable to both churches.

It is authoritatively announced that in all the proposals under consideration provision will be made for the conduct, promotion and preservation of all the educational institutions of the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

Seventeen Horses and Mules Burned.

The women were driving home last evening and in attempting to ford a narrow arm of Long Lake their vehicle was overturned and all were drowned.

Clothing made to order

IN addition to our old friends, we notice a greater percentage of new faces in the merchant tailoring department this Fall than ever before. Some of the superior advantages offered here are: Largest display of choicest imported and domestic woolens, faultless workmanship, perfection of fit, reasonable prices.

KAUFMANN'S

"THE BIG STORE"

The store's new closing hours after October 12th, will be 6:30 on Saturday evenings, and 5:30 on other evenings

Tonight and next Saturday night will be the last nights when the store will be open till 10 o'clock.

Particular men demand clothing with character

FOR years we have excelled in providing clothing for the most exacting dressers. Why? Simply because we are exacting ourselves. We demand and get the products of America's best talent. When we founded this clothing business we set a high standard, and have never deviated from it, except to raise it to a still higher plane. Each suit and overcoat must come up to our specifications before it can find counter room here. It must excel in all-around style—requirements—must have the appearance that makes it acceptable to careful dressers. It must possess wearing attributes so substantial that we can pin our guarantee to every garment. It must sell on its merits only, and not depend on the salesman's "talk" to find it a purchaser. OUR salesmen are not here for that purpose—they are here to aid you in making your selections and see that you get a perfect fit. But, don't think that because our clothing is so far above the ordinary that our prices are likewise. THEY'RE NOT. Here's where our superior purchasing power (due to our immense outlet) and our large-sales-at-small-profit policy come into play. You can rest assured of a most substantial saving on every purchase.

Suits and overcoats worth $12 At 8.75

Suits and overcoats worth $20 At 15.00

The four-button straight-hanging single-breasteds, the form-fitting three-button single-breasteds, the three-button cutaway sacks and the three-button straight-front double-breasteds in suits—the jaunty 30 and 42-in. short covert coats, the medium length coats and the longer fly-front box coats hanging straight from the shoulders and very full in the back, in overcoats—in fact, ALL the new styles are well represented in these two lines. Most careful consideration has been given the tailoring of these garments—the shoulders are broad and symmetrical, the collar of the coat sets well around the neck—there is no wrinkling, drawing or sagging. You can't help but be pleased with your selection.

No tailor can improve on our finest garments at 20.00 to 33.00

These suits and overcoats were made for us by manufacturing tailors who are as jealous of their reputation as we are of ours. The materials are the best woven, the patterns the most exclusive. The tailoring, besides having the perfection of other high grade clothing has been given numerous touches of elegance which places these garments in the same class as those custom tailors turn out for $40 to $50.

Coachmen's liveries— the fact that the coachmen on the swellest "turn-outs" in the city have the Kaufmann label on the inside of their liveries certainly speaks well for our line of these goods.

Men's correctly fashioned trousers, 3.00

This line affords a striking demonstration of the superior amount of style and wear that we manage to crowd into even our medium priced goods.

Full dress suits— custom tailors exact exorbitant profits on the suits for dress occasions or social functions. We don't. And, then, buying here you don't have to guess how the garments are going to look.

Talking machines

WE are closing out our entire line of Columbia talking machine and records, and we have reduced prices on our remaining stock exactly 50%. Here's the list:

3 cylinder machines—worth $30—now reduced to half price—15.00.
2 cylinder machines—worth $20—now reduced to half price—10.00.
2 disc machines—worth $20—now reduced to half price—10.00.
12 cylinder machines—worth $7.50—now reduced to half price—3.75.
6 cylinder machines—worth $5, for 2.50.

Boys' new Fall Clothing, full of snap, style and good wear.

NO store in the country carries a larger or finer boys' clothing stock than "The Big Store." Neither can any house do better for you from a money-saving standpoint. Bring in the boys after school, or bright and early in the morning; or, if you are too busy, send them in by themselves, and we'll fit them out with all care and attention. If you don't like what we send you, we'll be only too glad to exchange it.

Sailor suits for boys 3 to 12 years. The new styles with sailor or small Eton collar are the nobbiest yet shown. The materials include velvets, serges, cheviots and fancy mixtures, the finer ones with extra silk collar and shield—prices range from 10.00 down to 3.00

Double-breasted suits for boys 7 to 17 years. Also the popular Norfolk suits, hundreds of styles, in all materials with regular or knicker-bocker trousers—prices: 16.00 down to 8.50, 7.50, 6.50, 5.00, 3.90, 3.00 and 2.00. Particular attention, however, is directed to the grand values we offer at 5.00

Russian blouse suits for boys 2½ to 6 years. First and foremost among these suits comes the "Buster Brown" suits—for which we have the exclusive agency—all the other Russian blouse styles are also here, with standing, sailor or eton collar, in all materials, from 10.00 down to 2.50

Novelty overcoats for boys 3 to 12 years. Cute, cunning styles for the little fellows (girls can wear them too)—military coats with hood, Gibson coats, reefer, box, cape and regulation coats, lined with serge or red flannel—ranging in price from 12.00 down to 5.00, 3.90 and 3.00

Tourist coats for boys 6 to 17 years. These are made with the belted back, similar to the men's coats, in single or double-breasted effects—we also have the three-quarter length box back coats with plain or embroidered sleeves—at all prices ranging from 18.00 down to our splendid line at 5.00

PIRATE BATTERS WERE WEAK BEFORE PITCHER DINEEN'S CURVES

DINEEN PROVED THE REAL THING

His Speed and Curves Too Much for Pirates, While Sam Leever Was Hit Hard.

VEIL PROVED HIS WORTH

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—The Boston Americans turned the tables on the Pittsburgh team this afternoon in decisive style. Dineen was the stumbling block in the Pirates' path. He was even more effective than was Philippe yesterday and mowed the Buccaneers down almost as fast as they came to bat.

"Schoolmaster" Sam Leever essayed to pitch for the visitors, but he was batted out of the box in the first inning. Veil, who replaced him, did much better. Dougherty of the Bostons batted terrifically, making two home runs. The home team excelled the visitors at all points.

Those over-confident bettors who looked upon the series as a walkover "cinch" for Collins' men in straight games scurried around town this morning looking to "hedge," but without success.

While Boston fandom was in sackcloth and ashes, the Pittsburgh contingent were jubilant and kept the sedate old town in a whirl of excitement last night by their celebration. The 11 o'clock closing hour, which is strictly enforced in this Puritanical town, struck the exuberant Pittsburghers hard, but they were enabled thereby to be up bright and early this morning ready for more celebrating, for the visitors looked upon the battle for the world's championship as all over but the shouting by boomer "Smoky City" throats.

There were a few Boston partisans, however, who still thought their team had a chance, basing their opinion on the fact that baseball is very uncertain and that their boys were attacked by stage fright on account of the immense crowd and the fact that so much was expected of the first game.

Pittsburgh people won a barrel of money on yesterday's victory. Alex Moore of Pittsburgh, who is a stockholder in the Pittsburgh club, won the wager of $500 to $1,000 with a Boston sport, and gathered in another bet of $160 to $200. Most of the other "Smoky City" visitors paid expenses, and more. President Dreyfuss of the Pittsburgh club managed to place wagers at even money on today's game, and said: "Leever will land his game easier than did Philippe."

Charley Ganzel, the veteran catcher of the Boston and Detroit clubs, has picked Pittsburgh to win. Mayor Patrick A. Collins has sent a letter to Manager Collins with his best wishes for himself and others.

The weather conditions this afternoon were far from favorable. It rained last night and showered this morning. It was threatening, too, this afternoon, and the attendance was smaller than yesterday in consequence.

Dineen pitched one of the best games of his career, and Pittsburgh could not hit his terrific speed and sharp curves. He gave the outfielders few chances, and those accepted by them were difficult. The National team got but three hits and only five men reached first base out of the 27 who faced Dineen.

Leever started in to pitch for Pittsburg. He was hit freely, and Vail replaced him after the first inning. Barring wildness, Vail pitched cleverly, although superb support extricated him from several bad holes.

The batting of Dougherty was the feature of Boston's attack. He drove out a long hit in the first inning, which he converted into a home run by fast sprinting. In the other hit-ting he tied the record of Hickman, now of Cleveland, by driving the ball over the left field fence, an extremely long distance on the Boston grounds. Boston's second run was scored on a double by Stahl and a single by Freeman in the first inning. Pittsburgh's best opportunity for scoring occurred in the fourth inning, when a base on balls and a virtual sacrifice put men on second and third with but one out. Wagner drove a terrific liner to Ferris, who held it, and completed an unassisted double play.

A fast double play, with Ritchey, Wagner and Bransfield participating, deprived Boston in turn of runs in the fifth inning, when they had three men on bases and only one out.

In the eighth inning Boston filled the bases on first and third, with one out, and again a double play prevented scoring and closed the inning, Wagner stopping a fast grounder from Collins.

In no other inning did Boston get men past second.

ANOTHER FOR HOMESTEAD.

Osborne Shuts Out All-Professionals. Torreyson's Neat Play.

Homestead won from Youngman's all-professional team yesterday afternoon at Steel Works park, 3 to 0. Bell Campbell was on the rubber for the visitors. Osborne twirled for the locals and pitched good ball. Ferguson started the ball rolling for the home team when he hit a home run to center. The second run was made in the fifth inning, when Osborne got to first sack on an error by C. Cargo and scored on singles by Edmunson and McCloskey. The third tally came in the sixth. Cosgrove got a life, went to second when Marshall was struck by a pitched ball, and came in on Osborne's single to center. Mullen made the prettiest catch of the game by taking Tourney's long hit with one hand after a jump. Torreyson's catch of a foul over near the bleachers was a neat one. Alex Pearson was in right field for the visitors. Score:

Jersey City Beat Brooklyn.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—In an exhibition game between the Brooklyn National league team and the Eastern league champions, played at Jersey City today, the local players outplayed and outbatted the visitors, winning 5 to 2. Garvin pitched for Brooklyn and McCann for Jersey City. The batting feature was McCormick's home run hit along the right foul line. The game was called at the end of the eighth inning on account of darkness. Score:

NEW STYLE DEFENSE INVENTED BY MURPHY

Yale's Trainer Puts Halfbacks to Work on Straight Arm Work—Other Gosip.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW HAVEN, CONN., Oct. 2.—Yale halfbacks were practiced today in a new style of straight-arm defense. Mike Murphy, Yale's trainer, started pairs of backs in parallel lines, one carrying the ball and the other endeavoring to tackle the runner who fought off the tackles with straight arm jabs while running full speed. Morton, the big 220-pound guard, came in for some of Murphy's criticism. For one so big and powerful, Morton does not do well.

Metcalf scored the only touchdown today in a 10-minute half by a dodging run of 40 yards, after breaking through the line. Yale will play the University of Vermont tomorrow.

The practice this afternoon was short and in the 10 minutes' scrimmage between the varsity and second, neither side scored. Capt. Marshall is still out of the game with a bad knee, and was on the field today in street clothes. J. Cunnif, a freshman who weighs 219 pounds, was taken on to the varsity squad today.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Football men were again given an easy practice this afternoon, much time being spent in perfecting the smaller points of the game. Rafferty and Barrett were closely followed by coaches and improvement over yesterday's work was brought about.

Rafferty's plays today were not successful. Munn had first call for quarter back today on the varsity, and showed improvement over former playing. King was played at half back on the first team, proving worthy of the promotion by making gains of 15 and 20 yards.

About 60 men are now included on the freshmen football squad and hopes for a successful season are running high. The schedule: October 2, Brooklyn High school at Princeton; October 7, Peddie Institute at Highstown; October 10, Lawrenceville at Princeton; October 14, open; October 17, Shadyside academy at Pittsburgh; October 20, Tome institute at Princeton; October 24, Mercersburg academy at Mercersburg; October 21, open.

LOCAL SEASON OPENS.

California Plays Shadyside and E. L. A. Goes to New Haven.

The Pittsburgh High school-Washington High school game yesterday opened the season here for the school elevens. Shadyside academy begins its season this afternoon by playing the heavy California Normal team at Shadyside. The Normals have a victory over the Connellsville team and a 0-to-12 game with Washington and Jefferson college. East Liberty academy goes to New Haven to play the New Haven-Connellsville team. Acting Capt. Bunton will play his men as follows: J. Edwards or Hood or Askin, right end; Minn or McClandless, right tackle; Frey, right guard; Leak, center; Hannen or Donahue, left guard; Straub, left tackle; Bunton or Wright, quarterback; Edwards or Bulger, right half; Carr, left half; Jones, fullback.

Manager Alex. McCracken will have charge of the team. McCracken yesterday arranged to have the Washington High school play East Liberty at Pittsburgh's park. Today the team of Saltsburg goes to Bolivar to open. Capt. F. Caughey of Rigdi will very likely have the following men on edge for today: Jones, left end; J. Caugher, left tackle; Irons, left guard; McKelvey, center; Gordon, right guard; Barnard, right tackle; Davis, right end; Cunningham, quarterback; F. Caughey, left half; Urling, right half; Seanor, fullback. The Western university team plays West Virginia university at Morgantown this afternoon and the Oakland A. C. will play Pittsburgh college on the Bluff.

ALLEGHENY BEATEN.

Edgewood Golf Team Takes Championship Match 16 to 13.

The Allegheny Country golf team lost to the Edgewood team in a championship match yesterday on the latter's course, 16 to 13. Some good golf was played by members of both teams. E. M. Byers, the Allegheny crack, who beat J. D. Duff, holds the course in 72, and O. D. Thompson also of the Allegheny club, had 74. G. A. Ormiston holds the course record at 67. The scores:

Wash.-Jeff. Team Ready.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—The Washington-Jefferson football candidates had the last practice today in preparation for the game tomorrow with Marietta college. The practice was a light one and there was no line-up as had been intended. The men are all in the pink of condition and it was decided today not to run any chances of injuries by hard practice. The team is greatly strengthened since last Saturday and it is believed here that W. & J. will prove a winner.

Football Proves Dangerous Sport.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Oct. 2.—Four football accidents have just been recorded here, and have a tendency to keep down enthusiasm for battles on the gridiron. Jack Watson, Thomas Hill and Lee Rhodes, three members of prominent families, all had their noses broken during a game between juvenile teams here. Each was hurt in a different scrimmage. Leslie Wylie of the Ellwood Tigers had his left arm fractured during a practice scrimmage there yesterday.

Canonsburg Eleven Beaten.

WASHINGTON, PA., Oct. 2.—The Washington and Jefferson academy football team opened the season here today, defeating the team of Jefferson academy from Canonsburg 16 to 0. The visiting team was outclassed in the first half, which ended 11 to 0. In the second half they braced considerably, but never had a chance to score against the local preps.

BIG SURPRISE IS THE WASHINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

Plays Pittsburgh High School Eleven to No Score Game at Friendship Park.

The Washington (Pa.) High school eleven played the Pittsburgh High school team to a standstill yesterday afternoon at Friendship park. Neither side gained a point, but a costly fumble in the second half on Pittsburgh's 20-yard line by Washington probably saved Coach James' pupils from being scored upon. Washington took the kick off in the second half, Minton getting the ball. The husky visitors began to hammer away at the line and by an occasional end sprint soon had the pigskin down in Pittsburgh's territory. Eagan, at left guard for the visitors, was playing a star game and many gains were made by him. He is a big, husky youngster, weighing at least 180 pounds and looks like varsity material.

On the 25-yard line Hanna was given the ball and waded through for five yards, dropping the ball. Paul Johns was upon it and Pittsburgh's power was down. Acting Capt. Bunton will play his men as follows: J. Edwards or Hood or Askin, right end; Minn or McClandless, right tackle; Frey, right guard; Leak, center; Hannen or Donahue, left guard; Straub, left tackle; Bunton or Wright, quarterback; Edwards or Bulger, right half; Carr, left half; Jones, fullback.

Worrell took the place of Bialias, who had been playing a nice game at left half. Worrell did much damage to Washington's line, also getting in several pretty short end runs. The ball forced to Washington 25-yard line when time was up. Had time been extended a few minutes longer Pittsburgh might have scored. Washington was not looked upon as a football team. Acting Capt. Bunton will play his men as follows: J. Edwards or Hood or Askin, right end; Minn or McClandless, right tackle; Frey, right guard; Leak, center; Hannen or Donahue, left guard; Straub, left tackle; Bunton or Wright, quarterback; Edwards or Bulger, right half; Carr, left half; Jones, fullback. The Washington High school play East Liberty at Pittsburgh's park today. Acting Capt. Bunton will play his men as follows: J. Edwards or Hood or Askin, right end; Minn or McClandless, right tackle; Frey, right guard; Leak, center; Hannen or Donahue, left guard; Straub, left tackle; Bunton or Wright, quarterback; Edwards or Bulger, right half; Carr, left half; Jones, fullback. The National team got but three hits and only five men reached first base out of the 27 who faced Dineen.

A fast double play, with Ritchey, Wagner and Bransfield participating, deprived Boston in turn of runs in the fifth inning, when they had three men on bases and only one out.

In the eighth inning Boston filled the bases on first and third, with one out, and again a double play prevented scoring and closed the inning, Wagner stopping a fast grounder from Collins.

In no other inning did Boston get men past second.

NILES WINS AGAIN.

Joe McGinnity Gives Ohio Steel Team Another Beating.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 2.—Even with the star Cleveland battery Ohio Works was able to do nothing with the Niles team at Niles today. McGinnity, for the second time in succession, defeated the local team, allowing but six hits, which were so scattered as to be ineffectual. Moore pitched a good game, but the players behind him were unable to make it good by hitting. Score:

AMATEURS IN LINE.

Will Parade Before Game Monday at Exposition Park.

The amateur baseball teams will do their share in making the home-coming of the Pittsburgh champions from Boston an auspicious one Monday, when they play the American league champions the first game of the season in Pittsburgh. It is expected that every amateur team in this locality will be in a big parade which will take place before the game.

Burgess J. Murphy of the Millvale team may take charge of the affair. Will Luckhardt, president of the County league, requests all the managers of the teams to report at headquarters early tonight, as well as managers of other teams who desire to participate in the parade.

SOCIETY

ONE of the largest and handsomest house weddings of October will be that of Miss Clara Edith Forgie and David Aiken Pitcairn on October 21. Miss Forgie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Charles Forgie of Fayette street, Allegheny, at whose home the wedding will take place. Mr. Pitcairn is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Pitcairn and a nephew of Robert Pitcairn of Ellsworth avenue.

There will be a large bridal party. Miss Jessie Neely of St. Marys, O., has been chosen as maid of honor. There will be three maids, Miss Edith Helm of Leechburg, Miss Olive Duff of Allegheny and Miss Martha Biber of Charleroi. Miss Agnes Lindsay, a small niece of Mr. Pitcairn, will act as flower girl. The two ribbon bearers will be little Miss Edna Neely of Lima and Master Harold Neely of St. Marys, O. Charles Taylor will serve as Mr. Pitcairn's best man, while the two ushers, James Dolby and Mr. McHenry, will complete the party.

The Rev. W. A. Kinter of the Providence Presbyterian church will officiate at the wedding at 6:30 o'clock, the ceremony to be followed by a reception at 8:30. The young couple will take an extended wedding trip and after their return will be at home in Fayette street with the parents of the bride. About 400 invitations have been issued for the reception and about 200 for the wedding, which will be among the largest and handsomest of the early fall events.

Miss Duff, one of the maids, will be hostess at a kitchen shower for the bride-elect on Saturday, October 17. One other social affair has been planned to take place previous to the wedding—the dinner in connection with the rehearsal on the wedding eve.

An East End Wedding.

Invitations have been issued for the wedding of Miss Eva Grace Horner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christian B. Horner, of Ellsworth avenue, East End, and George Earl Shipley, on October 7. The hour is 7:30 o'clock, with the Rev. Arthur D. Mimic as officiant. Wheeler B. Horner, a nephew of the bride-elect, will act as page, he being the only attendant. Miss Lillian Boucher will play the wedding march. Miss Horner will be gowned in white crepe de chine, with trimmings of pearls and duchesse lace. She will carry a shower of white roses. The decorations will be carried out in pink and white in the parlor and in white in the dining room of the Horner home.

After an eastern wedding trip the bride and bridegroom will make their home in Ellsworth avenue, at-home dates being after November 1. On Thursday evening Miss Horner was the honor guest at a daintily appointed dinner which Mrs. J. C. Sneathen gave at her home in Stratford avenue. Among the guests was Miss Miss Shafer of Philadelphia, who is being entertained by Miss Horner after visiting with Mrs. Mary Galley of North Negley avenue for a couple of weeks. Miss Shafer will remain in Pittsburgh for the wedding on Wednesday.

An Allegheny Wedding.

One of the mid-October weddings will be that of Miss Pauline A. Lotz and James A. Mason, both of Allegheny, which is dated for October 15. The nuptials will be solemnized by the Rev. Thomas Park of the Fourth United Presbyterian church, Allegheny, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Annie D. Lotz, in Cabinet street. The hour is 6:30 o'clock. The only bridal attendant will be a flower girl, Miss Katherine Braun, a cousin of the bride-elect. A number of out-of-town guests will be in attendance at the wedding, among them Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mason of Detroit, the father and mother of the prospective bridegroom; Miss Kitty Mason, a sister; Miss Emma and Miss Flora Markle and Lawrence Markle of Evans City; Miss Flora Anderegg of Findlay, O., and a number of others. After a trip through the east Mr. Mason and his bride will receive their friends in Cabinet street on Wednesdays in December.

A Wedding in Chicago.

Announcement has been made of the engagement of James Stuart McFadyen of Pittsburgh to Miss Kate Elizabeth Grant of Chicago. The wedding is scheduled to take place in Chicago October 13. Miss Grant was a former resident of this city, being a daughter of James H. Grant, who was for many years connected very prominently with the East Liberty stock yards. Mr. McFadyen is assistant to General Manager Simon O'Donnell of the new Union stock yards at Harrs island. He has been connected with Mr. O'Donnell for the past 14 years. The future home of the couple will be in the East End, Pittsburgh.

An Approaching Wedding.

Mrs. E. A. Barr of Soutar street, East End, will issue invitations next week for the marriage of her daughter, Miss Mary Metcalfe Barr, and Francis Leon Suter, on Wednesday, October 21. The wedding will be a pretty home affair, although the guests will be restricted to the relatives and most intimate friends of the principals. The Rev. Arthur Mink, pastor of the Emory Methodist Episcopal church, will perform the ceremony at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Rolfe DeV. Marthens will be the matron of honor, the only other attendant being the best man, Rufus O. Suter, a brother of the prospective bridegroom.

Congressman-Elect H. Kirke Porter Has Leased the Don Cameron Residence

Historic Washington Mansion.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Representative-elect Henry Kirke Porter of Pittsburgh has taken a lease of the Don Cameron house in Lafayette square, occupied last winter by Mrs. Mary C. Thaw. Mr. Porter contemplates making some important improvements in the historic old mansion and will take possession about the middle of November. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Porter and her daughter, Miss Annie M. Hegeman. Mr. Porter's new home is one of the most commodious and imposing residences in Washington. Since Don Cameron was in public life it has been the home of a succession of distinguished men and probably the scene of more festivity than any other home here. Vice President Hobart and Senator Hanna have at times made it their homes. It was here that the earl of Yarmouth prosecuted his spectacular and successful courtship of the beautiful Pittsburgh girl, Miss Alice Thaw. Mr. Porter adds another to the handsome and elaborate homes maintained at the capital by Pittsburghers. Among these are the attorney general and Mrs. Knox, Mr. and Mrs. George Westinghouse, Mr. and Mrs. John Dalzell, Dr. and Mrs. Loren Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. George T. McClintock and others.

Wedding Day Set.

The wedding of Miss Mary Macrum and Samuel Lloyd Shank will be an event of October 14 at the home of the bride's father, R. Y. Macrum, in Aspinwall. Mr. Shank was one of three in the bridal party of Miss Mary Louise Collingwood and Robert Sage Wilson on September 17, whose weddings will take place this month. The others are David Milne Watt, who will marry Miss Louise Alberta McCombs October 28, and Miss Mary Metcalf Barr, who will become the wife of Francis Leon Suter on October 21.

Celebrated Their Crystal Wedding.

The crystal wedding celebration of Dr. and Mrs. Josiah R. King of Holland avenue, West Braddock, was pleasantly observed Thursday evening at their home, Dr. King's fellow physicians and their wives gathering there at 8 o'clock. Dr. William T. Morgan, on behalf of the assemblage, presented Dr. and Mrs. King with a cut glass water set and other pretty articles of crystal. Supper was served at 11 o'clock.

A Quiet Home Wedding.

The wedding of Miss Clara Kramer of Pittsburgh and Herbert G. Parker of Allegheny will take place on Thursday next at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Alfred Burke of Ellsworth avenue. There will be no attendants and the guest list will be very small, the invited ones including only the members of the two families. The hour is 7 o'clock. Although small, the wedding will be marked by exceedingly dainty appointments and decorations.

Wedding Invitations Issued.

Invitations have been received in Greensburg for the marriage of Miss Ida Margaret Cook, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cook of Steubenville, O., to William Henry Neker of Greensburg, in the Hamilton Methodist Episcopal church, Steubenville, on Wednesday evening, October 14.

Engagement Announced.

A matrimonial engagement announced this week is that of Miss Bessie Stwarts, daughter of Mrs. Amelia Swarts of Atwood street, and John Katzen Meyers of Idlewild street, Homewood. The marriage will take place in the middle of November.

Caines—Beistel.

Announcement his been made in Greensburg of the marriage on Tuesday evening, October 6, of Miss Jane Rutherford Caines of St. Paul, Minn., to the Rev. Franklin Smith Beistel, formerly pastor of the Holy Trinity Lutheran church, Jeannette.

THE DEATH ROLL

William Beam.

William Beam, 80 years old, a pioneer of Jefferson township, died yesterday afternoon at his home near Gill Hall, Jefferson township. Mr. Beam was born on the farm on which he died and within a short distance of the old homestead erected by his grandfather, Abraham Beam, who settled on the farm in 1796, and for which the Beam family still hold the original patent papers. Mr. Beam had been a member of the Jefferson Methodist Episcopal church since boyhood, and funeral services over his remains will be held in the old church Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. He will be buried in the old family plot in the burying ground of the church. Mr. Logan was a charter member of Alliquippa lodge, 375, F. and A. M., of McKeesport. He is survived by his widow and three children, T. F., E. S. and Mrs. Margaret Wilson; besides one brother, John Beam, who resides on a farm which is a portion of the original grant, and five grandchildren.

Funeral of Mrs. Charles Prescott.

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Ann Prescott, wife of Charles Prescott, a well-known resident of Carnegie, will be held at the Protestant Episcopal church at Carnegie this afternoon. Mrs. Prescott was scalded five weeks ago and her death occurred on Thursday. Mrs. Prescott was born in England 54 years ago and came to America 20 years ago, settling in Carnegie. She is survived by her husband and eight children: Mrs. Eliza Hard, Mrs. John Toomey, Mrs. Harry Fletcher, Mrs. Hambel Smith, Mrs. Frank Willetts, William and George Prescott, all residents of Carnegie.

Conrad Asher.

Conrad Asher, a well-known farmer of Tally Cayey, died yesterday morning at his home after a lingering illness. Mr. Asher was 79 years old, and settled at Tally Cayey 25 years old. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Barbara Asher, four sons and several daughters. A son, William, and two daughters, Sophy and Mary, live at home.

Obituary Notes.

Henry Cargill, a member of parliament for the last 18 years, is dead at Ottawa, Ont. He was overcome by heart failure while at work in a committee room of the house.

Mary Ann Croxall, aged 70, is dead at her late home in East Liverpool, O. She was the widow of Jessie Croxall, who died in 1881, and who helped to start the first pottery in that city. She is survived by two children, Frank H. Croxall and Mrs. George E. Murphy, both of East Liverpool.

John B. Mytinger, a harness maker, died yesterday at his home near Connellsville, Pa., aged 80. During the civil war he was employed by the government at the Allegheny arsenal. One son, Charles Mytinger of Wilkinsburg, and one brother, Tobias Mytinger of Romney, W. Va., survive him.

PERSONALS

Judge Joseph Buffington, in the United States district court, yesterday administered the oath to the Rev. David L. Fleming, recently appointed chaplain in the regular army. His father, David Fleming, was for many years an editorial writer on The Gazette. The new chaplain, after attending school, went to Trinity college and was in the same class with Judge Buffington. He later studied for the ministry and went to Colorado. He was there when the Spanish-American war broke out, and went to the Philippines as chapiain of the First Colorado infantry.

United States Senator John Kean of New Jersey passed through the city last night on his way to Seattle, Wash., on a business trip. Speaking of the extra session of congress he said: "I do not expect much will be done regarding the finances of the country. The new currency bill to be presented will not come up for discussion. The Cuban reciprocity treaty will undoubtedly be ratified. The stock market, which has been uncertain for the past two weeks, will regain its normal condition within a few days."

Capt. Thomas W. Griffith of the Eighteenth infantry, U. S. A., expects to leave Pittsburgh at the end of the present month and rejoin his command in the Philippines. Capt. Griffiths has been in charge of the local recruiting station for the past two years.

Sheriff John P. Williams and Deputy Sheriff George Williams of Meadville arrived in the city yesterday morning with prisoners for the Western penitentiary. He remained at the Griswold over night.

Dr. Wilmore Batt, state quarantine officer-at-large, who has been in Pittsburgh for some time, will leave this morning for Morgantown, W. Va., on official business.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

The nearby residents registered at the local hotels last night were as follows:

Duquesne—Frank Lewis, Scranton; J. M. Beck, Akron, and R. H. Wilson, Danville.

Henry—J. E. Hogy, Greenville; H. Smith, Saltsburg; A. O. Stewart, Youngstown; J. P. Shine, Lancaster; M. J. Hammers, Meadville, and John M. Crawford, Parkersburg.

Griswold—J. A. Rudy, Oil City, and T. E. Jones, Greensburg.

Monongahela House—W. Dunbar, Akron; John H. Morgan, Morgantown; W. L. Rodridge, Hollidaysburg; L. M. Nowcomer, Grafton; S. Harrison, York, and A. B. Smith, Brownsville.

Newell's—J. T. Allison, Punxsutawney.

Women's Clubs

THE Pittsburgh chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, held their regular October meeting yesterday afternoon in the Twentieth Century club house. Preliminary arrangements were made for the annual state conference of Pennsylvania Daughters of the American Revolution, to be held in Pittsburgh the second week of November.

The members of the chapter accepted and will act upon the recommendation of their regent, Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, that the chapter co-operate with the officials of the Carnegie library for the establishment of a library of historical and geneaological books. The librarian, William H. Anderson, is heartily in sympathy with the idea and will provide a place for its collection of books. An individual book-plate will be made so the daughters may be given due recognition for their efforts. Mrs. Ammon announced that the Carnegie library had been presented with a complete set, consisting of four volumes, of the record of actual work done by the Daughters of the American Revolution, this record having been published by congress.

The chapter authorized the appointment of a committee which shall have power to co-operate with those interested in the renewal of the inscription on the monument erected in memory of Dr. Nathaniel Bedford, surgeon at old Fort Pitt, and one of the first trustees of Trinity church. The monument stands in Trinity church-yard and the inscription is almost obliterated. Some time ago the chapter appropriated a sum of money to be used for this purpose.

Announcement was made of the choice of a subject for the prize essay competition under the terms of the Julia K. Hogg memorial, the essays to be written by students in certain schools and colleges in Pennsylvania. The subject is "Pennsylvania under William Penn, 1681 to 1718." A committee was also appointed to decide upon the prize essay offered in the competition in the Cosmopolis school, this committee consisting of Mrs. David Kirk, Miss Sarah E. Bissell, Mrs. J. S. McKelvy and Miss Mary Armstrong.

The regent presented to the chapter a hand-made mall and a musket ball found on the site of Fort Ligonier. They came into her possession last summer and will be added to the collection now displayed in the Carnegie museum. A fac-simile copy of the Declaration of Independence has been presented to the Pittsburgh chapter.

Mrs. Ammon and Miss Kate C. McKnight gave verbal reports of the situation as regards the block house. The attorneys for the chapter are watching every move made in opposition to the society's interests and are prepared to protect it at all points.

Among the prominent speakers who will be at the state conference in November is the president-general of the national society, Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. Charles W. Fairbanks, who will speak on the Continental Memorial Hall fund. On the evening of November 10 a concert will be given for the visiting women by the Pittsburgh orchestra, Victor Herbert conducting, under the auspices of the Pittsburgh chapter. On the following evening Mrs. James R. Mellon, vice-president general Pennsylvania, will give a large reception for Mrs. Fairbanks and the visiting daughters.

The Athene Club of Charleroi.

The first meeting of the Athene club of Charleroi will be held this afternoon. It will be a social meeting and conducted at the home of Mrs. Alden O. Davis, who will be hostess. The Athene club has prepared a very interesting program for the study of modern painting during the coming year. The first regular meeting for study will be Saturday, October 10. The scope of work for the year embraces the French school with special reference to the early French art, the school of Watteau, the French classicism of David and Ingres, the school of Romanticism—Gerome, the Orientalist, and the Pentathelean-Barbizon school of landscape painting, the painters of animals and of peasants, Gerome and the semi-classicists, Meissonier, the realists and impressionists; the Spanish school with Ribera, Velasquez, Murillo and Fortuny; the Flemish school and the early Netherlands art, Rubens and Van Dyck; the Dutch school, with Frans Hals and Rembrandt, Van Ruisdael, Hobbema, Van der Velde and modern Dutch painting; the German school, Albrecht Durer, the Holbeins and the modern painters; the British school, Hogarth, the portrait painters, Constable, Turner, the pre-Raphaelites and Watts, and the American school, its early representatives and its later painters, including Sargent and Chase, LaFarge and Abbey and Whistler.

New Brighton Woman's Club.

The New Brighton Woman's club held its first meeting this season on Wednesday afternoon, Miss Mendenhall being the hostess. The club this year is taking up the study of civics and a program devoted to "Glimpses of the Last Half Century" in history and literature. "The Progress of the World in the Last Fifty Years" was the subject of a paper by Mrs. Thomas D. Brown, with a resume of the march of civilization. Miss Townsend read Kipling's Jubilee poem. Several five-minute talks were given: "Lord Beaconsfield," Mrs. Myler; "Gladstone," Miss Mitchell; "Bismarck," Mrs. Hurst. "Who Was the Greatest Statesman of This Period?" was the subject of a general discussion opened by Mrs. T. L. Kennedy.

Missionary Society Will Convene.

The annual convention of the Women's Home Missionary society of the New Castle Methodist church will be held at Edinburg next Wednesday and Thursday. Among the speakers will be the Rev. J. H. Black, Mrs. Cora Geiger, Miss Flora Lightner, Mrs. J. C. Norris, Mrs. J. E. Drake, Mrs. J. L. Stratton, Mrs. T. W. Donahoe, Mrs. J. A. Parsons and Miss Jennie McComb.

Creamy Bread

Tekla Bread shows its nutritive value in creaminess of color; in the satisfaction it gives when eaten alone; in ease of digestion. Tekla Bread is so good because all the grain is selected and blended to produce this rich creamy effect; the flour passes a rigid inspection for a definite quality; the mixing is done in machines that do the work like hand labor, but do it all so that nothing impure can get in.

THE SUNDAY GAZETTE

Capt. Jones was made superintendent of the Edgar Thomson mill when it was first opened. The following is an extract from a confidential letter written by him to E. V. McCandless at the time, which contains some interesting views with regard to labor:

An Effective and Tractable Force

"We must steer clear as far as we can of Englishmen who are great sticklers for high wages, small production and strikes. My experience has shown that Germans, and Irish, Swedes and what I denominate "Buckwheats"—young American country boys, judiciously mixed, make the most effective and tractable force you can find. Scotsmen do very well, are honest and faithful. Welsh can be used in limited numbers. But mark me, Englishmen have been the worst class of men I have had anything to do with."

The chapters that will appear in the Gazette next Sunday are filled with picturesque episode and gigantic achievement.

The Three Rivers

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—River, 5 feet and falling. If the water continues to fall here at the present rate it will result in the entire suspension of navigation, except for the very lightest craft.

STEUBENVILLE.—River, 1 foot 10 inches and falling.

LOUISVILLE.—River, stationary, 3 feet 6 inches in canal, 1 foot 4 inches on falls, and 5 feet below locks.

PT. PLEASANT.—River, 1 foot 6 inches and stationary.

GREENSBORO.—River, 6 feet and stationary. Woodward down Saturday and Columbia up.

OIL CITY.—River, 11 inches and rising.

WARREN.—River, 9-10ths foot.

MORGANTOWN.—River, 7 feet and stationary. Rain.

GALLIPOLIS.—River, 3 feet and about stationary.

Notes of the Rivers.

Edward Swaney succeeds Capt. Charles Hays, resigned, and Thomas Walker takes the place of Chief-Engineer Joseph Cooper, also resigned.

Engineer George Bowers is back from a vacation at Mt. Clemens, Mich. He has charge of the George W. Thomas, owned by the Peoples Coal Company.

The H. K. Bedford has gone from Wheeling to Parkersburg, and the Nellie England has departed for the ways from Point Pleasant. These are about the only boats running there.

The mines of the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company will be closed down in a few days unless the river rises. Nearly all the boats and barges of the company were sent south during the last rise, and before they could be returned the river dropped too low for navigation. Strings of barges and boats are tied up a few miles below the city, and the miners have filled every available car and boat in the up-river pools.

Walker Soap Company Dissolved.

A certificate of dissolution was filed at Dover, Del., yesterday with Secretary of State Layton for the Walker Soap Company of Allegheny. The company was incorporated June 19, 1900.

THE RALLY IN STOCKS WAS WELL MAINTAINED

The Steel and the Eries Were the Leaders in the Advance—London a Buyer—Call Money Firmer. Local Market Was Strong.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

Prices should have declined yesterday if the market had adhered to its recent irregular course but much to the surprise of the street, the rally of the previous day was well maintained, and the recovery made further progress. The news of the day was not entirely favorable. It included the announcement, just before the opening, of the embarrassment of two firms, one in Baltimore and the other in Richmond, which had been supposed to be interested in some southern promotions, particularly the Seaboard Air Line. The securities of the latter on Thursday had been weak, and they further declined rather sharply, but the rest of the market was not affected. The announcement furnished some explanation for the recent weakness in Louisville & Nashville and Southern Railway stocks. There was some disposition to construe as unfavorable the reports of some of the railroads which came to hand. For instance, the Pennsylvania lines east of Pittsburgh reported an increase of $934,000 in gross earnings for August, but an increase of only $119,000 in net. For the eight months of the calendar year the gross earnings increased $5,893,000, while the net increased only $90,500. For a company which has recently added 33 per cent to its outstanding capital on which dividends must be earned, an increase of such an insignificant amount in net earnings when the increase in gross was so large was bound to provoke comment. The Union Pacific report for August, showing an increase of $279,000 in gross, but a decrease of $148,000 in net, was also received with unfavorable comment. The net increase on the Rock Island system for the month of August was only $13,000, while for two months there was a decrease in net.

The market opened fairly active and firm, but after the first few minutes there was some selling of Pennsylvania, Union Pacific and Rock Island, which caused declines ranging from ½ to ⅝ per cent. The strength of the Steel issues, however, soon turned the tide, and a little later the Erie issues became notably strong on heavy buying. United States Steel common advanced from 16⅝ to 18, the final sale, and the preferred advanced from 62½ to 63¾, closing at 63⅜ bid, a net advance of 1¼ per cent. The sinking fund bonds opened strong at 71½, sold off to 70, but later recovered all the loss and ruled firm. The transactions in the Erie were on a large scale and all issues advanced an average of more than 2 per cent. The movement was thought to represent purchases for the new interest that has entered the board, although there was a revival of the old story that control of Erie was being purchased in the interest of Northern Securities, with the object of furnishing the latter with an eastern outlet. Another movement which encouraged the bulls was a 10 point advance in Standard Oil stock on the curb, which closed at 625 bid. The strength of the general list was sufficient to bring up the early laggards, and Pennsylvania recovered to 119⅝, Baltimore & Ohio to 76, Union Pacific to 72⅛, Missouri Pacific to 96⅝, New York Central to 117⅝, and St. Paul to 141.

A rather sharp advance in the rate for call loans to 4½, the highest for more than a month, checked the rising tendency in the stock market, but the close was a substantial gain for the day. The sales were 764,000 shares. It is a disputed point as to whether the bulk of the buying yesterday was for the account of investors who believe that prices are close to bottom or whether it was for account of shorts. The latter interest is now believed to be the largest for years, and predictions were freely made after the close of the market yesterday that if the present rising movement can be maintained over Monday there will be a panic among the shorts. On Tuesday action will be taken upon the dividend on United States Steel common stock, and that action may be the pivot on which the whole market will turn.

There is some expectation that today's bank statement will make a favorable showing. It is estimated that the money movement has resulted in a net gain of not less than $2,000,000 cash for the banks during the week. It is possible that the new capitalization of the Bank of Commerce will result in an increase of total loans, increasing deposits and reserve requirements, but a gain in actual cash is looked for, and a little later on imports of gold are probable. The foreign financial situation seemed to be better, and quite unexpectedly London was a large buyer of American stocks.

There was a further falling off in the volume of business on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesteray, but a distinct improvement in the tone of the market. The most active dealings were in Crucible steel, and the preferred was the strongest of the industrials, advancing to and closing at 89¾, a net gain of 2¼ per cent. The common stock advanced to and closed at 77¾. United States Steel was less active but quite firm, advancing to 17¾ for the common and to 63¾ for the preferred, and both issues closed at the top. There was a very fair rally in Pittsburgh Coal, the common reaching 26 and the preferred 75¾. It was quite noticeable that the recovery in these three specialties was accompanied by decreasing offerings, indicating that liquidation was over and that the purchases on the recent decline were more for investment than support. If the buying had been for the mere purpose of supporting stocks the latter would probably have come out on any little advance. This at least has been the history of dealings in the eastern market for three months past. Manufacturers Light and Heat was moderately active and rallied to 30⅜, reacted to 30 and closed at 30¼. Philadelphia Company was unchanged at 37¾. National Fire Proofing common and preferred were dull but firmer. Harbison-Walker common sold at 5, an advance of a dollar a share, while the preferred was nominally unchanged at 46 bid. The regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent was declared on the latter stock during the day. Westinghouse Electric scored an advance of 1¼ points, advancing to 71½, while Air Brake remained firm and unchanged at 135.

Equitable Trust sold at 172½, a decline of 1½, but the remainder of this group was steady to firm. Industrial National Bank sold at 135, an advance of 5 per cent, and Allegheny Trust was 3 per cent higher at 148. Iron City Trust sold unchanged at 125. Just before the close of the market Union National Bank stock was bid up to $1,025 a share and was offered at $1,050.

FEATURES OF THE DAY

IN PITTSBURGH.

Bank exchanges were $8,642,072, an increase of $354,000.

Stock market dull but firmer. Sales 5,375 shares stock and $8,000 bonds.

Crucible Steel common advanced to 77¾ and the preferred to 89¾.

Pittsburgh Coal common advanced to 26 and the preferred to 75¾.

National Fire Proofing and the gas stocks closed firmer.

IN WALL STREET.

Total sales $5,465,000 par value bonds, comprising mostly United States Steel 5s.

Erie was the day's leader; 104,659 shares common being dealt in.

Union Pacific, however, which showed a decrease in earnings, was well supported.

Total sales 769,500 shares stock.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

The rally in the local industrial preferred stocks, particularly Crucible and Pittsburgh Coal, had a good effect out of proportion to the actual advance. The offerings on the advance were not large, and the inference was justified that the recent buying was not for support of the market, but for investment. For three weeks past there has been comparatively little margin trading in the local market, brokers refusing new accounts of that character, while at the same time carrying purchases for those who were able to pay outright or negotiate their own loans.

The directors of the Harbison-Walker Company yesterday declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent payable October 20. At current quotations the stock pays 12 per cent on the investment.

Browning common and preferred held steady at 27 bid for the former and 42 for the latter. This stock has held its own better than any other in the market. It is now pretty well distributed in the hands of investors.

Just before the close of the market Miller bid up Dalton National Bank to $1,025. A small lot of the stock was offered at $1,050.

Pennsylvania Water 5s sold at 104. Fayette County Gas was quoted at 67 bid.

Clearances on the Pittsburgh stock exchange for September amounted to 408,700 shares, against 368,902 shares in August and 402,102 shares in September last year.

The October dividends disbursed by 36 banks and trust companies of Pittsburgh and Allegheny foot up $680,558.

L. S. Shields has been elected a member of the Pittsburgh stock exchange.

The course of United States Steel preferred stock and the sinking fund bonds during much of the day looked like an attempt on the part of the syndicate to put out many of the latter, while they were apparently buying in the preferred stock for the purpose of continuing their conversion into bonds and collecting a commission of $4 on every share so converted. With the stock around 63 and the bonds at 71 there would be an apparent profit of $8 a share in making the exchange, in addition to $4 commission, if the interchange could be made at once, but the changes must be made for interest and dividends.

The Equitable Trust Company has elected the following new directors: Attorney D. W. Kuhn, Charles A. Jamison, of the Arbuckle Company, George I. Whitney of Whitney & Stephenson, Charles E. Dickson, F. L. Eldredge, first vice president of the Knickerbocker Trust Company, New York; Darius Horne of Joseph Horne Company, and Julian Kennedy.

Papers filed for new concerns with a capital of $1,000 or over in the eastern states during September represented a total capitalization of $70,250,000, which compares with $77,600,000 in August. During September, 1902, when the total was $48,800,000, the figures given above are the smallest monthly record for years. New Jersey headed the list of eastern states, with a capitalization of $26,250,000, while Maine, which occupied first place in the previous table, came next with $20,000,000. Following are the comparative figures for September and for nine months ended September 30:

| Total nine m'ths .$1,448,801,000 | | $2,161,138,850 | $2,556,905,000 |

The total sales of bonds on the New York board yesterday were $5,465,000, made up largely of United States Steel new 5s. A rumor was current that the market management of the syndicate had been intrusted to Robert Keene, who conducted the original flotation of the United States Steel stock. While this rumor was without confirmation it had its effect upon the speculative sentiment.

The prospect of a strong bank return helped the late market, indications pointing to a gain in cash by the banks of from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000. The regular interior movement took from New York about $2,500,000 on balances, but the redemption of government bonds and the payments on account of new gold, including Australian, gold received at San Francisco, more than offset this loss. It is evident that the principal movement of currency is still to the cotton region and exchange at western points fails to show prospect of an early demand from that quarter. This causes the indulgence of a hope that the deposit of government funds at western points may lighten the demand for currency from that quarter.

SITUATION ANALYZED.

Rogers, Brown & Co. Say New Forces Are at Work in Iron and Steel Market.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—In their weekly market review of pig iron conditions Rogers, Brown & Co. say:

For the first time in its history the iron trade finds itself intimately connected with Wall street. A new set of forces are at work. With tens of thousands of timid stockholders of iron and steel companies scattered over the country, each bear raid adds to the nervousness and alarm and stocks are thrown over because the dealers report heavy declines, not because of any imminent or even prospective trouble with the business. This, coupled with some other well known factors of the situation, has forced prices of securities to values that can only be described as absurd. On the other hand, legitimate trade interests suffer because stocks sell so low. People who otherwise would go ahead with the undertakings which create consumptive demand, think something sinister must be the matter because iron and steel stocks are quoted so low. The new speculative element in the business, therefore, is doubly injurious."

THOMAS STREET RESIDENCE SOLD

Local Banker Secures a Fine Home in the Twenty-First Ward for $30,000.

THREE HOUSES BRING $54,000

Two Good Sales in Wylie Avenue. Plumbers' Strike Menaces Building Projects—Model Y. M. C. A. Grounds at Sewickley.

A deal of more than ordinary importance as indicating the trend of the buying movement in real estate was the sale of the residence of Mrs. Diana Gillespie in the Twenty-first ward, which was made yesterday through the agency of Samuel W. Black & Co. The house was one of the first built in the Boulevard Place allotment and is a handsome center hall residence of 15 rooms. It stands on a lot facing 179 feet in the north side of Thomas street, between Fifth and Linden avenues, and having a depth of 182 feet. The property was bought for $30,000 by a prominent city banker, who will occupy it shortly as a home. This property, which is one of the finest residence holdings in this neighborhood, is the first residence lot that has been sold there for months, and the sale at this time, together with the inquiries that are being received by brokers for first-class residence properties in this district indicates that property nearby will be greatly enhanced in value by the removal of the stock yards. The presence of the yards has been for years the chief drawback to selling good residence properties within three or four squares of them, and the project of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to use the stock yards property for yards is likely to meet with much more favor among the residents of that part of the city.

Trust Company Sells Houses.

Three more of the Palmer houses in the Twenty-second ward have been sold for $54,000, or $18,000 each. Title to the properties was conveyed from the Prudential Trust Co. to Robert Miller, who takes them for an investment. The houses are known as Nos. 5440, 5546 and 5452 Irwin avenue and occupy a plot 137x172 feet in the south side of the thoroughfare, near Aurelia street. They are stone residences of the reception hall type and contain 12 rooms each, with hardwood finish and all the modern improvements.

Through the agency of H. M. Berman of the Merchants' Savings & Trust Company the property at No. 708 Wylie avenue has been sold to Pietro Mancuso for $24,000. The lot is 20x91 feet and is improved with a three-story brick store building. The rate of sale was $1,200 a front foot.

The New York Realty Company, lately organized, has sold Jesse Bluestein to W. L. Sloan a product 24x104 feet in the corner of Wylie avenue and Logan street, extending back to Webster avenue, for $11,800. On the lot is a one-story brick building which will be torn down to give place to a modern four-story business block.

Plumbers' Strike Disgusts Builders.

The strike of the plumbers for 50 cents a day more tends to aggravate still more the uncertainty of the building situation and to make prospective builders more wary than ever of their plans. Were it not for the fact that both builders and contractors blame the succession of strikes almost entirely for the slump in building operations that has occurred in the last few months, this demand of the plumbers would not occasion so much remark. But the man who had plans drawn in the spring or early summer for a large building or several houses and has had to hold up the work from time to time by the strikes, is not disposed to look with anything but disgust upon any further outbreaks.

At present the largest contracting firms in the city admit that they have no work on hand and are simply waiting for something to turn up. Several large jobs have been figured on lately are still waiting the decision of the owners before the contract is awarded and may possibly be held up by threatened strikes.

While the season is rapidly approaching when plumbers are indispensable to a large number of people the effect of their strike has been to put a damper on the enthusiasm of men who had hoped to start building projects this fall. Both architects and contractors look for no improvement in the building situation until there is a stop to the long list of strikes which have been and are a constant menace to the success of any project for which capital may be secured.

Fine Grounds for Y. M. C. A.

The Young Men's Christian association of Sewickley is making ready the most unique quarters in the country. On its site of six acres at the corner of Blackburn avenue and Darlton street it has laid out two baseball diamonds and a few days ago started work on a model football gridiron. When completed the grounds will resemble the quarters of many rich country clubs instead of the cramped room that is usually provided for such associations in cities and large towns. The Y. M. C. A. building, which will cost over $50,000, is now up to the third story and will be completed by February 1.

Architect Charles Bickel will shortly receive bids on the addition of three stories to the Grosenheider building in Eighth street, which was bought last spring by A. E. Smith as a home for his woodenware business.

The deed was registered yesterday in the transfer from David P. Black to Henry W. Oliver of the A. P. Peacock lot, better known as the Stevenson-Foster lot, on the west side of Wood street, near Virgin alley. The lot is 42x50 feet and the consideration was $225,000. Mr. Black secured the property about a year ago. On the site Mr. Oliver will shortly erect a modern four-story building, two floors of which will be occupied by The Gazette and Chronicle Telegraph counting rooms.

FLOUR SITUATION IS NOT QUITE SO FIRM

Hay Receipts Large, With Prices Steady—California Pears Have Advanced.

The local flour market was a trifle easier yesterday, and a few jobbers lowered prices for spring patent 10 cents a barrel. Whether others will follow and the decline become general, those who have not reduced prices refused to state. Throughout the northwest, according to the Northwestern Miller, conditions of trade are improving, and mills have about all the orders they need. This is partly due to a shrinkage in output, owing to the strike among mill operatives, the total production for Minneapolis showing a reduction of 122,000 barrels for last week. Other grocery staples are unchanged.

Receipts of hay were fairly heavy yesterday, 51 cars arriving on all roads, but the market held steady and there was no weakening in prices. All the good hay which comes in finds buyers ready for it, and the situation is steady. Shelled corn is easy and dull, although receipts yesterday were not so large as the average recently, but the request is not so brisk as it was, owing to the fact that consumers have to some extent supplied their wants. Few cars of car corn came in offering, and these sellers held firm at a little above quoted figures. There was no change in millfeed, lower prices which went into effect on Thursday still prevailing.

In the fruit and produce market the only change that was made was an advance in California pears, which went forward to $3.00 a box, with supplies only moderate. Grapes are still scarce, and the high figures which have been ruling for several weeks are in force. Oranges, which scored an advance a few days ago, hold their own, at the higher range, showing no evidence of weakening. California grapes are steady at former prices.

Potatoes are unchanged, with supplies moderate. Sweets are selling freely, but receipts are plentiful and the situation is quite steady. Tomatoes were still in liberal supply yesterday, and no change occurred in prices, which were just about holding their own. Limes are in moderate supply. Fresh produce is commencing to diminish in quantity materially, and prices are likely to rule firmer from now on.

Cheese scored another advance yesterday, makers in New York and Ohio stiffening up in their demands, while the request in this market is so lively that there is little trouble experienced in putting figures up to a higher plane. Butter is steady, but there is not any special activity, supply and demand being fairly well balanced. Eggs are unchanged, but are easy at quotations. Supplies are commencing to come in from the south and, while shipments from that section are not so desirable as northern fresh eggs, still they are augmenting the total quantity of the offerings and keeping the market from advancing.

STEEL DIVIDENDS REASONABLY SAFE

Figures on Production for 12 Years Throw New Light on the Subject.

POSSIBILITIES DISCOUNTED

Prices of Product Are Large Factor in the Situation—Lowest Prices Have Not Been Coincident With Least Productions—Fluctuations Not Probable.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, Herald Building, Herald Square, NEW YORK, Oct. 2, 1903.

The United States Steel second 5's at 67¾, the recent low price, yielded 7.4 per cent; the preferred at 58¾ yielded almost 12 per cent, and the common at 14¾ yielded 29.6 per cent. As to the ability of the Steel Corporation to pay interest and dividends in bad years, some light may be had from a study of past production and prices. The following table shows the production of pig iron and crude steel since 1890:

| Years. | Pig Iron. Tons. | Crude Steel. Tons. |
|---|---|---|
| 1890 | 9,202,703 | 4,277,071 |
| 1891 | 8,279,870 | 3,904,240 |
| 1892 | 9,157,000 | 4,927,581 |
| 1893 | 7,124,502 | 4,018,905 |
| 1894 | 6,657,388 | 4,412,032 |
| 1895 | 9,446,308 | 6,114,834 |
| 1896 | 8,623,127 | 5,281,089 |
| 1897 | 9,652,680 | 7,156,957 |
| 1898 | 11,773,934 | 8,932,857 |
| 1899 | 13,620,703 | 10,639,857 |
| 1900 | 13,789,242 | 10,188,229 |
| 1901 | 15,878,354 | 13,473,595 |
| 1902 | 17,821,307 | *15,000,000 |

*Estimated.

The production of pig iron has doubled in the past 10 years, while the production of crude steel has tripled. From the high water mark of 1899, production of pig iron in 1894, the year of least production, fell off 27.6 per cent. In the next year, however, production was the largest on record, showing how quickly the steel business recovers from a depression. The production of crude steel fell off in 1893, 1894 per cent from the previous high level, but two years later all records were broken, and production increased by leaps and bounds.

In considering the future value of the preferred stock this factor should be reckoned. The dividends are cumulative, which should insure their payment in the long run. If in a bad year or two they are not earned, they are likely to be earned in the next year or two, when production again begins to jump ahead.

The Steel Corporation is a seller of finished products. Last year it produced 8,500,000 tons of various finished products at an average profit of a little over $16 a ton. Assuming that production will fall off in some bad year 25 per cent from the last year's level, representing conditions fully as bad as in the worst year of the last depression, the company would still produce 6,150,000 tons, which, if sold at last year's profits, would easily pay interest and dividends on all the securities.

The question of earning ability then comes on prices. The lowest prices did not come in the years of lowest production. For example, in 1894 steel rails averaged $24 a ton, compared with $28.12 in 1895 and $29 in 1892. The lowest price for steel rails was in 1898, when they averaged $17 62. In both raw materials and finished products, the lowest prices generally came after production had picked up. The influence of the Steel Corporation upon prices is yet to be demonstrated. It is very probable that the violent fluctuations of the past will not be repeated.

ENDEAVOR TO REFUTE WATSON'S ARGUMENT

English Solicitor General Says Commissioners Cannot Define Boundary.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Sir Edward Carson, the solicitor general, consumed the morning session of the Alaskan boundary commission today in endeavoring to refute the arguments of David T. Watson of Pittsburgh, and Hannis Taylor of counsel for the United States, especially protesting against Mr. Taylor's contention that the term "Trend of the coast" could only apply to the political coast line and not to the physical coast line.

He also maintained that the principle of acquiescence was not applicable to the present dispute and somewhat surprised the audience by declaring that under the powers of the treaty of 1902 the commissioners had no authority to define questions submitted to them, and that they could neither lay down the boundary nor decide what constituted the coast. All the commissioners could do was to answer questions submitted to them in the treaty either negatively or affirmatively. If they give certain answers they might make matters more confused than ever and open up a new series of diplomatic tangles.

STANDARD OIL INTEREST FAVORS CONSERVATISM

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—A Wall street banker says: "If the Steel Corporation continues to give the public full information concerning its condition and prospects the public will in time absorb the entire $250,000,000 5 per cent bonds. The only activity in the bond market is in United States bonds and United States Steel 5s. The Standard Oil people are desirous of making the Steel Corporation one of the greatest investment properties in the world, although they may be opposed to the payment of dividends on the common stock, for their main desire is to have $100,000,000 cash in the Steel Corporation treasury."

Banks and Treasury.

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(Special.)—Total payment by government to New York banks for the day $3,709,000. Payment by banks to government $3,706,000. Balance on the day's transactions $33,000 paid by government to banks.

ALL WANT NATURAL GAS.

Scores of coal-burning householders are applying every day to the Philadelphia Company for natural gas. The company's offer to make free service line connections and set meter free of charge will be withdrawn Oct. 15. Everybody knows gas is the ideal fuel. No dust, ashes, smoke or labor, and it's cheaper than coal. Ask at 435 Sixth avenue, or any Philadelphia Company office.

CAPT. J. A. WOOD TALKED OF FOR A CHURCH HONOR

Well-Known Retired Coal Operator Regarded as a Possibility for Lay Delegate to General Conference at Los Angeles.

Capt. John A. Wood of Elliott borough, whose portrait is herewith presented, now retired, is famous as one of Pittsburgh's pioneer coal men. Although in his 72d year, he is not wanting in that energy and activity that helped to make Pittsburgh famous as a great coal center. The formation of the greatest coal corporations enabled Capt. Wood to retire from active business, although he is still connected with the great coal interests as a director of the river coal interests.

Capt. John A. Wood.

Capt. Wood is an unassuming man, possessed of the most generous impulses, whose benefactions, bestowed in a broad-minded spirit and unostentatious manner, have won for him the warmest commendations of people of every name and condition of society. While Capt. Wood is an ardent Methodist, his benefactions have not been confined to this denomination. Naturally the church of his choice and especially the West End Methodist Episcopal church, has been the nearest to his heart. For nearly half a century he and his noble wife, now deceased, with their family, have worshiped in it, and the beautiful building now standing on the old site and the fact that the congregation is practically free from debt is due more to his untiring efforts and boundless generosity than to any other one man connected with it.

In consideration of these things Capt. Wood's many friends in the church throughout the city are urging his claims to recognition by the lay conference to be held next week at the church for election as a delegate to the general conference, to be held in Los Angeles, Cal., in May next. The Pittsburgh conference will send five representatives to the general conference, and if Capt. Wood should be one of these the church could have no stronger defender of its landmarks nor the people a more conscientious representative of their interests than he.

Two of Capt. Wood's daughters became wives of Methodist preachers, and his youngest son, Homer, spent more than six years as a teacher and principal in the Methodist Episcopal mission schools in Malaysia. It has been reported that Capt. Wood gave $6,000 to Bishop Thoburn to pay the debt on one of the large schools in the Malay peninsula.

SHAFFER REPRIMANDED.

Board of Inquiry Mildly Censured Him for Neglect of Duty.

Theodore J. Shaffer, although still president of the Amalgamated association, was reprimanded by the board of inquiry for neglect of duty. President Shaffer has another year to serve, his present term commencing Saturday.

James H. Nutt, secretary of the labor bureau of the Republic Iron & Steel Company, visited the association's headquarters yesterday to arrange a conference on the wage scale for plate mills at the plants in the south. It will be held in Birmingham, Ala.

Vice President William Gibson was sent to Canton, O., yesterday to take charge of the strike at the Stark rolling mill. This company on last Monday put the plant into operation as an open mill.

BENEFICIAL TRUST HAS MEANS TO START AT ONCE

Federal National Bank and Central Savings & Trust Company Offer Temporary Facilities.

Arrangements by which the new Beneficial Trust Company can go ahead with its work at once were effected at a meeting of officers of the Beneficial and Central Savings and Trust companies and the Federal National bank yesterday.

The Beneficial has not yet been able to obtain a satisfactory site in the downtown portion of the city to transact its business. The interests identified with the Federal National bank are in several cases the same as those in the Beneficial and the Central Savings and Trust, which has an office at Penn avenue and Twenty-sixth street, is somewhat similarly allied. For that reason it is agreed that the two institutions act as depositories for the new one for the time being.

This is the only basis on which the story was published yesterday regarding the absorption of the Central Savings and Trust by the Public Trust Company. H. A. Lappe, president of the Central, said last night that the report concerning the Public Trust was entirely without truth.

Did Not Keep His Son at School.

Charles Abbott, of No. 118 McClure avenue, Allegheny, was fined $2 and costs yesterday by Alderman William Lang, on a charge of violating the compulsory education law. It is said Abbott failed to keep his son Frank at school. The information was made by Truant Officer William Veasey.

FREE ART WORK. PORTFOLIO OF MILLINERY MASTERPIECES

Exquisite as a work of art-printing, and a delightful study in correct headwear is our Millinery Portfolio, just issued. It contains ten separate plates, showing a double quintet of our most charming autumn hats, photographed especially for us in New York and Pittsburgh on living models.

The young women who graciously consented to pose at Tonnele's in New York and at Rosser's in Pittsburgh for the pictures from which these plates were made are:

—A New York literary woman.
—One of the Rodgers Brothers Company.
—A noted Brooklyn beauty.
—Two young women well known in Pittsburgh East End society.
—An Ohio girl who was sojourning in town.
—A young society matron of Monongahela City.
—Three Pittsburgh women who are engaged in millinery pursuits.

Superbly engraved on separate plates, these charming photographs can be used most successfully for decorative purposes after they have conveyed their millinery lesson.

Ready for free distribution on Monday.

THE NEW KID GLOVES.

THOUSANDS OF WOMEN who have gone with bare hands or have worn fabric gloves throughout the summer will buy new kid gloves today to wear to church tomorrow. Perhaps you're one of the thousands. Then you'll want to know what we have that's new.

DOLLAR GLOVES—If some one will tell us of a better dollar kid than the "Zarina," we will be glad to carry them, but hundreds of customers tell us they are the best glove that came across the ocean to sell at a popular price. The new "Zarinas" were unpacked only a week ago and represent the acme of glove goodness of their grade. All the staple colors. All the new fall shades.

$1.50 GLOVES—The Dufour Kids are all that a French glove should be to sell for a dollar and a half. Time-tried and found reliable and satisfactory, we make them our leaders for another season, with the stamp of our guarantee on every pair. Beavers, browns, slates, black and whites are the prevailing shades in the new importations.

"MATADORE" KIDS—Women who want the most exquisite gloves of all, with a touch of something that tells of the most careful scrutiny of the minutest detail, will find our line of "Matadore" kids with two large pearl clasps, quite satisfactory at $2 a pair.
